Tracker Coastal Surveillance

A Maritime Command Tracker aircraft from VS-880 Squadron based at Shearwater, N.S., overflys a Russian vessel during a routine patrol off the Nova Scotia coast. Tracker aircraft, which formerly operated from the flight deck of the aircraft carrier Bonaventure, now carry out regular patrols off Canada's Atlantic and Pacific coasts, keeping a close watch on all shipping, including the large, foreign fishing fleet off the Grand Banks. An important task of these flights is to spot ships which illegally dump oil. During patrols along the Atlantic coast, the aircraft are in constant touch with Maritime Command Headquarters in Halifax.

Skate-a-thon is postponed

The skate-a-thon planned for the Tofield Arena had to be postponed because of the blizzard that swept through Alberta on Tuesday.

Plans for the re-scheduling of the skate-a-thon have not been finalized but, arena officials felt that it would probably be held next week with sessions each afternoon after school.

Money raised by the skate-a-thon will be used to purchase needed equipment for the arena. More information about when the skate-a-thon will be held may be obtained by telephoning the Tofield School.

Mazankowski sees need to revamp whole transport policy

Don Mazankowski, newly appointed Chairman of the Progressive Conservative Caucus Committee for Transportation, said shortly after his appointment that there is a need to completely review the whole transportation policy in this country. Mr. Mazankowski is the Member of Parliament for Vegreville constituency.

"Such a review must be done in complete co-operation with the provinces and must be consistent with Progressive Conservative Party policies spelled out in the recent federal election", he said.

"There must be greater flexibility between economic growth and transportation policy. Also there must be greater attention paid to regional transport needs so that one part of the country does not suffer at the expense of the other".

Mr. Mazankowski continued: "This includes the problems such as movement of grain, and urban transportation".

Mr. Mazankowski was first elected to the House of Commons in 1968. He is married, has three children, and is a resident of Vegreville.

Midget teams play Saturday

Hockey fans in the Tofield area will have a chance to see two of the most exciting hockey teams in the province in action on Saturday night.

Edmonton Don Wheaton and the Camrose Legionaires will meet in an exhibition game in the Tofield Arena on Saturday evening beginning at eight o'clock. Both are midget teams.

Don Wheaton is the top midget hockey team in Edmonton while the Camrose team is defending midget 'A' provincial champions. Both teams have met often in recent years, usually in Camrose, and all games have been close and have provided fans with plenty of exciting action.

Because of ice problems in the past, hockey in Tofield does not compare with the top centres in the province, and as a result, the Tofield Agricultural Society is planning to have a number of exhibition contests played throughout the winter involving these centres so that Tofield fans can see what is happening in other centres and local hockey players will have some idea of what their objectives should be.

This being the Christmas meeting, it was opened by all joining in singing a Christmas carol, followed by a prayer from Mrs. Beth Campbell and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. The roll call was taken, all ladies replying with a scripture or verse appropriate to the Christmas season. The minutes of the November meeting held at the home of Mrs. G. H. Taylor, were read. A letter from Mrs. Dorothy Bateman, now residing at New Norway with Rev. Bateman and family, telling of the year's activities of the Bateman family during 1972, was read to the group. It was planned that the ladies would meet Monday, Jan. 8, at the home of Mrs. Beth Campbell to trim and pack used postage stamps collected during the past few months to be sent to the Bible Society for their use. Also used Christmas and greeting cards are to be brought in, which are used in missionary work. Christmas carols were sung and the meeting closed with the Benediction. A very nice collection was realized, to be sent to the Bible Society in Edmonton towards their missionary work in distributing Bibles. A delicious lunch of various Christmas goodies and a social hour was then enjoyed. The next meeting Thursday, Jan. 18th, will be held at the home of Mrs. Carrie Olson.

IN MEMORIAM

JACOBS—In loving memory of our dear sister-in-law and aunt, Ingrid Jacobs, who passed away January 1st, 1972:

To have, to love and then to part,
Is the greatest sorrow of our hearts.
As time goes by the memories stay
As near and dear as yesterday.
Unseen, unheard, you're always near
So loved, so missed and always dear.
But God will mend that broken chain
When one day we will meet again.

—Ever remembered and sadly missed by Phyllis Sorell and children.

PROCTER—In memory of our brother and uncle, Joe, who passed away December 27th, 1970:

Quietly remembered every day,
Sadly missed along life's way;
Just as you were, you will always be Treasured in our memory.

—Loved and remembered, John, Kay, Christine and Bonnie. 19c-7210

MURDOCH — In loving memory of our beloved mother, Catherine Murdoch, who passed away December 27th, 1944:

Also our beloved brother, Steele Murdoch, who passed away January 2nd, 1969:

This month comes with great regret
It brings back days we can't forget,
They passed away without goodbye,
But memories of them will never die.

—Sadly missed by Maggie, Sarah and Jean. 19c-7207

Skate-a-thon raises $2,700 for heaters

by Grace Phillips

The Skate-a-thon held in the Tofield Arena on January 7th was a huge success.

Directed by Leo Rurka of the Tofield School staff with the help of his Phys. Ed. 20 class, the skate-a-thon involved 175 students and has netted, to date, $2,688.23. Of this total, students in the primary grades contributed $627.85; elementary grades, $389.78; junior high, $497.10; high school, $473.50.

Since there are approximately 70 students to do their skating on Friday, the total will be increased. Then, too, the money donated by the teachers and which exceeds the amount needed for prizes will be added to the proceeds.

The prizes in each section will be awarded when all the pledged money has been turned in to Mr. Rurka who requests that students collect the money due them, turn it in to him, and collect their receipts.

Mr. Rurka is understandably pleased with the results of the skate-a-thon and is appreciative of the help received from the Phys. Ed. 20 class and to Bob Lyalo, Jack Lamplit, Doug Coffin and Howard Meger, the teachers who helped supervise the skate-a-thon.

The amount raised by the students will come very close to reaching the entire amount necessary for installing the heaters in the Tofield Arena.

Twenty-four members of the Tofield Community League and their guests enjoyed a pot-luck supper on January 9th in the Tofield Community Centre.

Following the supper, president Bill Davison welcomed Dr. Walter Buck, MLA, for Strathcona, Mrs. Buck and their children. The president of the Tofield Agricultural Society, Andy Heiberg, was also welcomed.

Treasurer Hans Christensen gave the treasurer's report for 1972 showing a balance of $1424.57. Mr. Christensen mentioned some of the items which increased revenues in December. The Community Christmas Card netted $157; the New Year Dance, $688.75; the turkey bingo, $213.49.

Jack Whyte, chairman of the finance committee gave the financial statement for that committee:

A letter from the Tofield Agricultural Society requested that, in view of their unprofitable venture in bringing the Columbia Girls' Choir to Tofield, the league give some assistance. By unanimous vote, a grant of $40.00 was given to the Agricultural Society to partially recompense them for their loss.

At this point, Andy Heiberg president of the Tofield Agricultural Society, thanked the League for its assistance during the year, for its $1,000 donation and for the interest of its members. He also thanked the League for handling all donations to the Agricultural Society. This work has been done by Hans and Winnie Christensen on behalf of the League.

Mr. Heiberg, who, at last year's annual meeting, spoke to the League about the building of the Arena, now reported on its completition and successful operation.

The total cost has been $211,000. Rentals and ticket sales have exceeded expectations. A second canvass for funds will be conducted in the community this year. Thanks to the successful skate-a-thon held on January 7th, the heaters will be installed.

President Davison reviewed some of the activities during the year, some of which were: banquet for Tofield Titans basketball team who

Horner announces farmer's ombudsman

The farmers of Alberta will have their own ombudsman to deal with rural and agricultural problems. The Hon. Dr. Hugh Horner, in making the announcement last night during a speech to the Unifarm annual convention, said the office would be set up under the Department of Agriculture and named Helmut Entrup, presently Director of Member Services for Unifarm, "farmers' advocate".

Dr. Horner said that although one of the most contentious rights, the "farmers advocate" will deal with problems in any area. He suggested that farmers will now have an individual to whom they can go, either for the solution to their problem, or referral to the proper department to deal with it.

"I felt very strongly that we shouldn't have 7a lawyer for this position," said Dr. Horner, in announcing Mr. Entrup's appointment. "What we needed, and I believe we have is someone who is familiar with the sort of difficulties which are peculiar to the agricultural industry and is used to dealing with them."

Mr. Entrup, 44, has been Unifarm's Director of Member Services for the last four

(By Peter Ward)

OTTAWA—Prime Minister Trudeau told us the Oct. 30 election taught the government some lessons. One of the lessons which apparently failed to get sufficient attention in government cloisters caused a few ministerial bloody noses as the year came to a close.

I'm speaking specifically of the fact that the Trudeau government will still not admit it when a mistake has been made. Take the issue of bilingualism in the public service. Several times in the days after the election, Mr. Trudeau assured the nation there would be no roll-back of the bilingualism program.

Then in mid-December, President of the Treasury Board C. M. Drury held a press conference to "re-affirm" the public service bilingual policy and the goal of a functionally bilingual Civil Service in bilingual districts by 1978.

But hadn't the government aimed at 1975 in the past, we asked Mr. Drury? No, he told us, this was the first time a target date had really been set.

Well, a small search of the records uncovered two separate statements by Mr. Drury setting 1975 as the bilingual target date. The same search disclosed that the government's tone had been quite truculent before the election; softened considerably after the election. The change and change there has definitely been—might have had something to do with the fact that the Liberals suffered at the polls in public service ridings.

Then also in December, there was the case of the letters to the Queen, asking for increases in the powers of the Governor General. Prime Minister Trudeau denied that such moves had been made. Southam's columnist Charles Lynch, the press gallery's number one Royalist, reprinted the text of a cabinet document dated Nov. 7, 1972, outlining what the government had been seeking from the Queen. That document made the denials look pretty silly.

One can go on and list more demonstrations of fiddling with the truth—misleading the nation. I think is the accepted term in the Parliamentary context.

These examples of failing to own up to mistakes, and blatant attempts to bend the facts make one wonder how many times the same act has been performed in the past—and they make one determined to watch extremely closely in the future.

It's difficult to argue with a man who says: "Look, I fouled up. Sorry. It won't happen again." When involved explanations for self-created disasters are offered, credibility does a nose-dive.

Safe...for a while

Initial reports on the ballot taken by postal workers across the country seem to indicate little likelihood of a strike developing in the near future, although certainly there were areas strongly opposed to accepting the recommended $1300 a year increase. (Actually, the recommendation was for 65 cents per hour, which works out to over $1300 per year for a forty hour week.)

On the face of it, most Canadians will be more or less pleased to avert the difficulties imposed by a strike, but they are also reasonable enough to recognize that had a strike taken place there is no kind of job security that could guarantee enough work for all the workers to have had their jobs back.

On every occasion in recent years when the Post Office worker seriously interrupted the more or less smooth flow of the mails, large volumes of deliveries have been switched to other methods. Sometimes the other methods have been cheaper, sometimes more efficient or faster, but in any event, the loss has been permanent. And an organization can only experience big losses a few times before it begins to hurt.

Carrying the mail can be demanding work, oftentimes in difficult and trying circumstances, but its rarely so onerous that there aren't more than enough applicants lined up who would be glad to have the chance to take over. A strike under these circumstances would have been ill received.

The beacon dims

The bright light which the NDP promised to shine on events in Ottawa seems to have dimmed down to little more than a glimmer, as the NDP caucus voted unanimously to support the Trudeau government, even before it had seen any of the legislation the Liberals intend to introduce.

Many voters across the country have become disillusioned with the old-time parties and maintain the only difference is between the "ins" and the "outs". So they looked to the NDP to provide the sparks that might set the stage for a bright session, and keep both the Liberals and the Tories on their toes, because the support of the NDP was vital to either.

Unfortunately, Mr. Lewis and his members seem to have blown their chance, already, and have telegraphed their punch. Disillusioned voters now see them as just another group of members striving to hold onto office, and, realizing they have no hope of becoming an important national party under Mr. Lewis, must transfer their support back to either the Liberals or the Conservatives to have any meaningful result.

Mr. Trudeau referred to this session as matching the Battle of Austerlitz, and in his first combat he seems to have destroyed the NDP.

Two can play

Many Canadians are concerned at the action of Washington imposing import duties on Michelin tires being shipped to the States because they're made in a Canadian plant which was helped with subsidies from the Canadian government.

But this is a dangerous game for any government to start, since it's always the kind of game that two can play at. And once the game is joined, the players keep inventing new rules, since none are laid down.

It's only a few months ago, for instance, that Washington invented the DISC program, offering incentives to manufacturing firms creating new jobs. Many were created from the jobs that were eliminated on the Canadian side of the border as subsidiary plants were shut down. Should the Canadian government impose duties on the products of these firms?

We may be highly dependent on the American supply base for our economy, but it's not the only base, and Canadians may have to look elsewhere if this sort of thing keeps up. It's a dirty game, and a mean game, and though we didn't start it, we may have little choice but to play it.

Attendance is problem at the Tofield School

This article is another in the series relating to school events, problems and policies written at the request of the administrative staff of the Tofield School.

Attendance of High School students in the Tofield School is causing the school administration and teaching staff considerable concern.

Since attendance at school at the High School level is the responsibility of the student, parents may be unaware of the situation relating to excessive absences; in order to correct it, the administrative staff feels that the facts should be made public.

Attendance for every class in every period is taken every day by the teachers, so there is no doubt that all too frequently, classes are being skipped. Often, the student reports for the first class or two and then absents himself for the remainder of the morning and/or afternoon, returning in time to catch the school bus, if he is a bus student, or to walk home with students who have attended regularly scheduled classes. There are times on record where the student has come in on the bus, and never reported to even the first class.

The number of classes so missed in the Tofield School far exceeds that of any other school in the County of Beaver.

The administrative and teaching staffs would like the parents to be aware that attendance at regularly scheduled classes is compulsory except, of course, when illness, medical appointments, dental appointments, family emergencies (serious illness or bereavement) be acts of nature (blizzards, washed roads) make attendance impossible.

K. R. Eastick, Principal of the Tofield School, has made it plain that erratic attendance affect the student's marks; if attendance does not come up to the required standards, credits in the student's courses may be, and are going to be, withheld.

The new semester begins January 23th, 1973; a better record of attendance would help students to improve marks and thus secure credits in their High School courses.

He added that the government's direct lending program involving som $5 - 8 million annually, should be reserved for "last chance" appeals. "We expect some losses," he said, "but it should also salvage a lot of people for agriculture in Alberta.

"The real challenge is that we have to develop the markets and distribute the goods," the Minister said. "Contracts should be made between the producer and the commodity groups. Government's role should be to provide the credit for these contracts."

"24 Hour Flu"—250,000 Canadians affected every year! You have probably heard of a whole family who has suffered from distressing attacks of nausea, vomiting and stomach pains — diagnosed as flu. Outbreaks of this illness are now recognized as food poisoning, caused by harmful bacteria. Food poisoning can even cause death so it is important to take certain precautions when dealing with food. And remember, food may look, smell, even taste alright yet be teaming with harmful bacteria from such sources as a dirty kitchen, handling food with dirty hands or infected cuts, or flies, insects and rats.

Before food can cause poisoning these things must happen:

1. Food must be exposed to right kind of bacteria.

2. Bacteria must have the change to multiply and produce poisons.

3. Dangerous bacteria only grow and produce toxin if food is a suitable kind and temperature is over 40 degrees F., for more than four hours.

A smart housewife protects her family from food poisoning in the following ways.

1. Buy from reputable dealers. Patronize only clean stores and buy only government inspected products, eg. meat.

2. After shopping, keep frozen foods in deep freeze until used. Do not buy thawed foods that are supposed to be frozen.

3. Heat precooked frozen foods according to package directions.

4. After preparing foods containing eggs, meat, milk, gravy, salads with dressing, serve them within two hours or refrigerate.

5. Refrigerate "leftovers" as soon as possible and keep refrigerated until used.

6. Do not prepare sandwiches or food more than four hours before use unless kept refrigerated.

7. Avoid preparing food if you have infected cuts or a bad cold.

8. If home canning, follow professional instructions carefully.

9. Do not eat foods that have an "off" flavor.

10. If you think you or your family is suffering from food poisoning, contact your local health agency or doctor immediately.

Remember, cooking foods gives no guarantee of safety! Cooking temperatures are often too low to kill some of the harmful bacteria. Poultry is an especially bad culprit when it comes to food poisoning. Therefore during and after the holiday season be careful that turkey is correctly prepared and leftovers are properly stored.

won the B class Alberta championship in 1972; cup donated to the 441 club; repairing hall roof at a cost of $895; a $50-award to Heather Appleby; donation of $1000 to Agricultural Society; purchase of the plaque presented to Dr. W. H. Freebury at the hospital's 25th anniversary celebration; the Christmas Carol Festival; several beings; operation of a theatre; participating with several other local organizations in July 1st celebration; operating the 100 club; participating in Santa Claus Day; sponsoring teen dances and New Year's dance.

Dr. Buck, who, with Mrs. Buck and their four "buckaroos", had to leave the meeting early, thanked the League for the opportunity of attending the supper meeting.

He congratulated the League on its record of public service over the years, saying that Tofield was more active in community affairs than most areas of even larger size. He hoped that the League would not be discouraged by low attendance but would continue to give active service to the Tofield community.

Pres., Bob Moss; 1st-pres., Bill Davison; sec., Jack Lampitt; treas., Hans Christensen; board of directors, Arnold Swift, Jack Whyte, Bert Everitt, Bill Christensen, Marvin Bruce, Petra Stauffer, Lu Eastlick, Neil Phillips, Andy Helberg, Joe Lauchnis; auditor is William Lopatnuck.

A vote of appreciation was given to the 1972 executive and to Bill Davison, completing his fifth term as president of the League.

Some discussion occurred as to whether the League should disband due to to low membership and poor attendance at meetings. However, after comments on the valuable work accomplished by the League by Joe Lauchnis, Bert Everitt, Carol Moss and Andy Helberg, no action for disbanding was taken. J. E. Bisson was appointed as chairman of the membership committee.

It was decided to operate the 100-club again this year and plans were made for a bingo to be held January 24th, with Bill Davison and Arnold Swift in charge.

It was announced that the latest winner of the 100-club was Raymond Herbert.

The retiring president thanked Petra Stauffer for organizing cleaning bees for the hall, Bert Everitt for securing an orchestra for the New Year's Dance, Grace Phillips for recording proceedings of the League and The Mercury.

The donation of the Conference Mennonite ladies of a refrigerator, several bowls and pitchers to the hall facilities was gratefully acknowledged.

PROVINCIAL LIBRARY EDMONTON ALTA DEC. 43

The Mercury

VOL. 56—No. 21—January 18th., 1973 $2.50 per Year, PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT TOFIELD, ALBERTA

Lougheed announces tax reductions

The provincial government yesterday announced a Forty-Six Million Dollar "Property Tax Reduction Plan" . . . a new direction for property tax reform in Alberta which has been designed to benefit every citizen in the province.

Applied to property taxes, the plan provides a minimum benefit of $24 for homes valued at roughly 5,500, ranging to a high of $141 for homes valued at $21,000 or more. This is in addition to the $75 homeowners grant already in effect; however, the grants will never do more than wipe out the total property tax, so there will be refunds if the grant is more than the actual tax.

An identical property tax reduction plan will also apply to Alberta farmers who own and occupy farms.

It is for the average homeowner or farmer will qualify for the $141 grant, which, added to the present $75, makes $216 in tax reduction.

Renters of residential property are also eligible for assistance up to $100 under the Property Tax Reduction Plan.

Senior citizens will continue to receive benefits under the existing Senior Citizens Shelter Assistance Act.

Increased royalties from the government's new oil and natural gas policies has made the Property Tax Reduction Plan possible. The Plan will require approximately $46 M extra each year in provincial government revenues.

Premier Peter Lougheed, in announcing the plan, said this dramatic move to reduce property tax is the most positive and extensive action the Provincial Government can take to offset inflation.

The Property Tax Reduction Plan has been designed to assure relief to every citizen in the Province by giving direct financial assistance to residential owners, mobile home-owners, owner-occupied farms and renters; and assistance to municipal governments, based on their financial needs.

There is also a new assistance program for Alberta municipalities under the Property Tax Reduction Plan. Premier Lougheed said the province will be paying out the highest amount of money ever in municipal assistance. The province will, in the future, pay all the cost of hospital and local health unit requisitions and 90% of all municipal social assistance costs. In addition to assuming the costs of these programs, there will be nearly $15 M in unconditional assistance grants to Alberta municipalities, plus nearly $20 M more in incentive grants.

Premier Lougheed said it is the view of the government that by the province accepting the prime responsibility for social services, local authorities will be able to devote more of their revenues to provide better service to property owners.

Tofield hosts hoop tourney

by Linda Eastlick

The annual County of Beaver boys' and girls' high school basketball tourney will be held in the Tofield gymnasium on Saturday, Jan. 27th.

Final league standings will not be known until after Tofield hosts Holden and Viking visits Ryley this Friday night. League standings presently show the Ryley and Tofield boys and the Tofield and Viking girls tied — each team has one league loss.

In preparation for this tourney, a February invitational tourney, and the Central Eastern girls' zone tourney, the Tofield Students' Union has purchased and installed an electric score-clock. This addition should add much to the fans' enjoyment.

Plans are now being made for the provision of balcony bleachers which will provide increased seating for the coming games.

Watch next week's paper for the tourney time and loser schedule.

Holden students sing for charity

A group of high school students decided to have fun at Christmas and help a worthy cause at the same time.

The students went caroling throughout the village and collected one hundred dollars which was donated to the Canadian Cancer Fund.

Heiberg again heads Agriculture Society

Andy Heiberg was elected to serve his second term of office as the president of the Tofield Agricultural Society when the society held its annual meeting in December.

Lawrence Kallai was named first vice - president while Homer Schmidt was elected as second vice-president. Marvin Bruce was named as secretary-treasurer while Harry Wilkie was appointed as auditor.

Named as directors were Ron Goeglein, John Moore, Robert Wyllie, Harold Schulz, Arne Klassen, Laurie Weatherill, Mrs. Alberta Watt, Mrs. Yvonne Brown, Mrs. Mavis McLeod, Stan Vollmer, Elden Boettger, Ed Regehr, Charles Sears, Dave Dykeman and Tom Kerlee of Ryley.

In naming Mr. Kerlee of Ryley to the Board of Directors, the Society was hoping to open a better line of communications with the Village of Ryley which will help meet the needs and desires of that community. Mr. Kerlee is a member of the Ryley Recreation Board and is active in the minor sports program in the village.

The capital cost statement showed revenue of $208,025, made up as follows: Department of Agriculture grant, $50,000; Local Initiatives Program grant, $50,661; County of Beaver Regional Recreation Board grant, $8,431; Donations and canvass, $25,943; loan from the Bank of Montreal, $70,000.

The total cost of construction is expected to be $207,300 with $173,980.26 paid out to date. A bill from the contractor for extra costs is being negotiated and other funds are being held back until certain deficiencies in the building are corrected.

Operating revenue to the end of November amounted to $8,125.94 while operating expenses for the same period totalled $4,883.47.

Members attending the meeting were told that public support and use of the arena had exceeded expectations to date and that many problems discovered when the arena first opened have now been ironed out and mistakes are no longer being made.

Mr. Hetberg expressed the Society's appreciation to all individuals and organizations who have contributed to making the arena project a success but, warned that more hard work lies ahead as the arena must be operated on a business-like basis in the future and the bank loan of $70,000 is still to be paid.

Wainwright will host the '73 Winter Games

This community of 3,800 people, located on Highway 14 about 120 miles southeast of Edmonton, is running in high gear as preparations near completion for the second annual North-Eastern Alberta Winter Games.

Wainwright Recreation Director, Ed Willson, reports that despite the fact that the town was not scheduled to host the February 24-25 games this year the whole community has risen to the occasion and is determined to ensure the success of the 1973 Winter Games here. The Winter Games were originally slated to be hosted by County of Beaver.

Despite the lack of time for preparation, over 300 competitors are expected to take part in seven events. Informations are the 73 North-Eastern Alberta Winter Games in Wainwright will be one of the most successful events on the province's winter sports schedule.

The Winter Games, held in Lac La Biche last year, are based strictly on recreational sports, and competitors must not be involved in any individual, team, or league competitions leading to provincial, national, or international playoffs.

This year, events in Wainwright will include basketball; volleyball; ladies' hockey; men's broomball; badminton (all categories); table tennis (singles only); and open snow shoe racing. Bowling is also included, but is not an official event.

The two-day Winter Games will draw entries from throughout the north eastern part of the province, including such centres as Ft McMurray, Lac La Biche, Vegreville, Cold Lake, Bonnyville, Vermilion and Wainwright.

The 300-plus competitors finally reaching the competitions here will be decided in regional playoffs and should represent some of the best amateur athletes from the province's northeast.

Anyone interested in participating in the 1973 North-Eastern Alberta Winter Games is asked to contact their local Recreation Board.

Beaver Unifarm Board plans a busy schedule

by Mrs. L. Bell

The Beaver District of Unifarm Board meeting was held on January 22nd at the Holden Legion Hall, with board members V. Romaniuk, M. Erickson, P. Chrystian, P. Micklich, S. McMullen, C. Jacobson, Mrs. O. Manderson, and visitor, J. Larrhuis, present.

A clean-up membership blitz was decided on for January 29th to the 31st. Any member that has not been contacted may notify the secretary of his local. All Unifarm memberships must be in to take advantage of getting the free valentine guide that is being distributed with renewed membership.

Discussion followed as to ways and means of improving "Farm Trends", so that farmers would continue receiving concise and informative information about their organization. If the general membership has any ideas they may contact Mrs. O. Manderson of Ryley, the secretary of the District Board.

The District will be once again participating in a Unifarm curling bonspiel which will be held in Bruce on February 7th, starting at 9:30 a.m. Locals from Tofield, New Borschow, Holden, Viking, Bruce and Iron Creek are asked to get a rink ready in order to partetipate. Winners of the bonspiel will go on to the regional playoffs at Vegreville. The winning rink then goes to compete in the provincial playoffs slated for February 28th to March 2nd at the Sportex Building in Edmonton.

April 4th was set as a tentative date for the District annual convention to be held in Tofield, as it is alternated between locals. The agenda for the convention will be completed at the next board meeting on February 27th.

High school hoop tournament set for Saturday in Tofield

On Saturday, Jan. 27th, the Tofield gym will be the scene of the annual County of Beaver high school basketball tournament.

As a result of their wins over the two Holden teams last Friday, both Titan teams were awarded the first place trophies for league play.

With the placement of final positions, the tournament schedule has been completed. The day's competition will be set up in three sessions. Tofield and Ryley girls will open the first session at 12:30 followed by the Tofield and Viking boys at 2:00. In the second session the Viking girls will meet Holden at 3:30 and the Ryley boys Holden at 5:00. Winners of each of these three will play off in session three for the girls championship at 7:00. At 8:30, the boy's championship will feature the winners of games two and four.

A mission for each of the afternoon sessions will be 25¢ for students and 50¢ for adults. The championship session will charge 50¢ and 75¢ respectively. However, a day pass will admit students for 50¢ and adults for $1.00 to all three sessions.

Game time will be eight o'clock.

Because of this game, the match between Andrew and Tofield has been moved to Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. The skating schedule also changes as a result on Sunday afternoon with public skating from one until three o'clock.

Arena officials said yesterday (Wednesday) that the new infra-red heaters have now arrived and will be installed in time for Saturday night's game.

Purchase of the heaters was made possible by donations from the CWL, Lions Club, Tofield School Skate-A-Thon and a donation of two thousand dollars from one individual.

The Agricultural Society has decided to purchase a second-hand ice shaver and flooder from Sherwood Park for fifteen hundred dollars. Officials are hoping to have the new machine in use for tonight's (Thursday) game between Ryley and Grand Forks.

Three other exhibition hockey games have been scheduled for February.

On Wednesday, Feb. 7th, Dr. Walter Buck will lead the Fort Saskatchewan Buckaroos to town for a game with the Tofield Old Timers and Edmonton's Don Wheaton team will host a Calgary midget AA team for two exhibition games on February 9th and 10th.

Five generations

Caroline Davisk of Ryley celebrated her 93rd birthday last week at the Bethany Nursing Home, and the occasion was marked with a five-generation picture. Directly behind Mrs. Davick is her son, J. O. Davick of Ryley, while his daughter, Mrs. Mildred Stensrud hold his great-granddaughter, Shelly Stensrud and his grandson, Garry Stensrud is standing next to him.

Hockey teams looking sharp

Tofield's minor hockey teams have taken on a new look thanks to the generosity of local businesses and organizations.

All teams (except two) have been outfitted with new sweaters and the Junior Sports Committee are hopeful that other businesses or organizations will volunteer to provide team sweaters for these two units.

The Tofield Community League has dressed the mid-get (15 and 16 years) team while Henry's Electric and Jake's Construction have provided outfits for the bantam (13 and 14 years) team. The Tofield Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion has outfitted both pee wee (11 and 12

Heaters for new arena to be set for week-end

The newly constructed arena in Tofield has been quite busy since it opened and the pace won't slacken in the next few weeks.

The Edmonton Old Timers will be in Tofield on Saturday night for a game with an all-star team composed of players from Grand Forks, Ryley and Tofield. Many of the Edmonton players had NHL experience and all used to play with the Edmonton Flyers, Monarchs or Oil Kings. The team is coached by Ken McAuley and has such players as Bob Solinger, Gord Buttrey, Rich Healy, Dale Conrad, Dennis DeJordy and Max Mestinsek in the line-up.

End of the war?

Not only hundreds of millions of Americans, but many millions of people the world over were rejoiced last night by the announcement from President Nixon that a cease fire had been agreed upon, commencing at 7 pm., Washington time, Saturday evening. As American involvement grew ever higher, and as they found themselves involved in a quicksand type of thing, which pulled them in ever deeper as they struggled harder to get out, not only their own peoples but the larger part of the western world hoped and prayed some way could be found to bring peace to the area.

The cost to the American people has been high, in terms of young men killed, maimed, and injured in other ways, too, such as addiction to drugs, introduction to brutalities and callousness they had hitherto not known, and dissemination among many young men who can easily turn hostile on their return to America of the foremost methods of fighting and killing.

The cost to the American economy, too, has been excessively high, and it gave many signs of almost bringing ruination to what had seemed to be limitless wealth and resources.

But the impact on the people and the soil of Viet Nam must have been almost beyond comprehension, as incredible amounts of explosive were rained down, as defoliants ruined the most fertile soil, as napalm scarred, and maimed and killed, and as citizen tortured citizen in the amazing turnabout fortunes of the war.

President Nixon left no doubt from the way he made his speech and his comments after the joint announcement that his intent was to say the war is over, and that the Americans have gained "peace with honor." However, it quickly becomes obvious that there are still many, many unanswered questions and problems to be solved, not the least being who will guarantee the free choice of government for Viet Namese promised by Mr. Nixon, if all the American troops are withdrawn in sixty days.

News reports that both sides are using the time between now and Saturday for the most frenzied stockpiling of armaments bodes little good for the "peace" . . . the world can ill afford to see the Americans pull out, only to have another bloody war break out, with the Communists still in the same commanding positions they have occupied for months. This would be tantamount to simply abandoning the cause that the States has fought so long to uphold.

More search, more safety

Canadian airline passengers as a whole are almost sure to welcome the decision of Transport Minister Jean Marchand to institute far more rigid search measures at most airports in Canada, in an effort to eliminate the possibility of hijacking of planes in flight.

There may be a few, very few, passengers who will object to the indignity of careful search, not only of their luggage, but of their persons, but we think there are a few indeed who will really mind the effort to more greatly ensure their safety in flight.

Hijacking the old stage coach, or the old railway train, if it ever occurred, was one thing, because at least you were on terra firma, and reasonably safe. But when you're thirty thousand feet in the air, anything that can upset the expected smooth operation of the flight is serious to every member on board, and if more thorough searching is going to help to avert the problems faced by many lines in other countries, then so be it. Mr. Marchand will get lots of credit for his contribution.

Oh, for public ownership

All those advocates of public ownership of public utilities, such as power, water and gas, must be highly interested in the differences in the two systems when it comes to rate increases.

For instance, Edmonton users of the city-owned utilities will be faced with increases in the neighborhood of eighteen percent next month, with just the merest of discussions taking place among city aldermen over the price hike.

By contrast, a request for an increase of only fifteen percent (or three percent less) by Calgary Power has to be fought by that firm before the Public Utilities Board, with opposition financed by more than a hundred thousand dollars worth of municipal funds.

We'll grant that in the case of Edmonton any extra revenues remain within the City's control, while in Calgary Power's case they go into the hands of shareholders, but the contrast is pretty interesting. Especially when there's no known check of efficiency demanded to justify the first case, while the highest level of efficiency has to be proven before the latter is even considered.

Hastings Lake

(Mrs. R. Bates)

The general meeting of the Hastings Lake Community Association took place on January 15th, with Alex Scott elected as president and Arthur Rowland as vice-president. Ralph Dunham was returned as secretary treasurer.

An enjoyable whist drive was held on January 20th, sponsored by the Social Credit Group. Ladies' first prize was won by Mrs. McHeffey, and men's first by R. Scott. Consolation prizes went to Mrs L. Gill and A. Gladue. The group will be sponsoring whist drives at intervals with the next one coming up on February 3rd.

Mrs. A Gladue, after many years of faithful reporting of the news, has turned over the duty to Roberta Bates.

The Hastings Lake Ladies' Club's annual meeting took place at the home of Mrs. Mary Gladue on January 18th. Mrs. C. Rowland is the new president, with Mrs Kenny Jones as vice-president and Mrs H Simpson as secretary-treasurer. Business included arrangements for a 20-game grocery bingo on February 17. Hostessing the February meeting will be Miss Pat Jones. The club gained a new member, Mrs. Bertha Phillips.

Elmer and Katie Honey, formerly of this district, visited briefly at the A. Rowland home, homeward bound from Edmonton.

In the last 15 years there has been a seven-fold increase in deaths from chronic bronchitis and emphysema.

Rev. Peter Warkentin laid to rest

My beloved husband and our father passed away on November 27th, 1972, at the age of 74 years and six months. He was born in the Ukraine, Russia, on May 4th, 1898. At the age of 19 he realized his need of a personal Savior and anchored his faith in Christ, his trusted pilot who proved Himself trustworthy to the end, even through the valley of the shadow of death.

On March 14th, 1920 he was joined in holy matrimony to Margarita Heinricks. In 1925 they emigrated to Canada where together they shared life's varied experiences, trials and blessings for over 52 years. They began farming at Sunnyslope, Alberta, later moving to La Glace and then to the Tofield district.

In the prime of his life he was ordained to the ministry by the Mennonite Brethren Church of Lindbrook and for many years served his master in this capacity. Although retired from farming, his love for the land and the challenge of the north led him to Debolt in 1963.

His life was characterized by great enthusiasm, great optimism and great faith. Now his faith has become sight and his hope a reality.

His passing is mourned by his loving wife, Margareta; five sons, John, his wife Annie, Peter, his wife Mary, Corney, his wife Susie, Aaron, his wife Anne, Walter, his wife Rose Ann; four daughters, Annie, her husband Abe Quiring, Margaret, her husband Peter Penners, Mary, her husband, Corney Petker, and Frieda; 42 grandchildren; two sisters and a host of relatives and friends.

He was predeceased by one daughter, two sons and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in the Mennonite Brethren Church of Tofield with Rev. H. Epp in charge. Rev. G. Quiring and Rev. John Neufeld served with messages. Interment followed at the church cemetery at Lindbrook.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all our relatives and friends for their many acts of kindness, floral tributes, cards and memorial donations in the loss of our dear husband, father and grandfather. God bless you all.

—Margareta Warkentin and Family.

Students have active schedules

by Grace Phillips

Tofield's girls and boys' basketball teams won their games against the Viking teams in Tofield on Wednesday, Jan. 17th, in regularly scheduled league games.

With the co-operation of the Tofield elementary teachers and the parents of the students, the 8B class recently conducted a successful hot-dog sale. Proceeds will go to the treasury of the Big 3 to help finance such projects as uniforms for boys' basketball team and assistance to the High School in paying for the new electric score board in the gym.

The Tofield Junior High School students are again preparing for a Valentine Tea at the school on February 14th. Held annually for many years, the tea could not be held last year because of alterations to the school.

Six candidates will be competing for the honor of being crowned Valentine Queen.

Representing class 7A will be Dixie Rose; 7B, Kathy Blakey; 8A, Ilene Francis, 8B, Darlene Rude; 9A Rosemary Shewchuk; 9B Charlene Good.

Students will soon be selling tickets to secure votes for their room's candidate. The tea is sponsored by the Big 3, the students' organization for Junior High. This year's executive in the Big 3 consists of Denise Eastlick as president, Barry Jones as vice-president, Janice Epp as secretary, and Elsa Helberg as treasurer.

The Tofield Garden Club met at the home of Theone Jones on January 16th. There was a good turnout. After the business session, Miss Freida Regehr showed slides of her work and mission in Africa. As a teacher and missionary, she gave us an interesting talk of the people and tribes she works with. A lovely lunch was served by Theone Jones.

Monday evening some of the boys put on a surprise birthday party of TV dinners, tarts and ice cream for Geo. Abernethy.

The Tofield WCTU meeting was held on January 11th at the home of Mrs. Mary Flaseth with eight ladies present. It was the World Day of Prayer for the WCTU through out Canada. Devotion was given by Mrs. L. Frances, and business was discussed. The school children from this district will be asked to make posters against smoking, drinking and using drugs. Next meeting will be the annual meeting in March.

Square dancers will meet on Saturday, Jan. 27th, at 8 p.m. in the old Haight School in Ryley.

Tofield ATA holds meeting

by Mollie Cram

The January meeting of the Tofield Sub-local ATA met on January 16th with the president, Mrs. Flo Ingram in the chair.

The Social Committee received congratulations for its successful Christmas entertainment.

The president of the Beaver Local ATA, Ron Taylor, announced a teachers' Groundhog Day supper and dance to be held in Holden Community Hall on February 2nd. The tentative date for the ATA banquet and entertainment to be held in Ryley was announced as February 21th.

The Program Committee asked for a directive from the teachers regarding a request for personnel from the ATA central office to speak on some topic of general public interest during Education Week in March. It was decided that the secretary, Mrs. Fleshner, should invite a speaker, possibly A. K. Harrison, or Dr. Keeler, to talk on the Worth Report. The date for this event was set tentatively at either March 6th, or March 8th.

Titans win hoop honors

by Linda Eastlick

The Titan boys and girls captured both trophies in the high school county basketball tournament held in the Tofield gym last Saturday.

This is the first time since three trophies were established in 1965 that one school has swept the league, and tourney trophies.

In the first championship game, the Viking girls took an early 10-2 lead. Through three quarters of steady play the Titans fought to a 29-22 lead which dwindled to a 31-29 edge in favor of the green and white at game's end. The boys' championship featured a battle against Ryley which ended with Tofield the 36-28 victor.

The debate rages on

By Peter Ward

OTTAWA – The Debate on the Speech from the Throne began with leaders day, and that saw Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau unleash a withering attack on the Tories for using racism in the election campaign. It was a bitter speech, which employed the classical Trudeau tactic of trying to foist onto a debating opponent an extreme and indefensible position.

The Trudeau cutlass swinging performance drew down upon the Prime Ministerial ____, and also the man who twisted the 1970 war measures act during the Quebec crisis to crush the political opposition to Montreal's Mayor Jean Drapeau.

If Trudeau's speech was tough on the racial and language issues Marchand's was a declaration of war. He provoked a considerable shouting session back and forth across the House, leveled a smothering attack on Wagner and then told Parliament that if the country wouldn't play it his way then the French Liberals will pick up their marbles and go home. The it looks suspiciously like the tactic will be holding a gun at the country's head on the national unity issue again. Trudeau, Marchand, et al, consider themselves the only authoritative interpreters of the Quebec mood and by the most charitable terms of judgment this can be the only head charges of promoting divisiveness in the country and racial smear tactics. These charges came from David Lewis leader of the NDP first. Then they came from John Diefenbaker, then they came from Tory Quebec lieutenant Claude Wagner.

Next stop for purposes of this column in the Throne Speech debate is exactly one week later. Speaking is Jean Marchand one-time Minister of Regional Economic Expansion now Minister of Transport; one-time labor leader with a reputation for a certain amount of demagogy exact words were "If the atmosphere doesn't become healthier, I don't think we'll stay very long."

Rocked by the Marchand offensive (pun intended), the opposition wanted to know when he was going to talk about his responsibilities-the Department of Transport. Said Arnold Peters of the NDP– "All you ministers can't be ministers of social affairs. You must have something else to do."

And indeed they have - like preparing for the next election. From the Trudeau and the Marchand performance justification for the game of Russian roulette they apparently intend to force upon the country.

I find it hard to accept the claim that if you're a Liberal, you're for national unity; if you're anything else you want want Quebec to separate.

Justified outrage

The revellation of a cabinet minister instituting an RCMP check of three Albertans who were "guilty" of strong criticism of government policy has been greeted with outrage by the public, as well it might be.

Faced with severe criticism of government operations in the Slave Lake area, Minister without portfolio Al Adair requested the Attorney General to authorize a search of the records by the RCMP, because, as he explained later in a public statement, he would be working with the men later, and wanted to know more about them. His explanation is painfully weak, not to say implausible, and indicates a singular lack of prudence in a program of getting to know people better. It hardly seems like the course of action Dale Carnegie would suggest.

The whole incident smacks too much of the witch hunt to be casually explained away and forgotten . . . what if an unhappy incident in the past of one of these three men had been turned up? Would this make their criticism of government any the less valid? Would it have been used for blackmail? Would Mr. Adair really know the men he was to work with any better?

It's barely more than a year ago that Premier Lougheed stirred the entire provincial cauldron over the impropriety of opening of a file connected with a recipient of welfare. Are we now to believe that it's improper for a Socred government to take this action, but highly moral for a Conservative government to adopt? For that matter, Mr. Lougheed's new Bill of Rights has barely had time to be instituted . . . does it have anything to say in this regard, or is it merely a bunch of fancy words on a fancy piece of paper?

Mr. Adair was right in being stung by the criticism, but instead of investigating the critics, he should have investigated the merits of the complaints criticized. Both he and the attorney general have made serious tactical blunders, and indeed, ethical errors, and they owe the public an apology.

Small potatoes

We're fascinated each year with the forecast made by an American oil publication, World Oil, on the amount of new wells expected to be drilled each year, and where they predict they will be. We have not seen a record of how accurate their predictions have been, but each year they come up with more or less the same consistent picture, showing that however important we think oil production in Canada is, it can't hold a candle to development in the States.

For the record's sake, they're forecasting 3,811 new wells, (both gas and oil) for Canada in 1973, and all but 201 of these will be in Western Canada.

But lest we think that's pretty good, there'll be more than twice as many wells drilled in Texas alone, with 8,561, not to speak of 21,180 wells in other parts of the United States.

All the rest of the world will account for an estimated 4,886.

Wells in Western Canada, at an average of about 3,750 feet, are a bit deeper than the 3,500 feet expected in Eastern Canada, but wells in Texas will have to go a third deeper still to get oil.

Perhaps things really are bigger in Texas, as they claim. Well, some things, anyway.

It's also an interesting note that very little production is expected from Alaska, and that in spite of considerable activity in California, Kansas, Ohio, Oklahoma, and Wyoming, all five won't equal the number of new wells to be drilled in the Lone Star State alone.

Hardship and hunger are constant companions to children in the developing countries, and family responsibility is learned very early in life. This boy is making sure that his baby sister gets a share of Canadian milk provided by the Unitarion Service Committee through USC distribution centres overseas. Last year, the USC supplied over 4 billion cups of milk to undernourished little ones at only 2 cents a cup. Countless children were saved from starvation and death. Contributions to the USC Cup of Milk Fund are welcomed at USC Headquarters, 56 Sparks Street, Ottawa. K1P 5B1

Pool honors founding members

In its 50th year of business, the Alberta Wheat Pool wishes to pay tribute to its founders. A special commemorative plaque has been produced for presentation to all those founding members still living in this anniversary year. Of beautifully embossed leather, in the shape of the Pool emblem, each plaque bears the name of the member, in gold lettering.

The Alberta Wheat Pool was formed in 1923, and over the succeeding five years, thousands upon thousands of Alberta farmers signed delivery contracts as founding members of the organization.

Pool President Gordon Harrold said this week, "We are anxious to recognize all those producers who had a part in founding the organization. Many of them are now living in retirement off the farm, and have not been in contact with the Pool for a number of years. We are asking the families and friends of such early members to help us contact them in order that we may extend the recognition they deserve." "Where a known Wheat Pool founding member may not be contacted a letter or phone call to the Pool's Calgary office, or any of its country personnel, would be much appreciated," Mr. Harrold said.

Lawrence - Shacker vows exchanged in Tofield

Marilyn Lorraine daughter of Mr and Mrs Leonard Schacker of Tofield and Constable Robert Weldon Lawrence son of Mr Weldon Lawrence of Prince William N B were united in marriage at a double ring cermony in Tofield's Holy Trinity Anglican Church on October 7th. Reverend Brian Brown officiated with Mrs. Elain Kaufman at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of peau d' elegance and lace with matching shoulder length trane. A three-layered veil with a daisy head piece was worn by the bride and she carried a bouquet of red roses and baby's breath.

The bride was attended by Carol Pinder, Colleen Willis and Lorraine Murray. They wore gowns of royal blue velvet with crepe bodices and carried nosegays of daisies with blue baby's breath. Flower girl Cathy Brown cousin of the bride was dressed the same as the bridesmaids.

The groom was attended by Constable Ray Muro, Walter Chykalsky and Roger Halfide. They wore "walking out order of dress" of the RCMP. Ring bearer, Darrell Schacker brother of the bride wore a similar uniform.

A reception followed at the Tofield United Church basement. A round cake topped by a heart and pair of doves was decorated by Mrs. Agnes M[illegible] of Tofield. Chick Blacklock was master of ceremonies and the toast to the bride was made by Harry Schacker of Edmonton uncle of the bride.

[illegible]

A dance followed at Lendbrook Hall with music by the Ebertz Trio of Tofield. The Hall was decorated tastefully in red and white.

The bride chose for her going away costume, a dark pink pant suit and a corsage of white roses. After a honeymoon to the Maritimes, the happy couple will reside at Grande Prairie, Alberta.

League wants Tofield to give out Mercurys

by Grace Phillips

Letters of thanks from Tofield Junior Sports Committee and from Coach Earl Jones were read at the regular February meeting of the Tofield Community League on Tuesday with the new president, Bob Moos in the chair.

These letters were in recognition of the donation of $182.35 by the League to buy hockey sweaters for the 15-16 year old boys' team.

Watsons Ltd. are to be hired to improve the electric appliance outlets in the Community Centre kitchen.

The following committees were appointed:

Dance committee: Bill Davison, Joe Laarhuis, Bob Moos; building committee, Arnold Swift, Bob Moos, Hans Christensen; theatre committee, Jack Whyte, Bert Everett, Hans Christensen.

July 1st celebration was mentioned. In order to ascertain the opinions of other Tofield organizations re co-operation in the annual sports day, letters are to be sent to each organization asking if they favor the format used the past two years.

It was called to the attention of the meeting by the Theatre Committee that if a student under 16 years of age wishes to attend a movie rated as adult, he must be accompanied by an adult. This is the provincial law and the Community League has no option but to enforce it. Any student not accompanied by an adult must produce his students' union card to verify his age before he can be admitted.

A letter is to be written to the council of the Town of Tofield asking them to supply The Mercury to town taxpayers. If all taxpayers received The Mercury (as rural taxpayers do) advertisements and notices would reach a wider audience and be more effective.

Titans win tournament

(Linda Eastlick)

Tofield Titans have scheduled two exhibition games within one week. On Saturday, Feb. 10th, the St. Albert boys and girls' teams will play here at 7 p.m. These promise to be competitive games as the St. Albert teams have defeated tall opposition in their area. On the following Wednesday, teams representing Archbishop Jordan School in Edmonton will meet the Titans here at 7 p.m.

Last Friday afternoon, the Tofield teams travelled to Drumheller to participate in their Invitational tournament, a round-robin affair involving eight teams.

After playing both Drum teams that evening, the Titans were guests of the host players. The next day's competitions saw the Tofield boys defeated by Ponoka, thus losing a championship game berth. The girls, however, won all their games to bring home the championship trophy.

Calgary midgets play in Tofield

Hockey fans in the Tofield area will have a chance to see the top midget hockey teams in the province in action this coming weekend.

On Friday evening, Calgary will meet Edmonton Knights of Columbus Colts, a team currently in second place in Edmonton 'AA' competition and then, on Saturday night, will play the number one Edmonton team, Don Wheaton. Game time both evenings will be eight o'clock.

Old-Timers win another

On February 2nd, the Tofield Old-Timers won their game against Lamont Old-Timers by a score of 2-0. Jack Lerbekmo got both Tofield goals with the assists going to B. Moos, R. Jeffrey and V. Rudzeki.

Next home game will be on Friday, Feb. 16th, with Tofield hosting New Sarepta. Game time will be 9 p.m.

A game of interest to many in the area will be on Friday, Feb. 23rd, when Northwestern Utilities Old-Timers of Edmonton will play the Tofield Old-Timers.

Ottawa viewpoint . . .

A Delegate Balance of Power

By Peter Ward

OTTAWA One only has to look at the record of the first month of the new Parliament to see just how beneficial minority government is for Canadians.

There hasn't been an administration so responsive to public desires since the minority governments of the mid 60s in Parliament, on the evidence. The Liberals have learned the lesson that it's action the country wants, rather than politics, quicker than the Conservatives, whose main aim in life is becoming increasingly more obvious — turn Trudeau out so we can have go.

Early in this session there was considerable criticism directed at the New Democratic Party, because of a certain sanctimonious tone to the pronouncements from the NDP corner about giving the Liberals a chance to make good on Throne Speech promises.

But now, as things are developing, the measures which are before Parliament, and the direction our political life is taking, can truly be said to be induced by the vital need of this government for NDP support.

You'll notice that the NDP has been hesitant to support the Tories on a vote in Parliament when a matter of confidence was at stake but almost eager to vote against the government on things like the formation of that food price committee, which was not a matter of confidence.

No matter how the Tories rant about NDP hypocrisy, the way the NDPers have been voting is not just in the interests of the party, but in the interests of the country.

I, for one, have been won over to David Lewis's way of reasoning: Keeping a precarious government in power so long as it stays on its toes is an extremely productive act.

The question is, how long can it last? When this Parliament convened, I was one of those who said that the Liberals would either be defeated within the first two weeks, or they would last until Spring.

Well the first few weeks have come and gone. I'd now like to revise that estimate of government life upwards. They'll last now, it seems, until fall perhaps till next year even late in 1974. When the next election does come, you'll hear plenty of chest-thumping from the Liberals and the Tories about the desirability of a strong majority government with plenty of muscle to deal with the problems of the nation.

Before you swallow that argument think of the history of majority governments in this nation , and compare the results with what minority governments have accomplished.

Not out of trouble

The election of Werner Schmidt as leader of the Social Credit party on Saturday means they're still far from out of trouble. Indeed, all kinds of new problems rise up in front of the party, as the province stares at a spring session only weeks away.

For the new leader has no seat in the Legislature, and can't be counted on to help much in the rough and tumble on the floor during debates. Indeed, even though one of the "safe" seats in the party were resigned to give him an opportunity to run, it's quite probable that Premier Lougheed could so arrange the call for a by-election as to virtually eliminate any chance of Mr. Schmidt . . . if he did gain the election . . . sitting in this session. Mr. Lougheed might shrink from this, of course, under the impression the public would cry "foul".

With pre-election betting that the race would be between the two men who had successf held office for several years, the triumph of Mr. Schmidt seemed highly improbable, and coming the way it did, just as the final polls were being counted, and after Clark had led almost all the way, it seemed almost impossible.

Indeed, the position of Mr. Clark, and to a lesser extent, of Mr. Taylor, now becomes very difficult, because both had strong support from among the elected members of the party, and their platforms were quite at variance with that of Mr. Schmidt. The new leader lacks parliamentary experience, but he has a wealth of experience in other fields, and demonstrated leadership capacity, and he will want to point the party in his own direction, in spite of the strong feelings of other members.

It might appear there will be other Alf Hookes in the not too distant future.

Totally inadequate

The lame apology offered by Attorney General Merv Leitch and the feeling indicated by Minister without Portfolio Al Adair that he has no need to apologize for instigating a police check of three men in the Slave Lake area leave us shocked in disbelief. The search arose after strong criticism had been voiced in the area over possible conflict of interest of some government employees, and Mr. Adair felt the best way to get to the heart of the matter was to ask the RCMP for a character report on the three involved.

The whole sorry spectacle, and the lack of any real contrition, tends to make us agree more and more with NDP leader Grant Notley who declares that the British tradition of ministerial responsibility cries out for resignation . . . or dismissal. When such inept handling and such illogical thinking are turned up in a case like this, one is left to wonder how many times such operations go unnoticed.

The Lougheed government has benches filled with enough talent that he can well afford to lead the way, and demonstrate "responsible" government in its highest sense.

'Consumer' arrives

With its latest issue, The Canadian Consumer has made big strides, and appearing as full-size magazine for the first time, it can really be said to have arrived. Not only is it much bigger in page size, it's also 32 pages plus cover, and covers a much wider range of subjects than has been possible before.

Styled very much along the lines of its better known older brother, in the United States, Consumer Reports, the magazine deals each month with a variety of products and services available to the public, but the Canadian issue deals exclusively with products available on this side of the border, and not with a wide range of items which are labelled "Best Buys" but infuriate Canadian readers by being unavailable here.

The latest issue ranges from articles on how to tell when salesmen are pressuring to close the sale, to whether school buses are safe, with several stories on food and other products in between.

In a growing age of [illegible], the new Consumer should help Canadians buy more wisely.

As the farmer builds, so builds the nation

As the farmer builds, so builds the nation. That is particularly true in Canada because agriculture has led the way in Canadian development. It is the foundation of our national wealth. The greater part of Canada's future depends upon the succes of agriculture.

In that future the place of cooperative marketing depends upon enabling the farmer to come into his own. The cooperative movement has two main objectives: that the producer shall receive an equitable price for his product and that the consumer shall pay the least possible price for what he buys. In this way a fair exchange of commodities, goods and services be brought about and profiteering and wide spreads in prices be eliminated.

THE WAY IT WAS

Some contemporary smart [illegible] are implying [illegible] that after all, the United Empire Loyalists were the draft-dodgers of their day.

Not so. The U.E.Ls were people who upheld a government that, whatever its faults, was the legitimate government of the land in which they lived, and who were ill-treated by successful revolutionaries, who did not grant them the amnesty promised in the treaty that ended the Revolutionary War.

Some of the U.E.Ls had actually fought for the authority that they recognized. This does not look like draft-dodging.

A household with an income of $15,000 or more typically receives 13 pieces of mail per week which is almost twice the national average and nearly three times the amount of mail received by families earning under $5,000.

RAPESEED GROWERS

IN THE COUNTY OF BEAVER

The County of Beaver No. 9 will not be involved in the supervision and co-ordination of an air-spray program for armyworm control in 1973. As most farmers in the area have had two seasons experience in control techniques, this insect's presence is no longer considered an emergency situation.

However, the County is prepared to have lannate and/or any other insecticide recommended for armyworm control available to farmers at cost price, on a cash basis.

The District Agriculturist and the Agricultural Fieldman will be available in an advisory capacity, eg. identifying insects, recommending types and rates of chemical and giving general information relating to the program.

Also available from the D.A.'s or Fieldman's office will be an up-to-date list of licensed air-spray operators.

INTERNATIONAL AGRICULTURE EXCHANGE TOURS

Almost 50 rural young men and women from Western Canada are working on farms in Europe, Australia and New Zealand this winter. They are all members of the International Agricultural Exchange Association which organizes tours to its 14 member countries.

The association was started in 1965 to give rural youth an opportunity to travel, learn about people in other countries and to see different farming methods. Member countries include the Scandinavian countries, Great Britain, Germany, Switzerland, Australia, New Zealand, the United States and Canada. Both spring and fall tours have been arranged by the Association every year since 1965, and over 2,000 rural youth have taken advantage of this opportunity to see the world.

According to the International Agricultural Exchange's Canadian secretary, Mrs. C. M. Ostoby, there will be a six-month tour to Europe and two 12-month tours to Europe and Australia or New Zealand leaving Calgary around April 25. The cost of the European tour is $445 (Canadian). The costs of the other two tours are $1759 and $1,700 depending upon the stop-overs. One will have stop-overs in Bangkok, Manila, Nadi, Honolulu and Vancouver, while the other will have stop-overs in Bangkok, Singapore, Hong Kong and Japan.

To qualify for one of these exchange tours, which are strongly recommended by the departments of agriculture in the western provinces, an applicant must be over 18 years of age and have been approved for a job by the authorities in charge of the program. He or she must also have had some practical farming or horticultural experience as well as satisfactory recommendations from previous employers or teachers.

Those in charge of the exchange program, working in co-operation with national agricultural organizations in the countries concerned arrange jobs for all tour members. Individual wishes regarding type of work and the placement of friends near each other are adhered to whenever possible.

Male members can expect to be paid approximately $80 to $100 a month gross plus full board and room in Europe. In Australia and New Zealand they will receive in the neighborhood of $120 (Aus.) and $100 (N.Z.) respectively, plus full board and room. Female members can expect about 20 per cent less, depending upon their qualifications and the type of work they are doing.

More detailed information on the above tours can be obtained from the International Agricultural Exchange Association, Olds College, P.O. Box 760, Olds, Alberta.

ZEnith 0-4000 gives answers on income tax

Starting January 2 every Canadian with a telephone no matter where he lives will have free access to federal income tax information, the Honourable Robert Stanfield announced recently.

If one lives beyond the range of local telephone service any of the Department's 28 District Taxation Offices throughout Canada he may telephone without charge by calling the long-distance operator asking for ZENITH 0 4000.

Taxation is the first federal government department to inaugurate a toll free telephone service so that every citizen will have the same free and ready access to information during regular office hours.

Up to the present time, approximately 17 percent of all Canadian taxpayers would have been required to pay long distance charges if they had telephoned their District Taxation Offices for information. Introduction of the ZENITH system equalizes the opportunity for all Canadians to call District Taxation Offices free of charge.

In the Edmonton region, the service will provide for 194,700 taxpayers outside the local area, which represents 44.0 percent.

The Department urges taxpayers to read carefully their tax guides and follow the instructions there in completing their tax returns. Most, if not all, their questions are answered in the guide. But if they still have a problem, it is suggested that they contact their District Taxation Office either by telephone, by letter or by visiting the premises.

Livestock loans open to all beef producers

All bonafide farmers can now use Alberta guaranteed livestock loans to purchase female beef cattle. Prior to the recent passing of an order in council, only those farmers in the northern and western parts of the province were eligible.

The loans, which are also available to sheep and dairy cattle producers, are designed to enable Alberta farmers to start or add to a breeding herd. Cattle bought with one of these loans must be branded with the purchaser's brand and a brand designated by the Alberta department of agriculture.

The maximum and minimum loans to an individual are $10,000 and $2,000 respectively. The maximum and minimum for a partnership or corporation is $18,000 and $2,000. The down payment for an individual, partnership or corporation is 10 per cent of the loan.

Loans are repayable in seven years in equal installments on at least an annual basis. The first installment on principal is due not later than two years after the loan was taken out. The interest rate cannot exceed one per cent per annum above the institution's prime lending rate. Interest payments are due during the first year.

Modern etiquette

Q. What is the best and easiest way to introduce two married couples to each other?

A. One of the best ways is merely to mention their names, as, "Mr. and Mrs. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers" Or, less formally, "Betty and Dick Gordon, Helen and Tom Rogers."

Q. What is the proper thing to do when you are at the dinner table and you inadvertently take a bite of food in your mouth and find it "too hot to handle"?

A. Take a quick swallow of water.

Q. When carrying your tray of food in a crowded cafeteria, are you supposed to ask the permission of a stranger to sit at the table with him?

A. This is not necessary.

Better than the glue factory

The very thought of eating horsemeat would cause an uproar in Canada. First, the meat isn't fit for humans. Second, the horse has a certain stature — it wasn't made to be eaten. Yet horsemeat is the largest item in Air Canada's cargo to France and one of Canada's more important exports to that country. This new commerce is already worth more than $1 million a year and is growing quickly. On an average of twice a week 30,000-pound loads of fresh horsemeat fly into Paris. Fresh — that is, unfrozen — because horsemeat once frozen becomes dog food. The realization that the trade is physically possible and that Canada is competitive even after airfreight costs has come only in the past year.

Smoking area sought at the Ryley School

A number of controversial matters were raised for consideration by parents and teachers at a discussion night held in Ryley School on February 6th.

After hearing considerable debate, the group voted in favor of having the Students' Union canteen in continuous operation and in view of limited feasible alternatives, accepted the need for a smoking area somewhere on the school grounds.

It was generally agreed that students would in future years have individual pictures taken one year and class pictures the next.

The annual Junior high school magazine campaign also came up for debate. The group asked if it would not be possible to have a magazine drive every other year only. Mr. Van Berkel promised to raise the matter with the Students' Union and felt that there would be no objection. To protect our own interests, it was emphasized that citizens in the Ryley area should be urged not to support magazine campaigns by other schools during the years Ryley students were not selling.

Mrs. Ruddy discussed library books, borrowing practises and care and informed parents that there would be no objection to them borrowing books from the school library.

Mr. Van Berkel accentuated the importance of regular school attendance and demonstrated the serious consequence resulting from senior high students failing the courses which cannot be offered every year. Such failure would almost certainly mean that the student would need to go on correspondence or take an extra year of school.

Mrs. O. Marderson made a presentation to the assembly on some of the implications of the Worth Commission report. Discussions on the Report will be the subject of further discussion nights.

Misunderstandings surrounding elementary students' recesses and noon hour were cleared up to everyone's satisfaction.

Children go out on suitable days but, have access to school washroom facilities at all times.

Smoking privileges on the school grounds and exchanging of gifts at Christmas time were left for further discussion at a future meeting.

Ryley team stops CFB

Ryley Senior B basketball team edged Canadian Forces Base, Namao 19-41 over the weekend.

Ryley held a 23-14 half time lead despite having only five players. John Bauer led the winners with 13 points, followed by Gordon Boettger with ten. Glen Magneson and Neil Falkeid each counted eight.

Tickets for the fifty dollar bill are still available from any team member from Ryley or Tofield.

Bruce hosts hoop tourney

On February 10th, Junior High Basketball team from across the County met in Bruce to play-off for tournament trophies.

Ryley boys were successful in defeating Holden 29-21 and Tofield 23-18, thus taking the County tournament.

Ryley girls played a hard and fast game against Viking but were defeated 22-8. Viking then moved into the final game against Tofield and were defeated.

County tournament trophies were presented to Ryley boys and Tofield girls by Floyd Taylor on behalf of the Tofield and Ryley Lions Clubs.

League trophies were also presented at the tournament and were awarded to Viking boys and Tofield girls. Trophies were given on behalf of the Ryley Junior High.

Ottawa viewpoint . . .

Minority government is cautious

BY PETER WARD

OTTAWA — One of the strong things which came immediately to mind The fact was, Liberal governments was that although the Pearson gowithout clear Parliamentary vernments were minorities, majorities, they instituted such they led [illegible] controversial policies, and in the [illegible] debates which accompanied those policy introductions, heated words were aired, prejudices formed, something of a national catharsis.

Underneath of the armed forces, introduction of a Canadian flag medicare, and the Canada Pension Plan are brought the present Liberal cabinet to a state of political timidity which may prove to be its undoing.

Canadians don't like to be steam-rollered by a majority, but they respect the kind of do-or die guts which Pearson displayed.

The new caution of the Trudeau administration has been readily apparent in things like the unemployment insurance plan, the re-institution of a winter works program, and the capital punishment issue. Ask yourself if Lester Pearson would have asked for a five year extension of the partial death penalty ban? Hell no, he would have presented absolution legislation to Parliament and let the chips fall where they may.

And how about something like the Montreal Olympic Games? Granted that even before the election Mr Trudeau was saying there would be no help for Montreal in staging the games, beyond normal federal assistance through existing programs.

He's re-affirmed that stance since the election - but I wonder, how long the resolve to keep Federal purse-strings drawn tight will last, now that national public opinion polls have shown a majority of Canadians support holding the Games in Montreal in 1976?

The lesson which must be learned is this: Cresternau government is highly desirable in a majority government because not only must such a government never bulldoze the public, it must never appear to bulldoze them.

A Minority? When it's well thought out, sometimes a damn - the - torpedoes attitude is exactly what the electorate wants.

Trouble for Canada

The devaluation of the United States dollar spells nothing but great trouble for Canada, unfortunately, and it won't be long in showing up. Competing for the American market means Canadian manufacturers will have to accept fewer of the high-priced Canadian dollars in order to sell products in the States, and far too many Canadian products are being sold right now at prices that leave little room for price cutting.

One of the major products that will be hard hit is newsprint, with huge sales every year in the American market. Yet the newsprint industry has passed through a period of precarious profits and heavy financing, with a recent price increase just barely justifying the expansion of capacity and modernizing of old plants in an effort to keep up.

A lower-priced American dollar will hit hard in this area. The lumber industry will also be affected.

The price of cattle and hogs may very well suffer, too, as American farmers look to the opportunity to sell their animals for high-priced Canadian dollars on this side of the border.

This may sound like good news for the housewife, but in reality lower or higher market prices seem to make little difference at the meat counter, as higher and higher labor costs force prices up anyway. And it can spell real trouble for farmers who have only recently seen prices move into an area where the picture was looking a bit brighter.

Oil prices, too, will tend to be depressed, although it's unlikely that Canadian consumers will ever feel any benefit.

The most unfortunate aspect of the whole picture, too, is that the Canadian dollar is so strong only because of the immense pressure in this country from American investments, not because of their purchases of our products. If we could stop all this investment money coming in, our own dollar would float lower, our manufacturers would be better able to compete, and there would then be less pressure to sell out to the Americans, or any one else, for that matter. Maybe there's a message for Ottawa, here, but the public seems to have been ahead of the government in this respect, too.

Whose statistics count?

We've often argued with the arbitrary definition of the "poverty level" established by some bureaucrat in an ivory tower far removed from the price levels of the market place, especially when they come out and say that one in every fifth Canadian family lives below the poverty line. Maybe it's all in the mind, and we'll grant that this is a comparatively affluent region, but we still think the figures are too high.

Some support came our way this week, too, as we were struck by the difference between two sets of figures in the news. One was the "average" income of an Edmontonian, reported by industrial development promoter Leo LeClerc at $8,350, as he tried to shoot down the reports of a population drop with arguments about the economy being strengthened, rather than diminished. Using the figure of 3.8 people to the average family, this means the "average" family income in Edmonton is over $12,700.

But then along came a report from a finance firm reporting that a new classification schedule calls families in the United States with more than $15,000 income per year supernumerary families. Economist Fabian Linden, working with the Conference Board, reports the class accounts for one of every four families in the United States.

Now, it's generally conceded that U.S. incomes tend to be higher, generally speaking, than those in Canada, and if only one in four American families achieves $15,000, surely it's probable that only one in four Canadian families, (or maybe fewer) achieve the $12,700 mentioned in Edmonton.

$12,700 may be the AVERAGE, bolstered up by a few mighty high incomes, but it's likely to be far removed from a MEDIAN or MEAN income. There's nothing wrong with the figures, or inaccurate about them, except that we think they tend to portray an inaccurate picture in the way they're employed. This is why we maintain there's an entirely artificial and unrealistic assessment of what constitutes the poverty level, which results in an unrealistic and impractical viewpoint as to what levels of support should be reached by welfare services.

How to make a terrarium

Have you ever made a glass garden? Known as a terrarium, this kind of garden can be made in a container of any shape or size, providing it transmits light - a brandy snifter, a fish bowl, a brandy snifter, a fish tank, a bottle and so on.

The board of the Alberta department of agriculture's horticulture branch, P. D. McCalla, says many types of native plants and ferns and cultivated plants grow well in a terrarium. Among the commonly grown cultivated species are African violets, miniatures, begonias, coleus, episcia, peperomia, philodendrons and wandering jew.

The first step in making a terrarium is to prepare the container. Put an inch of gravel, or pieces of broken flower pots, in the bottom for drainage. Then sprinkle a layer of loose or ground charcoal on the gravel to keep the terrarium sweet and moisture the sides of the container below the soil level with moss with the green side facing the glass. You can use a soil mixture available from garden supply stores, or you can mix your own, using equal parts of garden soil, sand and peat moss. Put one and a half to two inches of soil in the container, being careful to slope it from one side to the other, or from the middle to the sides, for drainage.

Now you are ready to put in the plants. If you have chosen a small seedling, ever green plant and any other large-leaved plants first, be sure careful to tamp the soil down well around the roots. Small ferns do well in a terrarium and should be planted with their crowns just above the soil. If you are using a bottle for your glass garden, you will have to use a long pair of tweezers or sticks tied to tweezers to put in the plants. Try to avoid getting soil on their leaves. When all the plants are in place, spray them and the soil lightly with water. After you have covered the terrarium with glass or plastic film or put the lid on the bottle, it is ready to live on a little world by itself.

Since sunlight heats the air inside the terrarium and kills the plants, a terrarium should never be put in direct sun light. It should be watered only often enough to keep the soil moist. If the inside of the container becomes fogged, open the top slightly to ventilate it and to allow excess moisture to evaporate.

Mr. McCalla says that a terrarium, like any other garden, depends for its success upon its imaginative design and the suitability and practicability of the plants used. After all the plants are in place, you can provide variation by putting bits of birch-covered bark, moss, rocks and other decorative accessories around the plantings.

BUYING PROPERTY FROM A NON-RESIDENT

Anybody who buys taxable Canadian property from a person who does not reside in Canada should try to find out where that person resides and see that he has obtained a certificate from the federal department of national revenue. This advice comes from Bruce Hackett, who is head of the Alberta department of agriculture's farm management branch.

Under Canada's new Income Tax Act, persons who sell taxable property in this country must pay a tax on capital gains, regardless of whether or not he is residing in Canada. If he is a non-resident and sells his property without paying, or guaranteeing to pay, the tax on his capital gain, the purchaser could be liable for a 15 per cent tax on the selling price

Beware of these phony make money at home schemes

Ever been taken in by one of those ads that promise work addressing envelopes at home in your spare time if you'll just pay a $1 fee? Millions of people have. Fraudulent work-at-home schemes take in millions of dollars a year. Most of it is in small change and dollar bills, but sometimes a victim's losses run to hundreds of dollars, according to Changing Times magazine.

Law - enforcement officials are hard-pressed to police the field effectively. The schemes are so numerous, to begin with. In addition, many work-at-home swindlers run right on the borderline of the law — they may be unethical, but are quite illegal — and others imitate legitimate businesses. Finally, few victims complain; many just charge off their loss to experience.

The people hurt most are shut-ins, invalids, pensioners and others who are looking for honest work they can perform without leaving their homes. In truth, very few such opportunities exist, and responding to most of the homework deals advertised is probably a waste of time and money).

There are basically four types of work-at-home frauds on which an infinite variety of professions is based.

1. You are offered some kind of home or layment in return for a fee. For your remittance you receive nothing.

2. You are offered home-work "employment" or "opportunities" or "ideas" for a fee. Your money buys a list of ideas or instructions that by no stretch of the imagination lead to honest or gainful employment. Some of these so-called instructions merely explain how you can bilk others by promoting the same sort of scheme — yet another variation is the classic chain letter gyp. The "address envelopes" come-on in many homework ads actually refers to addressing envelopes in which you send out the same instructions you were given to victims of your own "address envelopes at home" ads. A typical homework idea might be to "renovate neckties for sale."How? "Cut out soiled parts. Sew the remaining pieces back together. Sell them to your neighbors."

3. You are told you can make big money at home by investing in the promoter's equipment of supplies, from knitting machines and baby shoe kits to breeder animals. Often these promoters promise to buy what you produce, or they seem to guarantee a market for your goods. Actually, you can lose whatever you invest unless you can sell your products on your own. Buying agreements usually depend on the product's being "up to our standards." None ever is.

You are promised you can make money from your books, poems or songs through the promoter's services. The only profit in this deal is made by the promoters on money they charge you for a variety of services and coats. What victims get for their money, themselves as such and offer and instructions. It only takes little more than to print your work for a price.

To illustrate the futility of ads, an investigator several years ago answered a typical one: "Women wanted to address and mail postal cards at home. Send $1 for information about one hour a day and you can easily make over $50 a week!"

For her $1 the investigator received a mimeographed booklet, which explained that she could buy from the promoter, at $5 per 250, unstamped and with advertisement. for ed with advertisement. for $1.98 name plates. She was to send these cards to prospe- (Continued on Page 10)

Mr. Hertz, chairman of the Serra Club expressed his happiness and congratulated Father on his 25 years of service in the Lord's vineyard.

Father McCarty was overwhelmed with all the congratulatory cards and the many gifts, including a 25 silver-dollar money tree.

County School Committee briefs

Following are the minutes from part of the regular meeting of the County of Beaver No. 9 School Committee, held Tuesday, Nov. 21st, 1972.

Present were: Mrs. Brissard, Jackson, Knudsiden, Kyplei and Laube, Reddick, Sears.

Representing towns and villages: Berke, K. Field, N. Schmidt, H. Wilkie.

Also present: M.S. Bruce, Superintendent of Schools, A. Ross, Secretary-Treasurer.

The meeting was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by the Chairman, Cr. Roddick.

Moved that the minutes of the regular meeting of October 10th, 1972, be accepted.

The minutes of the Bus Shop Committee meeting of October 4th, 1972 which had been called to deal with tenders for a bus and truck, were presented. It was noted that the Shop Committee had authorized the purchase of a half-ton truck from Orthodran Truck Lines Ltd. of Camrose, as his was the lowest bidder.

Moved that the minutes of the Bus Shop Committee be accepted and the actions in the purchase of the half-ton truck be concurred in.

The minutes of the Salary Negotiating Meeting of October 23rd, 1972 were discussed at this time. The School Committee were informed of the progress of negotiations and of the position that the Salary Committee is taking on the issues which had been presented by the Teachers' Negotiating Committee.

Moved that this report be accepted.

The Secretary-Treasurer has been requested to obtain prices for the gas pumps and tanks at the school bus garage. The prices quoted by Tercy Canada Limited were as follows: 6 pumps for $1,750; 6 - 2,000 gal tanks at $400.00 each and one 500 gal tank for $250 for a total of $2,475. It was noted that the 500 gallon tank quoted in this figure had already been purchased from Myers when we purchased his bus fleet at Viking. Also it was noted that the amount for the 2,000 gallon tanks at $400 each, as we can see is a new tank for $160.00. It was felt by the School Committee that this price was too high.

Moved that this matter be tabled to a later meeting to find out a reduced price for the tanks.

The matter of the supply of shower room cabinets and baskets was discussed. The meeting was advised that we have obtained tenders from the following: Dra Fab Products Limited $2,974.00; Shanahan's Limited $2,840.00, and Gormans Limited $3,962.00. A committee had been up to see these cabinets and felt that the cabinets by Dra Fab Products Limited were adequate so they had been ordered to be supplied and installed for $2,871.00.

Moved that the School Committee concur in the action of the Secretary-Treasurer in ordering the shower room cabinets from Dra Fab Products Limited.

A letter was received from the Viking High School Students' Union advising that they are pulling out a year book this year and would appreciate donations. It was noted that in previous years we have contributed $10 to the Students' Union publishing year books. Moved that we donate $10.00 to the Viking High School Students' Union for their year book.

The Secretary-Treasurer advised that the Department of Education is going to insist that all school jurisdictions go into Program Accounting and Budgeting in 1974 and that they would appreciate it if any jurisdiction who feels that they are capable of going into this system in 1973 do so. They are contributing a certain amount towards the cost of implementing this program. In our case it would be $3.00 per pupil over two years.

Moved that the report be received and that we implement Program Accounting and Budgeting in 1973.

In regard to grants from the Provincial Government for education in 1973 it was reported that the Education portions of the Foundation Program Grants would be increased by seven and a half per cent, and that the grant would be paid on the basis of all pupils in the school rather than on classroom units.

A request has been received from the Vegreville Health Unit to do a T.B. testing program with the School Bus Drivers in the County. Mr. Bruce had authorized this program.

Moved that the School Committee endorse the action of the Superintendent of Schools in authorizing the Health Unit to T.B. Test.

The Ryley and Tofield Students' Unions had requested permission to install fine clocks in the gymnasiums in these two schools. The financing was to be done by the students' unions, however, they requested that the School Committee do the installation and bear the expense. Mr. Bruce had written to both of these schools indicating that the School Committee would not probably undertake to finance any of the costs but might have Mr. Shihinski help in hanging these clocks. However, if the students' unions were short of funds for payments the School Committee might make a loan which would have to be repaid in full.

Moved that the School Committee concur in the recommendations of the Superintendent of Schools.

There is a shortage of lockers in the Viking and Tofield High School sections. As these students do not have home rooms they have to keep all of their books in their lockers. However, there are not enough lockers for each of the students. It was suggested that the lockers could be made up in our building maintenance shop during the winter and installed in the schools. These lockers would not have locks. They are simply to keep all of their books in their lockers.

A request from Tofield School for some type of bleachers on the mezzanine floor in the gymnasium was presented. Various types of bleachers were discussed by the School Committee.

Moved that this matter be tabled for further information.

The matter of disposal of our obsolete text books was discussed. There is a firm which will pay $9.00 per ton for old paper to be re-cycled. Previous to this year we have been destroying these old text books by burning them.

Moved that we turn over to the Students' Unions the matter of disposal of obsolete text books.

There was some discussion on the matter of the old school buildings presently not being used by the School Committee and that they possibly could be turned over to the Regional Recreation Board or use. The School Committee does not presume to be responsible for the payment of taxes, light and other utilities.

Moved that we turn over to the Regional Recreation Board the old school building used by the Tofield Students' Union.

by the School Committee to June 30th, 1973 at which time the policy would be re-examined.

The Chairman, Cr. Roddick, introduced the Municipal Inspector's Report at the time. Although it is required to be read to the County Council, the Chairman felt as this is a County operation it should also be read to the School Committee. The Municipal Inspector's Report was read at this time.

The Department of Advanced Education is trying to organize a pilot project on the community use of schools. They have requested that we give consideration to this project and if we feel it is worthwhile we will make application to participate in the pilot project. The program is to be financed by the Provincial Government, the School Committee and the Regional Recreation Board with the Provincial Government paying fifty per cent of the cost up to a maximum of $7,000 per year and that the School Committee and the Regional Recreation Board contribute twenty five per cent each of a further $7,000 per year for three years. After considerable discussion it was felt that this project would not benefit our system.

Moved that we do not participate in the pilot project on the community use of schools.

A request was received from Joseph Vreeling to use a program entitled "Man: A course of Study" in the grade seven Social Studies program.

Moved that the school Committee approve the use of this material on a trial basis and that a report be submitted as to its value after completion of the course.

As requested by the School Bus Shop Committee the matter of air equipment at the bus garages at this time was discussed. The Committee had recommended that we have someone appraise and make recommendations on the air requirements at our shop. We contacted Taylor, Pearson and Carson, and they had made recommendations. They estimated that we would require a 15 h.p. three phase, two stage pressure unit, mounted on a 120 gallon supply tank. We subsequently sent out requesting bids on the supply unit as recommended by Taylor, Pearson and Carson. The following tenders were submitted:

Fountain Tire Stores Limited $1,404.68 with trade.

Taylor Pearson and Carson $2,087.00, less trade-in allowance of $497.00.

The matter of the used underground storage tank which had been taken out of the Viking bus garage lot was discussed. Cr. Brissard mentioned that he had been contacted by the bus drivers at Bruce to supply them with a larger water tank for use in washing busses. It was suggested that this tank could be used for this purpose, but that it would have to be checked to see if it would be suitable and if it could be installed in the bus garage.

Moved that we use this used gas-line tank for water supply at the Bruce bus garage if it can be adapted to fit in the space.

A request had been received from Calgary Power Limited to run a power line across the school property. Being used in the construction of the new consolidated hall.

Moved that we have no objection to this installation provided that it does not interfere with the electrical systems in our school.

County School Committee briefs

Following are the minutes of the regular meeting of the County of Beaver No. 9 School Committee, held Tuesday, Nov. 21st, 1972.

Present were: Crs. Brisard, Johnston, Knudsiden, Kyplein, Laube, Reddick, Soars.

Representing towns and villages: Bertag, K. Field, N. Schmidt, H. Wilke.

Also present: M.S. Bruce, Superintendent of Schools, A. R. Cross, Secretary-Treasurer.

The meeting was called to order at 10.00 a.m. by the Chairman, Cr. Roddick.

Moved that the minutes of the regular meeting of October 10th, 1972, be accepted.

The minutes of the Bus Shop Committee meeting of October 19th, 1972 which had been called to deal with tenders for a bus body unit, were presented. It was noted that the Shop Committee had authorized the purchase of a half-ton truck from Offordan Truck Limited of Camrose, as he was the lowest bidder.

Moved that the minutes of the Bus Shop Committee be accepted and the actions in the purchase of the half-ton truck be concurred in.

The minutes of the Salary Negotiating Meeting of October 31st, 1972 were discussed at this time. The School Committee were informed of the course of negotiations and of the position that the Salary Committee is taking on the items which had been presented by the Teachers' Negotiation Committee.

Moved that this report be accepted.

The Secretary-Treasurer had been requested to obtain prices for the gas pumps and tanks at the school bus garages. The prices quoted by Tri-City Canada Limited were as follows: 6 pumps for $1,750; 6 – 1,000 gal. tanks at $480.00 each and one 500 gal. tank for $350 for a total of $2,171. It was noted however, that the 500 gallon tank quoted in this figure had already been purchased from Mr. Meyers when we purchased his bus fleet at Viking. Also mentioned was the amount for the 2,000 gallon tanks at $480.00 each; as we can now obtain a new tank for $467.00 as set by the School Committee that this price was too high. Moved that this matter be tabled to a later meeting in order to find out a reduced price on the tanks.

The matter of the supply of shower room cabinets and baskets was discussed. The meeting was advised that we have obtained tenders from the following: Dra Fab Products Limited $2,974.00; Shandra's Limited $2,840.00, and Gormans Limited $3,862.00. A committee had been up to see these cabinets and felt that the cabinets by Dra Fab Products Limited were adequate so they had been ordered to be supplied and installed for $2,974.00.

Moved that the School Committee concur in the action of the Secretary-Treasurer in ordering the shower room cabinets from Dra Fab Products Limited.

A letter was received from the Viking High School Students' Union advising that they are putting out a yearbook this year and would appreciate donations. It was noted that in previous years we have contributed $10 to the Students' Union publishing year books. Moved that we donate $10.00 to the Viking High School Students' Union for this year book.

The Secretary-Treasurer advised that the Department of Education is going to insist that all school jurisdictions go into Program Accounting and Budgeting in 1974 and that they would appreciate it if any jurisdiction who feels that they are capable of going into this system in 1973 do so. They are contributing a certain amount towards the cost of implementing this program. In our case it would be $3.00 per pupil over two years.

Moved that the report be received and that we implement Program Accounting and Budgeting in 1973.

In regard to grants from the Provincial Government for education in 1973 it was reported that the Instruction portion of the Foundation Program Grants would be increased by seven and a half per cent, and that the grant would be paid on the basis of all pupils in the school rather than on classroom units.

A request has been received from the Vegreville Health Unit to do a T.B. testing program with the School Bus Drivers in the County. Mr. Bruce had authorized this program.

Moved that the School Committee concur in the action of the Superintendent of Schools in authorizing the Health Unit to T.B. Test.

The Ryley and Tofield Students' Unions had requested permission to install time clocks in the gymnasiums in these two schools. The financing was to be done by the students' unions, however; they requested that the School Committee do the installation and bear the expense. Mr. Bruce had written both of these schools indicating that the School Committee would not probably undertake to finance any of the costs but might have Mr. Shibinski help in hanging these clocks. However, if the students' unions were short of funds for payments the School Committee might make a loan which would have to be repaid in full.

Moved that the School Committee accept the recommendations of the Superintendent of Schools.

There is a shortage of lockers in the Viking and Tofield High School sections. As these students do not have home rooms they have to keep all of their books in their lockers. However, there are not enough lockers for each of the students. It was suggested that the lockers could be made up in our building maintenance shop during the winter and installed in the schools. These lockers would not have locks. They are capable of going into this system in 1973 do so. They are contributing a certain amount towards the cost of implementing this program. In our case it would be $3.00 per pupil over two years.

A request from Tofield School for some type of bleachers on the mezzanine floor in the gymnasium was presented. Various types of bleachers were discussed by the School Committee.

Moved that this matter be tabled for further information.

The matter of disposal of our obsolete text books was discussed. There is a firm which will pay $9.00 per ton for old paper to be re-cycled. Previous to this year we have been destroying these old text books by burning them.

Moved that we turn over to the Students' Unions the matter of disposal of obsolete text books.

There was some discussion on the matter of the old school buildings presently not being used by the School Committee and that they possibly could be turned over to the Regional Recreation Board or use. The School Committee would continue to be responsible for the payment of water, light and other utilities.

Moved that we turn over to the Regional Recreation Board the old schools not being used.

by the School Committee to June 30th, 1973 at which time the policy would be re-examined.

The Chairman, Cr. Roddick, introduced the Municipal Inspector's Report as at this time. Although it is required to be read to the County Council, the Chairman felt as this is a County operation it should also be read to the School Committee. The Municipal Inspector's Report was read at this time.

The Department of Advanced Education is trying to organize a pilot project on the community use of schools. They have requested that we give consideration to this project and if we feel it is worthwhile we will make application to participate in the pilot project. The program is to be financed by the Provincial Government, the School Committee and the Regional Recreation Board with the Provincial Government paying fifty per cent of the cost up to a maximum of $20,000 per year and that the School Committee and the Regional Recreation Board contribute twenty five per cent each of a further $7,000 per year for three years. After considerable discussion it was felt that this project would not benefit our system.

Moved that we do not participate in the pilot project on the community use of schools.

A request was received from Joseph Veregin to use a program entitled "Man: A course of Study" in the grade seven Social Studies program.

Moved that the school Committee approve the use of this material on a trial basis and that a report be submitted as to its value after completion of the course.

As requested by the School Bus Shop Committee the matter of all equipment at the bus garages was discussed. This Committee had recommended that we have someone appraise soil make recommendations on the equipments at our shop. We contacted Taylor, Pearson and Carson, and they had made recommendations. They estimated that we would require a 15 h.p. three phase, two stage pressure unit, mounted on a 120 gallon supply tank.

We subsequently sent out requesting bids on the supply unit as recommended by Taylor, Pearson and Carson. The following tenders were submitted:

Fountain Tire Stores Limited $1,404.68 with trade.

Taylor Pearson and Carson $2,007.00, less trade-in allowance of $197.00.

Couts Machinery Co. Limited $3,250.00 plus freight.

Kamack Industrial Sales Limited $2,398.00, $2,148.00 with trade.

Auto Line Supply Limited $1,805.00 without trade, $1,375.00 with trade.

Acklands Limited $2,154.00 without trade, $1,799.95 with trade.

Grosser Parts Limited $3,115.00 with trade.

$2,700.00 with trade.

Moved that we accept the tender from Fountain Tire Stores Limited for an air compressor and pump for $1,404.68 with trade.

The matter of the used underground storage tank which had been taken out of the Viking bus garage lot was discussed. Cr. Brisard mentioned that he had been contacted by the bus drivers at Bruce to supply them with a larger water tank for use in washing busses. It was suggested that this tank could be used for this purpose, but that it would have to be checked to see if it would be suitable and if it could be installed in the bus garage.

Moved that we use this used gasoline tank for water supply at the Bruce bus garage if it can be adapted to fit in the garage.

A request had been received from Calgary Power Limited to run a power line across the school grounds at Viking to be used in the construction of the new community hall.

Moved that we have no objection to this installation provided said power line does not interfere with the electrical systems in our school.

Kingman road group sees highways minister

Supporting the Camrose, Kingman, Tofield Roadway Association, six representatives of the group met with Highways Minister Clarence Copithorne last Thursday and reported afterwards that they had had a good reception. However, they came away thoroughly aware of the fact they can expect no action on the road this year, or probably next year either.

Included in the group were Invald Ness, chairman of the Camrose, Kingman, Tofield Road Association, Fred Coykendall, secretary, Camrose Mayor Rudy Swanson, Vern Roeder as chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Transportation Committee and Gordon Stromberg and Dr. Walter Buck, both MLA's from constituencies the road runs through.

Following the meeting, the committee said Mr. Copithorne is keenly aware of the state of the road and the work which needs to be done, but pointed out there are many more areas in the province in the same situation. He is aware of the need for improvements and what it will mean for the community and agreed that something must be done to improve the road. However, he could give no committment except that he could do nothing for some time.

In the meantime said committee secretary Fred Coykendall, there is little the roadway association can do [illegible]. However, they would not let the matter drop, he reported.

[illegible] with a difficult situation County Councillor Vern [illegible] nonetheless [illegible] with the road on a grading and maintenance level [illegible] of course [illegible] can be done while the frost [illegible] the ground.

The County of Beaver No. 9 will not be involved in the supervision and co-ordination of an air-spray program for armyworm control in 1973. As most farmers in the area have had two seasons experience in control techniques, this insect's presence is no longer considered an emergency situation.

However, the County is prepared to have lannate and/or any other insecticide recommended for armyworm control available to farmers at cost price, on a cash basis.

The District Agriculturist and the Agricultural Fieldman will be available in an advisory capacity, eg. identifying insects, recommending types and rates of chemical and giving general information relating to the program.

Also available from the D.A.'s or Fieldman's office will be an up-to-date list of licensed air-spray operators.

her own selection. As she received orders, she was to deduct a $1 commission and send the balance to the promoter along with the order to be filled. Here's how she fared:

Expenses:

Booklet received in response to ad $1
250 printed postal cards 5 stamps to mail postal cards 10
TOTAL INVESTED $16

Income

Commission on the two orders received $2
NET LOSS $14

Meanwhile, the promoter took in $7.96, for which he provided materials that could have been purchased through normal outlets for no more than $3. Result: He made a profit of $4.96. In one fraud case of this type, it was shown that the average amount earned by home workers was 15 cents a week.

Fraudulent work-at-home schemes may be advertised under "Help Wanted," "Business Opportunities" and other headings in classified advertising sections of newspapers and magazines, on matchbook covers, in phone solicitations or pieces, possibly even on radio or sophisticated direct mail and TV. No matter how professional the scheme sounds, beware of any work-at-home offer that involves any of these elements:

— You are required to send money — for any reason, whether to "work out curiosity seekers," to "show good faith," or for "plans," "instructions" "material" or "equipment."

— You are promised huge profits, enormous earnings, "big money."

— —You are told that no experience is necessary.

— The ad claims there is a great demand for your home work, guarantees a market or seems to agree to buy something back from you.

Don't be thrown off guard by warnings in an ad about other "questionable" work-at-home promoters often use this device to make their own schemes sound legitimate.

The surest way to avoid getting gypped by a fraudulent work-at-home scheme is to disregard all work-at-home advertisements. Certainly avoid those that require you to pay to participate — legitimate employers pay you to work.

In any case, before getting involved in any operation, check it out carefully. That may not be easy, since a swindler will tell you anything he thinks you want to hear in order to get you into his net. But see whether you can find out if you will be a salaried employee of the firm. If not, what will be the source of your earnings? If the work is to involve selling some thing, what do you know about the quality of the goods or services you'll be selling? What about the market for them? Is the price you'd be asking really reasonable?

Check with postal inspectors, a Better Business Bureau, your state labor department and other consumer protection agencies about the legitimacy of the operation and about local, state or federal regulations affecting it.

If you do get gypped, save all correspondence and a copy of the ad or promotion piece to which you responded and turn it over to your local postmaster for possible investigation by inspectors. To stop a dishonest scheme, they must prove you and others were misled as a result of claims the seller made in an intentional effort to defraud.

Also, complain to the publisher or manager of any newspaper, magazine or other advertising medium that carried an advertisement for the scheme in which you were cheated. Tell the Better Business Bureau and other consum

MINERAL WATERS, NEW HEALTH STANDARDS

National Health and Welfare Minister, Marc Lalonde, has announced new standards being developed will require that mineral waters be free from harmful coliform bacteria and be obtained entirely from a natural underground source.

Manufacturers will be required to show on the label the fluoride content in terms of parts per million as well as the total dissolved mineral salt content in parts per million

Analyses of fluoride levels in mineral waters conducted recently by the Health Protection Branch have shown that products on the Canadian market contain from less than 0.1 to more than 9 parts per million of fluoride. It is to remember, the Minister said, "that there is no evidence that fluoride levels in mineral waters represent an immediate hazard to the health of Canadians."

These products have been used in moderate amounts for many centuries without apparent ill effects. Furthermore available evidence in the scientific literature on the safety of mineral waters does not permit establishing a maximum safe level of fluoride or other minerals at this time, he said — or protection agencies about your experience so they can investigate and at least help others avoid the same experience.

If you want to start a home business, you can get booklets, information and advice from Small Business Administration offices. Also check at your public library for books on the subject.

The chances that firms in your community have legitimate at-home employment to offer are remote. But you can ask them. When such work is available, it usually is not advertised. Rather, the word is passed around by the firm's regular employes or in response to inquiries. Occasionally, national firms like those that monitor TV shows, for instance, will utilize people at home in their research. But these firms don't advertise for such help, and they don't charge their helpers anything. They pay them. At that, the pay is token.

You'll find that most successful and legitimate home work enterprises are based on common sense principles and usually involve making something or providing a service that is in demand and selling it at a reasonable price. For instance, some women earn money by typing writers' and students' manuscripts at home. But it's up to the typists to advertise their services and prices. If it's good work, requiring skill and experience, and the demand is limited. To succeed, they have to provide efficient, quality work at reasonable rates. There just are no short cuts or effortless ways to make money at home legitimately.

DID YOU KNOW?

Did you know that it costs Alberta farmers in the neighborhood of $4,500,000 annually to transport dockage to terminal elevators and to have this dockage removed from their cereals and oilseeds before they are exported.

According to the Alberta department of agriculture's weed control specialist Stan Powers, farmers in this province shipped 233,000,000 bushels of cereal grains and 2,500,000 bushels of oilseeds to coastal terminals during the 1972-73 crop year. He reports that the dockage in the cereal grains averaged 2.5 per cent and 13 per cent in the oilseeds.

This means that Alberta farmers shipped 5,300,000 bushels or 126,000 tonnes of weed seed with their cereals and 3,000,000 bushels or 72,000 tons with their oilseeds. To haul this volume of dockage would require 5,400 freight cars.

Shipping costs for the 198,000 tons of dockage amounted to $600,000, while the cost of removing it before the cereals and oilseeds were exported amounted to $1,500,000. Apart from these costs, farmers who shipped cereal grains and oilseeds with a high percentage grade losses.

The average annual dockage from cereal grains and oilseeds shipped from the three prairie provinces to terminal elevators at Thunder Bay and the West Coast during the last five years amounted to 487,000 tons. The annual cost is around $2,000,000. To move this volume of dockage alone would require a total of 12,000 freight cars or 33 cars a day for every day of the year.

Turner scores

Finance minister John Turner has scored a second major victory in his new portfolio, with the introduction of his new budget Monday night. Not only does he appear to have saved the Liberal bacon from the onslaught of both the NDP's and the Conservatives, but he also has tremendously enhanced his own opportunity to become leader of the Liberal party on the next time around.

It has been suggested in many quarters that Prime Minister Trudeau was strategically setting the stage to discredit the only apparent threat to his leadership role by assigning Mr. Turner to the finance post, because this position has traditionally killed the hopes of many highly capable men, not all of them aspirant for promotion.

Mr. Turner is far from over the hump, of course, because he has to continue with this giant-killing portfolio until either the next election, the next Cabinet shuffle, or the next leadership convention, whichever comes first. And it's obvious that any time he makes a mistake of major proportions he'll be fair game, both for the Opposition parties, and for his own leader.

But so far, at any rate, he has managed to win two battles, with budgets that have gone far to make him popular with just about everyone.

Insofar as the budget generally is concerned, first appearances indicate that most Canadians will have some reason to be relatively happy over the most recent changes. For one thing, three quarters of a million Canadians will be dropped from the tax rolls . . . unless their income has risen so much during the year that they will go back on immediately.

For another thing, federal excise taxes on a wide range of foods, and so-called luxury items such as cosmetics and low priced watches and clocks will come off, which should result in a price reduction, but at least probably means no increase in prices where an increase might have been coming.

From a pure dollar point, the increase in the old age pension doesn't look like much, and has received a good deal of criticism, but from a percentage view, it's a fairly substantial increase, amounting to nearly 21 percent, and on the national level it will mean a figure of some proportion. Besides, the goodies had to be spread as widely as possible to keep all the taxpayers happy.

Albertans, along with taxpayers in Ontario and British Columbia, face a rather sombre note, as they may have to pay higher provincial taxes because of Mr. Turner's program of sharing more with the "have not" provinces, and this isn't likely to cause great jubilation here. However, there is always the bright side to look on . . . if we didn't have more income than some of the others, we wouldn't have to pay higher taxes. Probably it's a small price to pay for a generally better economy.

One feature that's bound to score with farm voters is the removal of capital gains tax from the family farm when it passes from father to son or daughter. This has been a sore point with farmers, who usually find they are "well-to-do" only when the farm becomes an estate, and is deemed to have been sold at market prices. Because there's little ready cash in the farm operation, the family have not been able to pay the capital gains tax, forcing sale of the farm, and driving still one more family off the farm, into towns, and oftentimes onto welfare rolls.

The principle will be warmly endorsed by those in farm areas. Now, the next step will be to apply the same type of thinking to the small family business passing from one generation to another, so as to avoid it being gobbled up by the large corporations. The family farm can easily involve a capital worth of up to a quarter of a million dollars . . . why not place the small family business on the same level, since it is the huge number of small independent business firms that really constitute the backbone of this country. The big corporations are obviously needed to put some flesh on the bones, but the real framework is provided by the small independents.

As I See It...

Walt Buck, M.L.A.
Clover Bar

The Opening of the Alberta Legislature for the Spring Session commenced on Thursday, February 15th.

The traditional Speech from the Throne was rather short this year. Instead of indicating to the people of the province new directions it appeared to be more a review of last year's programs.

The increase of the home owner's discount grant I support. However, the loss of local autonomy and the budget consideration I shall deal with later in the Session.

An area of serious concern is the limit placed on local school boards in their school building plans. In this constituency, the rapid population growth places the school boards in a very unfavorable position.

A new parks policy mentioned the establishment of more parks. I heartedly endorse this. Miquelon Lake is greatly crowded, so any improvement will be appreciated. Cooking Lake did not fit in the government's plans. This is really a tragedy as this recreational area is practically non-existent. The Edmonton M.L.A.'s have not supported my plea to try and save Cooking Lake.

The intent of my column is to indicate concerns of my constituents, alternatives to government programs, and provide a contact between the people and their M.L.A.

I welcome your suggestions, questions and areas of concern. All questions, problems and areas of concern should be sent to Box 1030, Fort Saskatchewan or may be telephoned to 543-3376 or 543-2168.

To Attribute or not to...

OTTAWA — One of the continuing battles at the Parliament buildings — particularly since Pierre Elliott Trudeau became Prime Minister in 1968 — has been waged between the PMO — Prime minister's office, to the uninitiated — and the members of the press gallery.

It's a battle over attribution. When should a newsman accept a briefing from a senior official for background purposes only, when should he sit in on the same type of session with an official and attribute his information to "highly placed sources," and when should he come right out and quote the man who is speaking?

When Marc Lalonde was Trudeau's principle secretary, he held many of those "for background only" briefings. The "government sources" you saw quoted in those days was likely Marc Lalonde.

Now it's Martin O'Connell, the former labor minister, who is filling Marc Lalonde's old slot in the PMO.

The theory behind accepting information not for attribution is that civil servants should be protected, because they are not empowered to dispense government policy. But government these days has become so intertwined with civil servants, semi-civil servants who are part political advisors and political advisors who are a tiny bit civil service, that it's hard to draw the line.

At one press conference early this year George Bain of the Globe and Mail raised the question with Martin O'Connell and said if the briefing wasn't for attribution to O'Connell personally, then he, Bain, would walk out. It wasn't, and he did.

The problem appears to come when one tries to draw the line between backroom politician and civil servant. To me, there's an easy yardstick. Ask yourself if the man in question would lose his job if the government changed.

If the answer is yes, then the man in question is political, and he should be quoted. In the Bain case mentioned earlier, the collective press gallery should, in my opinion, have risen, and walked out with George. We didn't — and I include myself — because we were trapped by the necessity of explanations for some of the complex policies which had been announced. The fact that we were getting a political briefing as well as a factual one, should have been passed on to our readers by giving the name of the man who was speaking — Martin O'Connell.

Hopefully the situation is going to be cleared up. George is one of those who will be exploring the whole question with the PMO.

Equity starts at home

The Consumers Association of Canada offered two important suggestions to the Canadian Transport Commission last week, both dealing with air fares in Canada. The first move was to protest a recent regulation prohibiting foreign lines from charging lower fares for overseas flights originating here than domestic carriers charge. "This means the total elimination of competition . . . resulting in unnecessarily high fares to travellers using advance booking," said CAC.

Even more telling is its complaint over the high cost of domestic air services compared to fares for overseas charter flights. Because domestic flight costs are so high, warns CAC, Canadians will use their holiday dollars for flights to foreign countries, even while the government spends tax dollars in a futile attempt to encourage them to see Canada first.

Of course they will, partly because its exotic, partly because the weather is better, and partly because it's so much cheaper. But it's patent nonsense to fly shorter distances in Canada and have to pay higher rates, just as it's silly to have to pay more for an eight or a ten day trip than a three week or longer trip.

Suggestions Are Needed
Mundare, Alberta

The Editor,

We are wondering whether any of your readers could help us resolve a problem that we can't overcome through regular channels.

Our children Wesley, Blaine and Nicolyn aged ten, eight and seven are forced to board a school bus at 7:30 in the morning and ride in in about forty miles before they get to school. At her age Nicolyn finds it very tiring and often gets motion sickness.

We have made several representations to our County Board and School Committee to reroute the bus in such a way that our children could board the bus at about 8:35 and arrive at school after a five and a half mile ride.

This would mean that the school bus would have to travel about one additional mile at a cost to the county of about twenty five cents.

Our appeals to the County of Lamont, the county school committee, as well as Mr. John Batiuk, who is our county councilor and M.L.A., have repeatedly fallen on deaf ears.

Any suggestions that your readers may have that would help us would be greatly appreaciated.

Sincerely,
Lawrence and Helen Polny

The ten pillars of economic wisdom

1. Nothing in our material world can come from nowhere or go nowhere, nor can it be free: everything in our economic life has a source, a destination and a cost that must be paid.

2. Government is never a source of goods. Everything produced is produced by the people, and everything that government gives to the people, it must first take from the people.

3. The only valuable money that government has to spend is that money taxed or borrowed out of the people's earnings. When government decides to spend more than it has thus received, that extra unearned money is created out of thin air, through the banks, and, when spent, takes on value only by reducing the value of all money, savings and insurance.

4. In our modern exchange economy, all payroll and employment come from customers, and the only worthwhile job security is customer security; if there are no customers, there can be no payroll and no jobs.

5. Customer security can be achieved by the worker only when he co-operates with management in doing the things that win and hold customers. Job security, therefore, is a partnership problem that can be solved only in a spirit of understanding and co-operation.

6. Because wages are the principal cost of everything, widespread wage increases, without corresponding increases in production, simply increase the cost of everybody's living.

. The greatest good for the greatest number means, in its material sense, the greatest goods for the greatest number which, in turn, means the greatest productivity per worker.

8. All productivity is based on three factors: 1- natural resources, whose form, place and condition are changed by the expenditure of 2 human energy (both muscular and mental), with the aid of 2 tools.

. Tools are the only one of these three factors that man can increase without limit, and tools come into being in a free society only when there is a reward for the temporary self-denial that people must practice in order to channel part of their earnings away from purchases that produce immediate comfort and pleasure, and into new tools of production. Proper payment for the use of tools is essential to their creation.

10. The productivity of the tools - that is, the efficiency of the human energy applied in connection with their use - has always been highest in a competitive society in which economic decisions are made by millions of progress-seeking individuals, rather than in a state-planned society in which those decisions are made by a handful of all-powerful people, regardless of how well-meaning, unselfish, sincere and intelligent those people may be.

President Wm. Fowler stressed the importance of a good attendance at the Annual Convention of the Travel Industry Association of Alberta, to be held at the Banff Springs Hotel March 1, 12 and 13. It was decided that the expenses and registration fee of representatives from the various points in the zone would be covered by the Association for this year. This would be a fine opportunity to stay at the Banff Springs Hotel, and to become more familiar with the work being done by TIALTA.

Most of the evening was devoted to discussion of the terms of reference to be set up regarding the new system of grants for programs in connection with tourism development which were to be channelled through the Association. General agreement was established on a number of points after considerable discussion. However, it was finally decided that the matter be tabled until the next meeting lest some new ideas might develop.

The importance of the tourist industry was emphasized when the meeting was told that in 1971 tourists in Alberta spent $241,435,000 in the province and that 34 per cent of this came from the United States.

A meeting of the executive committee was called for Friday night, February 23rd, at Camrose where tenders would be opened in connection with the information booths.

It was decided at the meeting that insurance coverage should be increased on the office equipment and stock-in-trade of the Association.

Mrs. Edna Palmer of Killam reported on membership, informing the meeting that non-members were being contacted. Leon D'Albertanson informed the meeting that details of proposed radio programs would be available for the next meeting.

Dennis Pedersen of Wetaskiwin informed the meeting that printing plants would be asked to give quotations on the revised general brochure, soon to be published, and that the deadline for information would arrive very soon.

The next full scale meeting will be held at the Board Room of the Camrose Booster, Friday, March 23rd at 8:00 P.M.

Leon D'Albertanson,
Publicity Chairman.

Tofield ATA plans meeting

by Mollie Conn

Tofield Sub-local ATA met on Tuesday. He announced that a general meeting is to be held at Holden School on February 26th, commencing at 7:30 p.m.

A novel idea for an election campaign speech in the form of a tape recording was then played to the members. Mrs. J. Dunegan, candidate for the vice-presidency of the Alberta Teachers' Association, presented her views on the problems and aims of the provincial organization.

The treasurer's report presented by Mrs. Gail Foshaug was adopted and plans were then finalized for Education Week. On Thursday, March 8th, Mr. Harrison of the ATA is to be guest speaker on the Worth Report at Tofield School. The meeting is to start at 8 p.m. and be followed by a question period open to the public. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance of parents and friends of the school at this meeting.

OORP MEETS

Holden Lodge OORP held their monthly meeting Tuesday evening, Feb. 13th, with HRL Hurum in the chair. Regular business was attended to and committee reports received. Lady Millie Corlins gave a report of the Lodge birthday party, held Friday evening, Jan. 19th, which all attending enjoyed. HRL Hurum reported on the Chamber of Commerce supper on February 6. Lady Christine MacKay reported that her committee had met with the new members for instruction in Lodge work. In the absence of our pianist, Lady Blanchel Oson, District Deputy L. Vivian Gares very graciously acted as pianist for the meeting. The Viking ladies brought the travelling gavel. A committee was appointed to look after the Chamber of Commerce supper in March and as the Lodge had been requested to cater to the supper for the staff and members of the Search for Talent show which is sponsored by the Holden BPO Elks Lodge and will be in Holden Saturday, March 17th, a committee was appointed.

The members had received an invitation to visit with Kinsella Lodge at their meeting, Tuesday evening, Feb. 27th, and it was decided that, weather permitting, members would attend this and we are to take the travelling gavel to Kinsella Lodge. The ladies of Viking Lodge then presented the travelling gavel, each lady holding a Valentine Heart and repeating an appropriate verse for each month of the year pertaining to activities of the OORP. HRL MacLaren of Viking Lodge then presented the gavel to HRL Hurum with appropriate words. HRL Hurum thanked Lady Gares for her kindness in acting as pianist for the meeting. The meeting closed and all enjoyed a delicious lunch and a social hour before the ladies left on their trip home.

Lunch hostesses were Lady Christine MacKay and HRL Kathleen Hurum.

Government will fund predator control

Funds recently made available by the provincial government will be used to hire, train and locate predator control specialists in key regions of the province. Areas to be covered include the southwestern, west central and the Dale Alsager, zoologist and pest control specialist with the provincial Department of Agriculture.

The concept of predator control specialists was developed in co-operation with Fish and Wildlife Division officials, says Mr. Alsager. Predator specialists will work under the supervision of agriculture service boards requesting their assistance.

A survey, conducted by the Provincial Department of Agriculture to determine the extent and nature of sheep losses by predators showed that approximately $214,000 worth of sheep and lambs were lost to coyotes last year. The survey showed that coyotes accounted for 85 percent of all predator losses with losses from dogs next, accounting for 11 percent of sheep losses.

Rapeseed oil clicks on $3 million order

Toronto, Jan. 25 - - Canada's first major export sale of crude rapeseed oil was announced today by Agra Industries Limited.

Van Miller, vice-president in charge of Agra's Foods Group, said the Canadian-owned company has sold two orders - - each for 5,500 metric tons - - of the oil to Chile.

The orders, each representing a shipload, are for a total of more than $3,000,000.

The sales are for cash, and were negotiated in terms of Canadian dollars rather than United States currency, the usual medium in such offshore transactions.

Mr. Miller said the orders were negotiated directly by Agra's own marketnig personnel who went to Chile to seek them.

He added that the transactions represent a breakthrough in that they have put Canada into the world vegetable oil market on a large scale. Most major sales in the past have been of unprocessed rapeseed. The sales to Chile represent a great deal of Canadian labor content - - including forming, processing and transportation.

As a result of the sale to Chile, Mr. Miller said, Agra will be able to maintain full employment at its Nipawin, Sask. plant.

"The facilities can be operated at full capacity only when export as well as domestic business is available. Agra is also now proceeding with erection of tank facilities at Canadian ports to handle future anticipated shipments."

Agra expects the direct Chilean sale to open up new markets for Canadian rapeseed oil not only in other parts of South America, but also in Pacific Rim countries and India.

The search for new overseas markets by Agra was inspired in part by concern about entry into the European Econmoic Community of the United Kingdom, a traditional market for the company's crude rapeseed oil, but in much smaller quantities than were involved in the sales to Chile.

"We have learned from the results of our efforts in Chile that markets can be found for crushed Cnaadian rapeseed when our own people go out and do the selling," Mr. Miller said.

"Traditionally, Chile has invited tenders for 5,500 - ton blocks of crude oil. Canada has been unable to compete for these orders for several reasons, including insufficient crushing capacity, lack of tank facilities at export terminals, lack of an integrated rails shipping distribution system and lack of strong individual salesmanship.

Agra sales representatives learned in Chile that Canadian rapeseed was held in high regard by Chilean officials - - they had previously bought oil crushed in other countries from Canadian rapeseed.

Rapeseed, a hardy crop, is grown in all three prairie provinces. It is crushed to obtain edible oil which, when refined, produces base stocks for use in a variety of products such as salad oils, cooking oils, shortening and margarine.

A by-product of the crushing is a high protein meal which is sold as a feed supplement for livestock and poultry.

In recent years Canada has developed a new variety of rapeseed, Canbra, which has an extremely low erucic acid content.

Almost all rapeseed grown in Canada is now of low erucic acid varieties.

Mr. Miller said that the sales to Chile bode well for the more than 50,000 western Canadian farmers who grow rapeseed as an increasingly-important alternative to the traditional grain crops.

Tofield Mennonites host annual meeting

Tofield Mennonite Brethern Church was the scene of much activity late last week as members of the congregation hosted the annual meeting of Mennonite Central Committee (MCC) Alberta, on February 16th and 17th.

Delegates and or visitors from congregations throughout Alberta met to hear reports, as well as set policies or give guidines to various functions carried on by the organization.

MCC, whose origin dates back some 50 years, was begun when news of famine and hardship reached Canada and the United States from fellow members living in Russia whose forefathers immigrated there to escape persecution which resulted from the reformation in Europe.

From this beginning of sending food and clothing to relieve the hardships of that time, MCC has grown into an organization which circles the globe where over 800 persons are serving in over 36 countries. Whether cleaning mud out of basements in disaster areas such as Rapid City, South Dakota, giving aid in devastated Managua, Nicaragua, delivering supplies to needy in Bihar, India, teaching school in Nigeria, nursing in Vietnam, or helping agricultural development in Bolivia, Zaire, or Bangladesh the goal of personnel is the same, to serve "In the name of Christ", which is the motto of MCC and all food and cloth ing for distribution bear a crest inscribed with these words.

MCC (Alberta) as well as any other province where other members live, is part of the larger MCC (Canada), and the still larger MCC of Canada and the United States. MCC (Canada) whose budget in 1972 was 1.7 million dollars stands ready to help in time of need, and at the present time is waiting for clearance to enter North Vietnam, thus endeavoring to follow the words of Jesus to His followers in Matthew 25, "As ye have done it unto one of these ye did it unto me".

MCC (Alberta) annual meetings are hosted by various congregations in Alberta according to geographical location, and it will be three or four years until a similar meeting gathers again in this area.

Dennis Lawson to head Light Horse Association

The annual meeting of the Beaverhills Light Horse Association was called to order on February 19th in the curling rink with President Homer Schmidt in the chair.

The minutes of the last annual meeting and the financial report were read and adopted as given.

A lively discussion was held in regards to the annual trophies the club has awarded the last two years. It was decided that, this year the club would give out ribbons at each regular gymkhana and hold one trophy day with prizes for each event. The large trophy will be awarded to the high-point winner for that day.

Trail rides were the next item on the agenda and the club hoped it would be possible to hold more trail rides this year. The first trail ride will be held on May 20th. The first gymkhana will depend on the weather but will be held as soon as possible.

Members also expressed a desire to participate in July 1st celebrations, as in previous years.

The club made plans to purchase film for movies and slides for July 1st and Barry Price and George Brewster kindly volunteered as photographers for the day.

Election of officers then took place with the following slate of officers going in:

Pres., Dennis Lawson; vice-pres., Homer Schmidt; secretreas., Shirley Gill; official time keeper, Helen Gray; new board members, Allan Gill, Dennis Patrick, Penny Price.

The meeting concluded with a most enjoyable presentation of slides by George Brewster. The club would like to take this opportunity to extend a warm welcome to any and all new members. Membership cards may be obtained by contacting the secretary, Shirley Gill.

Thief misses the warranty

Someone made off with an excellent Skilsaw from Revelstoke Lumber in Holden some time last Thursday.

The saw was worth over one hundred dollars.

Revelstoke Manager Milt Mallek said yesterday that the thief missed taking the warranty out, if he wishes, he may come back and get it as the saw is a quality one and is fully covered by the warranty.

The Olympic Flim-Flam

By PETER WARD

OTTAWA — It's been several weeks since it happened, but I'm still smarting over the great Montreal Olympics con job.

No siree, we were promised, it won't cost the federal taxpayers a nickel. Well, try close to $400 million, and you won't be far off.

Like other colleagues, I'd like to go on record as not aiming this criticism at either the Olympics, or at the city of Montreal. But it is aimed at Mayor Jean Drapeau, and at the Trudeau cabinet, for putting over what I consider to be a flim-flam.

We all heard about the souvenir Olympic coins, and we all heard about the stamps. Well, I took for granted, as did a lot of other people I know around here, that any profit the Olympics and Jean Drapeau made from these would be simply the difference between the face value of the coins and the stamps, and the price collectors would be willing to pay for them. On that basis, Drapeau's estimate of $250 million revenue from coins and $10 million from stamps was, to say the least, optimistic.

But that's not the way it's going to work. Prime Minister Trudeau told us it costs about 40 per cent of the face value of a coin to make it at the mint. That's the price the Olympic committee will pay for the coins. Drapeau has got a gold-plated guarantee of making at least $250 million from the coins, because he'll be receiving $420 million in coins from Ottawa for the fire-sale price of $170 million — the cost of the metal in the coins.

The Olympic committee can then sell them at a premium to collectors, perhaps even improving on the 60 per cent guaranteed profit. But there's really nothing to stop the Olympic committee from simply backing up truck-loads of coin to the door of your friendly drive-in bank and saying: "Please deposit these to my account."

If all $420 million worth of Olympic coins are bought by collectors, and kept out of circulation, nobody loses anything. But if they get into usage — as it seems likely many will — it could significantly add to the country's run-away inflation problem. If those coins are spent at their face value — and that will be possible — then there will indeed have been a federal contribution to the Olympics up to $420 million worth. Then there's also the matter of the stamps. The same scenario applies there — except it will likely only cost about $30,000 to print $10 million worth.

Shaky as are the finances of the federal post office, can it afford to hand out $10 million in stamps? Only if they are never used as postage but kept by collectors. You judge the likelihood of that.

Unexpected opening

The tragic death of Telephones Minister Len Werry has robbed the government, and the province of one of our very capable men, and there is no time when we can afford to lose capable people. Mr. Werry was one of the brighter lights in the cabinet, though he managed always to gently shade the light so it would not be so easily seen or recognized.

Despite disarming casualness and genial friendliness, or because of them, he managed to do a remarkably effective job of running his department, including arranging a settlement of a tricky negotiation situation with the City of Edmonton Telephone System, which had reached the level of almost open hostility before his taking office.

His death poses a number of interesting questions insofar as a successor to him is concerned, and the air will be full of speculation over the probable courses that may follow.

For instance, there is now the distinct possibility that newly elected Social Credit leader Werner Schmidt may choose to contest the seat when the by-election is called, and indeed, he may well be forced to do so by the electorate and his own followers, although we have felt he would prefer an opening further south. The voters may well feel the leader of the Socreds might be a better choice to back than a new P.C. candidate who could not logically look for more than a back bench for some time to come.

On the other hand, there's always a chance the voters could turn from both the Social Crediters, as being over the hill, and the Conservatives, as being two roughshod in their methods, and turn to another supporter for Grant Notley and the NDP.

And of course, there are many, many more, possibilties. The one thing we would bet on is that Premier Lougheed won't be in a hurry to call a by-election to fill the seat. Not, at least, until this session of the House is over, and there will be time for members now elected to help back up the new candidate.

All eyes on Land Use Bill

Albertans will be watching very carefully for Premier Lougheed's promised Land Use Bill, following his complete dismissal of the farmers' march on the legislature last Saturday in protest over the removal of the Communal Properties Act.

Mr. Lougheed promised the farmers that the new Act would be a fair Act, in that it would apply to all, and not directed at a specific group. There may be much to be thankful for in the new legislation, or there may be a great deal to be highly wary of. That remains to be seen.

There are few who would argue that the old Communal Properties Act wasn't discriminatory, but there are many who would argue that there was a real need for it, and a real job for it. And in legislation as in anything else, most people want to see what the replacement will be before they abandon the old and champion the new. So far nobody has seen the new.

Democracy is usually a group of compromises to obtain the greatest good for the greatest number, and it can hardly be explained that the greatest good lies in the continuance of privileges accorded to a small group which enables them to gradually erode the lifestyle and the culture of the larger groups which extended the privilege and the protection in the first place.

This is where the Communal Properties Act sought to fit in. Unfair though it may have been to some minorities, it was an attempt to protect the rights of the majority.

Rat poison helps check cancer growth

The drug warfarin, best known as a rat poison, is proving remarkably effective in controlling the spread of cancer tumors, Irish researchers report.

The first controlled trial using the drug in cancer therapy more than doubled the survival rate after two years of treatment to patients suffering from a variety of recurrent tumors.

Dr. R. Douglas Thornes, professor of experimental medicine at the Royal College of Surgeons in Dublin, said today he is working on a much bigger trial which would concentrate on a specific type of tumor.

The first test, reported in the Journal of the Irish Colleges of Physicians and Surgeons, involved 128 patients with confirmed recurrent cancers. Age and sex were not taken into account for the purpose of the trial.

All the patients continued their normal drug therapy, but half were also given sodium warfarin. Dosage varied according to tolerance determined by blood tests.

At the end of two years, 26 of the patients given warfarin were still alive, compared with 11 of those in the control group not given the drug.

Survivors included patients with lymphosarcoma, breast cancer, chronic leukemia and multiple myeloma. But none of the patients with cancer of the colon, stomach, lung, testes, pancreas or pharynx lived out the two years.

Warfarin is an anti-coagulant. In rats, which are particularly sensitive to it, it swiftly breaks down the blood-cell system and they die from internal hemorrhage. The human dosage is less than 100th of the rat dose.

Thornes said it apparently combats cancer by inhibiting its transfer from cell to cell. Anti-coagulants have been used since the 1920s against heart disease and thrombosis.

Need million acres in sunflower seeds

The Alberta government's agricultural export marketing officer, Dave Durksen believes there is a potential market for at least 1,000,000 acres of prairie-grown sunflower seeds.

He bases this evaluation on the fact that countries like Australia, Argentina and Russia have all had very short crops which has greatly strengthened the demand for Canadian sunflower seed and has driven the price up. The export trade is now able to offer farmers at least 5 cents a pound for sunflower seeds. In Manitoba where there is a crushing plant farmers are getting a little more than 6 cents a pound.

This year Manitoba farmers intend to produce about 160,000 acres of sunflowers. However, it appears that Saskatchewan and Alberta together will produce less than 50,000 acres compared with 75,000 in 1971, of which approximately 10,000 were in Alberta. In view of the market potential for sunflower seeds, Mr. Durksen feels that Alberta's projected sunflower production is very disappointing.

He says that the erroneous belief, held by many farmers that sunflower seed competes with rapeseed is responsible for the lack of interest in this crop in Alberta. Sunflower seed is definitely not a threat to rapeseed markets, he stresses. Both sunflower oil and meal have special uses that cannot be supplied by rapeseed. The two crops are in fact, complementary to each other.

What kind of return can a farmer expect from sunflowers? Since we know that it is quite possible to produce 1000 pounds of seed per acre, (a yield of up to 1,500 pounds an acre has been achieved even with solid seeding), it should be quite easy at a price of 5 cents a pound to realize $40 or $50 an acre. Another advantage of this crop is that there are no quota restrictions. Production costs are the same as those for wheat.

What about new varieties? Krasnodarets is the earliest one available at the present time. It has an oil content of about 4 per cent. Mr. Durksen says plant breeders are looking at a number of varieties that are still earlier and which have a higher oil content. One of these looks as if it will have an oil content of 45 to 48 per cent which would increase the price of sunflower seed by one quarter cent to one half cent a pound.

"HEADLINE MISLEADING"

Ryley School,
Ryley, Alberta,
Feb. 26th.

The Tofield Mercury,
Dear Editor:

We would like to comment on a headline in the February 15th edition of The Tofield Mercury entitled "Smoking Area Sought at the Ryley School."

We disagree with this headline for several reasons. One being we are not seeking a smoking area for the simple reason that we already have one. Why make a headline out of two short phrases? Because of this headline, some privileges may be taken away from the Ryley Junior High Students. This type of publicity may cause people to think less of Ryley School and its students. We are sure that no harm was meant by this headline, but we would like to bring to your attention our opinion in this matter.

Yours truly,
Ryley Grade Seven Students

As I see it

SLAVE LAKE AFFAIR

The Government appears to be the first group to violate the spirit of it's own Alberta Bill of Rights. The loudly proclaimed Rights Act was severely shaken when the Minister responsible for Northern Development asked through the Attorney General to investigate the background of three private citizens. These three citizens seem to hold different political views than does the present Government. The two Ministers have since apologized for the indiscretion and have assured the Legislature that this use of police power will never again be used. The Premier was in Hawaii during this fiasco and upon his return was unavailable to the press for comment. During the debate on this affair in the Legislature the Premier remarked that the Attorney-General was "a very brave and a Courageous man" for admitting his error in this incident.

NON-CONFIDENCE MOTION

Our side of the house asked for a complete review of the contract between the Province and the RCMP. The reason for this was so that the Mounties would not again be placed in the embarrassing situation of having to gather background information on private citizens at the request of the cabinet. The Government would not allow this procedure nor would they allow a Judicial Inquiry into the entire matter.

TED DAVY AFFAIR

Gordon Taylor, the MLA from Drumheller informed the house that he felt a private citizen had been unjustly held in Oliver. Mr. Davy accused the Workmen's Compensation Board of treating him unfairly and was not giving him adequate compensation. His perserverance, he claims, was the cause for his committal to Oliver. The oppositions action on Mr. Davy's behalf was resulted in a Judicial Inquiry being set up to investigate the charge.

SASKATCHEWAN LEGISLATURE VISIT

This coming Thursday and Friday will see me visiting the Saskatchewan Legislature.

The trip will (at our parties own expense) be related to investigation of some of the Government's programs on land banks and other new programs. I feel that some type of a dental plan is opportune at this time.

Your problems, questions and concerns are always welcome. Write or phone, Box 1030, Fort Saskatchewan, 543-2166.

Holden Society plans meeting

President Allan Zwierschke has announced that the annual meeting of the Holden District Agricultural Society will be held on Tuesday, March 20th.

The meeting will be held in the Holden Community Hall and will commence at eight o'clock.

This meeting is very important with one of the big items on the agenda being the objective to obtain a covered skating and curling rink in Holden and, if possible, to have this structure for the fall of this year.

The land is available for such a building and tentative blueprints have been prepared.

A constitution will also be drafted at the March meeting.

The executive is looking for a Board of Directors and is seeking a minimum of nine members from both the rural area as well as the village.

The meeting is open to anyone who wishes to attend.

Old-Timers trounce Northwestern

Goaltender Harley Lehman played an outstanding game Friday night to help the Old-Timers defeat the Northwestern Utilities Old-Timers of Edmonton by a score of 7-3.

Scoring for Tofield were Johnny Olson with three goals, one of his goals being a penalty-shot; Vic Rudzcki with two goals, with the other two goals going to Jack McNeill and Len Stauffer.

Maurice Tessier of the Tofield Hotel is donating a hat to Johnny Olsen for his hat-trick in the game and to any Tofield Old-Timer scoring a hat-trick in future games.

Next Old-Timer game will be this Friday, March 2nd, against St. Albert. Game time is 9 p.m.

Ministik

(Mrs. Jim Roddick)

Although it doesn't look like its the last few days, Spring must be "just around the corner", as the first lamb arrived at the Andrew Ferguson farm on Sunday morning.

Harvey Kleinschroth, attending college at Vermilion, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kleinschroth.

Brenda Roddick of Calgary was home with her parents, the Bill Roddicks last weekend also, helping her Dad celebrate his birthday.

Mr and Mrs. Grant Pearice and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ferguson attended the snowmobilers' convention at the Jubilee Auditorium on Saturday afternoon.

On Saturday afternoon at the Ardrossan Arena, the Pee Wee A's came up with a win over the Vermilion A's, the score being 6 - 4. However, with a two - game series with total points to count, they were 2 points down as the total was 10 - 8 in favor of Vermilion. The boys put up a wonderful battle and young John Morrow of Deville could do nothing wrong as he got 1 goal and assisted on 4 of the others. Joe Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Baden Bowerman and Brent and Mrs. Jim Roddick took in the game along with many other fans who filled the arena.

Mr. and Mrs. Heck Hamilton of Fort Macleod, celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary last weekend. Many Ministik residents will remember when they lived here before moving to the Fort. Maggie (nee Murdock) was born and attended school here. All their family were in attendance as well as other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Andrew Ferguson received news on Wednesday that her sister, Mrs. J. Potts of Jubilee Lodge in Edmonton had suffered a stroke.

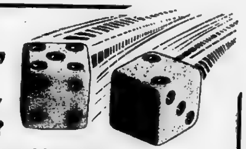
A "7" EVERY TIME ?


Impossible! YOU say?
We agree! That's why the method of computing workmen's compensation has been changed from a 7-DAY WEEK basis to the ACTUAL WORK WEEK of each claimant.
As of January 1, 1973, compensation is being paid on the basis of actual days off-the-job for injured workmen.
Claims established prior to January 1, 1973, and computed under the 7-DAY WEEK method, will not be affected until the claimants concerned have returned to work or compensation has been discontinued.
In cases where workmen do not have an established regular pattern of employment, compensation will be computed and paid on the 7-DAY WEEK method.
Note: IN BOTH METHODS THE RATE OF COMPENSATION IS BASED ON THE AVERAGE EARNINGS OF THE WORKMAN CONCERNED.
PENSION AWARDS OR PAYMENTS ARE NOT AFFECTED BY THIS CHANGE.

Make Being Ill as Pleasant as Possible

Next time you have someone in bed with the flu, measles, or whatever, or when you have someone just home from hospital but still confined to a lot of rest try some of these ideas. These people often feel well enough to be quite bored with lying around so they need things to fill their time and create some excitement.

Adjusting a mirror so the patient can get a view of an adjoining room where you're working, or so he can see outside, can help him feel more a part of what is going on.

A surprise bag, made especially for the individual, and presented at a time when everything seems a bit boring, might brighten up the day. Depending upon age and interests, you might include a new book - coloring, comics, novel, or latest magazine. Something to keep the hands busy could be a plastic model ready for assembly, a piece of embroidery ready to be worked, a bar of soap and knife for someone who would like to try carving or a paint by number set. Even a deck of cards can put in hours.

Rather than the traditional bouquet of flowers, how about something active. A couple of fast swimming gold fish in a bowl provides something active to watch and can be fed by the invalid. Or your patient may prefer a bird, a hamster or a pet rat - all in their cages of course. Even wind chimes hung just outside the window can produce a pleasing effect.

Meal time should be a pleasant time. If you have a bed tray with legs the battle is half won. Otherwise, a TV tray or some other improvision will have to be made do. With all the attractive napkins available today, you could have a real variety of gay designs. Appetizing colors in the food, and a variety in the texture and flavors are an essential part of making anyone's meal enjoyable. Be sure to keep hot things hot and cold things cold - that lukewarm temperature can be most unappetizing.

Occasionally add a little treat to the meal tray. Just like opening up a Chinese fortune cookie, everyone loves a surprise. A little dish of after dinner mints, a favorite flower, a new poem, tomorrow's horoscope or even your home baked version of a fortune cookie could do the trick.

Ready for work Most fields look like they're ready for spring's work already as mild temperatures have melted the snow that fell during the winter. This is what a field on the L. McGinitie farm, west of Tofield, looks like.

RABIES DIAGNOSIS

More than 2,000 cases of rabies in animals are confirmed each year by pathologists at three laboratories of the Agriculture Canada Health of Animals Branch.

The laboratories are located at Sackville, N.B., Hull, Que., and Lethbridge, Alta.

Using special techniques, the pathologists can run a speedy test for the disease in animals. Results of a test are sent immediately to the doctor who is awaiting the results of the diagnosis before beginning treatment of a patient bitten by the animal.

Around the town

Mr and Mrs. Boyd Stauffer enjoyed a trip to Europe in November last, when they were in England, Switzerland and Germany. They were in London when Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip celebrated their silver wedding anniversary, at which time the Queen stopped to chat with a couple from India, right next to Boyd and Verba, giving them a real close up view of the Queen, Prince Phillip, Prince Charles and Princess Anne. They also visited the Old Bailey, London's famous Criminal Court, and many other notable historical buildings.

With the tremendous interest shown in hockey and skating, Tofield minor sports have made arrangements to have a photographer at the Tofield Arena from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, Saturday, March 10, for the purpose of taking team pictures. All hockey teams, minor, senior or oldtimers or individual persons are welcome to take advantage of this opportunity. The charge will be very reasonable.

Golden Club shows growth

by Edith Lancaster

The Tofield Golden Club, so recently organized, now has a membership of 60.

Through the kindness of the Tofield Legion, a meeting is held each Wednesday afternoon in the Legion Hall. Judging from the laughter, the new club is enjoying the afternoon of companionship and coffee. The constitution has been drawn up to include all those of 60 years or more and all handicapped adults regardless of age.

Undaunted by snow and weather, 28 members of the Tofield Golden Club attended the Moscow Circus on Saturday afternoon. With lots of laughter and chatter the acrobats, horses and bears were much enjoyed by all. The Lion's Club provided the bus driver, Ben Thiessen for the trip.

It is hoped, by the executive that this will encourage more members to come forward with ideas and suggestions for the future of the club.

Well runs dry

Tofield hauling water from Sherwood Park

Residents of Tofield are being urged to conserve water as it is now being trucked in from Sherwood Park.

The reservoir went dry about five o'clock on Friday morning and, following a special meeting of Town Council, trucks were obtained to haul water from Sherwood Park to the storage tank.

The storage tank holds 500,000 gallons and, at the moment, truckers are holding their own in keeping up with the demand although town officials still urge caution in use of water as there will be none in the reservoir until the spring run-off which could be next week, OR next month.

The reservoir was built in 1954 and has never gone dry until this year when town officials were caught by surprise as they felt that they had enough water on hand to do until spring. However, the reservoir, which is shaped like a bowl, was misleading because there was a large rock in the centre which occupied space and officials weren't aware of its existence until the reservoir went dry and they found that, instead of water, all they had was a huge rock.

Now that the reservoir has gone dry, town officials know what it looks like and can plan accordingly in the future.

Lack of water caused a bit of a problem about eight years ago when the level in the reservoir dropped in the fall and water was pumped in over a gas line from Deville to insure an adequate supply to last through the winter.

Tofield Titans are Zone 'B' girls hoop champs

Four hundred and fifty excited fans were on hand in Tofield Saturday night as the Tofield High Titans won the girls' 'B' basketball champion. ship of the North East Alberta Zone and earned a berth in the provincial finals.

Tofield went undefeated in three games in picking up the championship in the eight-team tournament which attracted the largest ever crowd in the zone girls' playoffs.

Fuel crisis is threatening

By PETER WARD

OTTAWA During the past few months a gnawing suspicion has developed that perhaps the Minister of Energy, Donald MacDonald, hasn't been telling us the whole truth.

He switched from telling us one day that Canadian oil producers were quite capable of regulating their own export sales to the United States, to telling us that crude oil, for the first time since 1950, was going to be subject to export controls under the National Energy Board, as of March 1.

It seems that in January our exports of crude to the United States ran at 1.1 million barrels per day, then jumped to 1.22 MBPD in February, and seemed likely to hit 1.3 MBPD in March. Well, if you recall that the perennial Canadian tussle with Washington has been to get the United States to lift export quotas on Canadian crude oil, that makes the picture this winter look pretty rosy.

But and it's a big but the production and pipeline capacity from Alberta and Saskatchewan is rated at 1.9 MBPD by some officially at slightly above 2 MBPD by the National Energy Board. Our own domestic consumption in the two-thirds of the country which uses Canadian oil, that part west of the Ottawa Valley is 850,000 barrels per day. In the east, we consume 775,000 BPD of imported oil from the Middle East and Venezuela.

Now if you add the figures for export to the United States and the Canadian domestic consumption west of the Ottawa Valley, you arrive at the figure of 2.05 MBPD. That amount, by the government's own figures, is either at, or slightly over, our total production and transportation capacity. Without controls, Canadian refineries would have gone short in March, if the projected U.S. demand had occurred.

With statistics like those, can anyone blame the opposition in Parliament for being suspicious when Mr. MacDonald tells us there is nothing to worry about in Eastern Canada?

We're skating an extremely fine line, because the price of middle-eastern and Venezuelan oil is soaring. Should any international crisis occur, Eastern Canadian fuel problems would escalate to the point of catastrophy in one month.

I'm not saying the government is to blame for the situation but it can certainly be blamed for not admitting the energy crisis has arrived in Canada, too and perhaps even doing something about it.

Titans are champs

The Tofield High School Titans are to be congratulated on winning the Zone 'B' girls basketball championship over the past weekend and earning a berth in the provincial finals which are to be held this coming weekend in Stettler. The Titans showed superiority in all departments and were especially strong defensively as they allowed their opposition little chance to score. In only two games this winter have the Titans allowed their opponents to score as many as thirty points, which has to be a tremendous defensive record for any team.

This was the first time in many years that the championship had not been played in Camrose and, it was also the first time in many years that the tournament showed a profit as students, teachers, parents and the entire community got behind the project and gave it one hundred per cent support. The attendance at all games was a tremendous example for competing schools to try and duplicate in other playoffs throughout the Zone in other sports.

Tofield fans will find themselves hard-pressed this coming week as they try and give community teams lots of support, as the girls go to Stettler for the provincial finals while the boys travel to Wetaskiwin in an effort to retain their Zone championship. In addition to the two important basketball tournaments, there will be lots of action at the new arena which has been having a highly successful season.

No matter what happens, Tofield has proven to itself, as well as to everyone else that, no obstacles are too difficult to overcome when everyone works together. Many other centers the size of Tofield are having a difficult time in maintaining their very existence whereas Tofield is not only existing, but, is continuing to grow.

What happened?

It might be interesting to see a news release of some kind with an explanation as to why the Winter Games went to Wainwright, when they had been scheduled to be held in the County of Beaver.

The facilities required for the holding of such games are readily available in the County of Beaver and, there is little doubt but that the volunteers required to host such a program could have been obtained. However, for some unknown reason, it was suddenly announced that the games would be held in Wainwright and many residents of the area would like to know why they were lost.

INCREASE SEEN IN NEW DISEASE IN FEEDLOT CATTLE

New Feedlot Cattle Disease

Camrose veterinarians agree that a relatively new feedlot cattle disease has been seen in this area, although there is no cause for alarm as the disease has not reached epidemic proportions.

The disease, known as infectious thromboembolic meningoencephalitis or sleeper syndrome is on the increase in Alberta.

According to Dr. D.W. MacDonald, pathologist with the Alberta Veterinary Services Division, the first two cases were diagnosed at the provincial veterinary laboratory in 1969. By 1971 the number had increased to 29, and there was a marked increase again last year. Based on a full year's volume of cattle Dr. MacDonald says the number of cattle that are affected can go as high as one per cent. The mortality rate is usually over 95 per cent.

The danger period for the sleeper syndrome is during the first month the cattle are in the feedlot. It is caused by a hemophilus somnus bacteria which may manifest symptoms in three forms. In the peracute form, the disease chiefly affects the brain; in the acute form, the lungs and upper respiratory system are the main target and in the chronic form, it affects the joints, causing arthritis.

An animal with sleeper syndrome may die suddenly without having shown any observable symptoms or it may become lame from a peculiar "knuckling" of the fetlock. As the disease progresses there are definite signs of disturbance in the nervous system. The animal appears weak and uncoordinated in the hindquarters. Some cattle lean against a solid object to avoid falling while others just go down. Muscle tremors and paddling movements may be noted in the limbs of animals that are down. The initial temperature of an animal with sleeper syndrome may be as high as 107 degrees but the terminal temperature is always subnormal.

Dr. MacDonald recommends that this disease always be considered in sudden cattle deaths. He also urges [illegible] to contact a veterinarian for an accurate diagnosis and treatment. Sleeper syndrome in cattle is easily confused with such nervous disorders as polio, certain types of poisoning, listeriosis and other bacterial infections of the brain as well as with the nervous form of coccidiosis [illegible]. Unless treatment is started early, it is [illegible] successful.

No satisfactory control measures have yet been developed but Dr. MacDonald recommends the usual sanitary procedures. If outbreaks are persistent it may be necessary to turn confined cattle out on pasture he says. Bacterins have been tried in some feedlots in the United States but, because of the sporadic nature of this disease, results have not been assessed.

County School Committee briefs

Present were: Crs. Brissard, Johnston, Knudshen, Kropielnicki, Laube, Roddick and Sears. Representing Towns and Villages: H. Berke, K. Fl[illegible], N. Semotiuk, H. Wilkie. Also present: M. S. Bruce, Superintendent of Schools; A. R. Cross, Secretary Treasurer, R. [illegible]. Pepper, Administrative Assistant.

The meeting was called to order at 11:30 a.m. by the Chairman, Cr. Roddick. MOVED that the minutes of the November 21st, 1972 meeting be accepted.

As requested, the Secretary-Treasurer contacted Texaco Canada Limited concerning the purchase price of pumps and tanks for the bus garages throughout the County. Texaco has stated that their original quotation of $1,750.00 for the pumps and $2,400.00 for the tanks is a reasonable price. MOVED that the School Committee table this matter until June of 1973 when the present fuel contract expires.

A letter was received from the Alberta School Trustee's Association requesting that the County of Beaver consider being a member of the Provincial Data Processing Development Board. This board would be formed to develop a co-operative school board controlled organization which would provide information, sorting, storing, and retrieval capacity on a Provincial basis. MOVED that the County of Beaver School Committee become a member of the "Provincial Data Processing Development Board".

A summary of the 1972 Grade XII examination results for January, June and August were distributed at this time. During the year, 148 students wrote 537 examination papers. Of these, only nine papers received a failing grade. There were 141 students who earned high school diplomas; 59 of these earned senior matriculation standing.

The Association of School Administrators have requested that Policy 8040 - - Admission of Beginners to School be reviewed with a view toward lowering of the school entrance age to include those beginners who will attain the age of six by February 29th. The School Committee asked that a draft policy statement be developed.

From the preschool age census survey taken in October, 1972, the following chart indicates the pupil enrolment to be expected over the next six years:

Pre-School Age Census
October 31st ,1972

School	Year in which Child was born '67	'68	'69	'70	'71	'72	Tot.
Tofield	41	29	26	37	30	26	189
Ryley	14	19	27	13	14	6	95
Holden	18	15	15	13	13	7	81
Bruce	7	4	4	3	8	3	26
Viking	30	27	30	40	30	21	180
Kinsella	3	8	6	4	4	1	29
	112	122	108	110	96	66	614

Where there are now 1,118 pupils in Grade 1 - 6 in the six schools, we can expect to have 614 pupils in Grades 1 -6 in the 1978 - 79 school year. Based on present trends, it is anticipated that migration out of the County will have the effect of reducing the expected enrollment even further.

MOVED that the request of the Kinsella School on behalf of Roy Gillard (school custodian) to make and maintain a small skating rink on the school grounds be approved.

There is the possibility that Faculty of Education, University of Alberta will expand several of its pilot projects in teacher internship. In several of these projects, the teacher trainees spend one semester teaching in public schools under the direction of a faculty consultant and a co-operating teacher.

The Superintendent of Schools reported that he had written Dr. M. Horowitz, Dean, Faculty of Education, advising that the County of Beaver would be interested in participating if suitable arrangements can be made. Dr. Horowitz replied that if the present program was to be expanded, that the County's request would be considered. In the meantime, he advised that discussions could be carried on with Dr. J. B. Bell, Division of Secondary Education.

MOVED that the School Committee concur in the actions taken by the Superintendent of Schools.

MOVED that the School Committee approve the renting of Teacherage H3 in the Village of Holden to Robert MacKay to August 1, 1974.

Draft Policies and Regulations number 8260 - Field Trips - Educational Tours and Extra-Curricular Trips and number 6050 - Pupil Placement and Pupil Progress were distributed at this time. The School Committee made suggestions for several alterations and directed that they be referred to the Association of School Administrators and to the teaching staff.

The Association of School Administrators had expressed concern over irregular attendance of the High School students. The School Committee felt that Policy number 5040 - Attendance - expresses explicitly the stand taken by the School Committee regarding irregular attendance of students.

As there was no further business, it was MOVED that the meeting adjourn.

"Fantasyland" goes Mar. 17

Tofield has another "first" coming up in the near future when local figure skaters will present an exhibition on March 17th.

The show is entitled "Fantasyland" and will be presented by the Tofield Figure Skating Club with all members, from the littlest to the tallest representing animated characters.

There will be group selections as well as solos and duets and visual effects will be added to all numbers.

Only four hundred advance tickets will be sold and are available at Tofield Pharmacy, Dykeman's Confectionery and the Arena. In addition, members of the club will go door to door after school today (Thursday).

Tofield Library hours have now been extended

by Grace Phillips

In answer to a request from the Tofield Library Board, the Tofield Community League consented to an extension of library hours to include two hours on Saturday mornings for a three-month trial period. The library is open at present on Tuesday and Friday afternoons; it operates in the meeting room of the Community Centre which is supplied, rent free, by the League.

At its regular March meeting on Tuesday of this week, the League, with president Bob Moos in the chair, also decided to send the Tofield Agricultural Society a receipted bill for $76, the amount spent by the League while engaged in accepting donations and mailing receipts on behalf of the Agricultural Society. This $76 is, in effect, a donation to the Agricultural Society.

Since the Tofield Chamber of Commerce did not use the meeting room for its full quota of meetings, the due rent was reduced.

J. B. Baergen, on behalf of the Tofield Junior Sports' Committee, reported plans for a sportsmen's banquet to be held May 1st in the Community Centre. Sports personalities will be present at this event which will raise money for junior sports.

To plan for July 1st activities, representatives of other participating organizations will be specially invited to attend the April meeting of the League.

In charge of Jack Whyte and Arnold Swift a cash bingo will be held on March 28th in the Community Centre. There will be $125 in prizes for the 20-game bingo in addition to the $90 for the jackpot game.

Jack Whyte reported for the theatre committee that the eight shows held in 1973 have netted $160.

Tickets for the $100-club are now on sale from League members.

Ryley Red Devils lose out in Zone C playoffs

(Mrs. L. Rell)

The Ryley Red Devils travelled to Warburg on Friday to take part in the girls Central Eashtern 'C' Zone playoffs.

Other teams competeing in this tournament were Forestburg, Provost STP, Provost Public, Bashaw, Warburg and Thorsby and Altario.

In the first game, Ryley played Thorsby. This game was very fast and the score very close. Thorsby held a slight edge at half-time but the Ryley girls closed the gap in the third quarter. Thorsby held the lead by only three points at one time but when the final buzzer sounded the score was 41 to 30 in Thorsby's favor.

This put Ryley on the consolation side of the tournament. High scorers for Ryley were Mona Knudslien with 16 points.

The next day, Ryley met Provost - STA Pixies. The girls played better than the night before and ended up very much in the lead at the end of the game.

Warburg beat Bashaw to advance to the finals with Thorsby who upset Forestburg in their second game.

The consolation finals saw Ryley beat Provost with ease.

The final game between Warburg and Thorsby was very close and exciting. In the final five minutes of play Thorsby won the game on two free shots. They will now go on to provincials in Redwater.

Selected to the all-star team from Ryley was Mona Knudslien who received a medallion.

"Fantasyland" goes Mar. 17

Tofield has another "first" coming up in the near future when local figure skaters will present an exhibition on March 17th.

The show is entitled "Fantasyland" and will be presented by the Tofield Figure Skating Club with all members, from the littlest to the tallest representing animated characters.

There will be group selections as well as solos and duets and visual effects will be added to all numbers.

Only four hundred advance tickets will be sold and, are available at Tofield Pharmacy, Dykeman's Confectionery and the Arena. In addition, members of the club will go door to door after school today (Thursday).

Tofield Library hours have now been extended

by Grace Phillips

In answer to a request from the Tofield Library Board, the Tofield Community League consented to an extension of library hours to include two hours on Saturday mornings for a three-month trial period. The library is open at present on Tuesday and Friday afternoons; it operates in the meeting room of the Community Centre which is supplied, rent free, by the League.

At its regular March meeting on Tuesday of this week, the League, with president Bob Moos in the chair, also decided to send the Tofield Agricultural Society a receipted bill for $76, the amount spent by the League while engaged in accepting donations and mailing receipts on behalf of the Agricultural Society. This $76 is, in effect, a donation to the Agricultural Society.

Since the Tofield Chamber of Commerce did not use the meeting room for its full quota of meetings, the due rent was reduced.

J. B. Baergen, on behalf of the Tofield Junior Sports' Committee, reported plans for a sportsmen's banquet to be held May 1st in the Community Centre. Sports personalities will be present at this event which will raise money for junior sports.

To plan for July 1st activities, representatives of other participating organizations will be specially invited to attend the April meeting of the League.

In charge of Jack Whyte and Arnold Swift a cash bingo will be held on March 28th in the Community Centre. There will be $125 in prizes for the 20-game bingo in addition to the $90 for the jackpot game.

Jack Whyte reported for the theatre committee that the eight shows held in 1973 have netted $160.

Tickets for the $100-club are now on sale from League members.

Ryley Red Devils lose out in Zone C playoffs

(Mrs. L. Reil)

The Ryley Red Devils travelled to Warburg on Friday to take part in the girls Central Eashtern 'C' Zone playoffs.

Other teams competeing in this tournament were Forestburg, Provost STP, Provost Public, Bashaw, Warburg and Thorsby and Altario.

In the first game, Ryley played Thorsby. This game was very fast and the score very close. Thorsby held a slight edge at half-time but the Ryley girls closed the gap in the third quarter. Thorsby held the lead by only three points at one time but when the final buzzer sounded the score was 41 to 30 in Thorsby's favor.

This put Ryley on the consolation side of the tournament. High scorers for Ryley were Mona Knudslien with 16 points.

The next day, Ryley met Provost - STA Pixies. The girls played better than the night before and ended up very much in the lead at the end of the game

Warburg beat Bashaw to advance to the finals with Thorsby who upset Forestburg in their second game.

The consolation finals saw Ryley beat Provost with ease.

The final game between Warburg and Thorsby was very close and exciting. In the final five minutes of play Thorsby won the game on two free shots. They will now go on to provincials in Redwater.

Selected to the all-star team from Ryley was Mona Knudslien who received a medallion.

Eighty percent is equity?

DON MAZANKOWSKI REPORTS

Those who have been encouraged by recent expressions of greater decentralization in expenditures in the West and a new awareness of Western Canada, by the Federal Government found little consolation upon examination of proposed expenditures by the Federal Department of Public Works.

The Government's spending estimates for the fiscal year 1973 - 74 shows the Department of Public Works, which funds the construction of major capital projects, to be heavily weighted toward central Canada.

OVER EIGHTY PERCENT TO THE CENTRE

Out of a total appropriation of $179 million set aside for this purpose $96 million will be spent in Ontario and $49 million will be spent in Quebec. $6 million will be appropriated to Manitoba, $1.5 million to Saskatchewan and $7.5 million to Alberta while $3 million will go to British Columbia.

Smaller projects, costs of maintenance and operation of public buildings follow a similar pattern. Does this sound like giving the West a piece of the action? - Hardly.

"What does the West really want?", is a phrase frequently heard these days. One surely does not have to be a magician to discern that a little equity in distribution of Federal Government expenditures would go a long way in achieving our national endeavors.

Recent activities in the House of Commons have centred largely around the contents of Mr. Turner's budget which was brought down Monday, February 19th. On the surface, the Budget appeared to contain something for everyone, and most observers found few surprises in it generally speaking.

It seems the main objective was not necessarily aimed at meeting the needs of the Canadian people, but rather meeting the needs of the Government, which, in order to survive, must rely on the support of the NDP. One can only wonder what it might have contained were it not for the election on October 30, and if the results had been a Liberal majority Government.

Whether by design or by accident, a number of Conservative proposals found their way into the Budget, proposals which were vigorously opposed during the election campaign by Government spokesmen.

"It is an expansionary Budget", said Mr. Turner, but we must remember that we've had a series of so-called expansionary budgets the past three years, only to be disappointed by the results in terms of economic performance, job creation and inflationary pressure.

One thing is certain, this Budget represents a complete repudiation of everything the government has been saying over the past few years and will be noted I am sure, for being an outstanding example of political plagiarism.

Naturally, we welcome the increases in Old Age pensions and War Veterans allowances. The reduction in personal income taxes, sales and excise taxes will serve to unleash a greater amount of disposable cash, something our Party has been advocating for the past four years. However, it should be noted that with the automatic increase of three per cent in personal income tax, effective January 1, 1973, the five per cent reduction in effect means a two per cent reduction based on last year's rate. As well, it is quite certain the tariff removals on horticultural products and meats will have an adverse effect on the producers of these commodities.

ONLY TOKENS FOR SMALL BUSINESS

It is noted, too, that notwithstanding the undertaking to bolster the welfare of small business in the Speech from the Throne, the Budget reference to small business can be described as mere tokenism. And yet in terms of job creation, in terms of economic spin-off, in terms of innovation and in terms of preservation of the smaller communities, the small business entrepeneur is of paramount significance and should be restored as an integral part of our economic system. The advent of tax reform, government regimentation, welfarism, unions, government bureaucracy and red tape have forced the small businessman virtually against the wall, the result of which has stymied development, increased bankruptcies and destroyed the initiative and innovation of this most aggressive group of Canadians.

In the area of the family farm the Budget proposes to remove the capital gains tax on the transfer of a family farm from the father to his children, which is welcome. However, this provision will apply only in the case of death. It is most unfortunate that the family farm will not be permitted to pass from generation to generation prior to death.

In other news, the Canadian Wheat Board announced its final payments for the 1971 - 72 crop year, and Mr. Lang announced initial prices and projected acreage requirements for the coming crop year. The initial prices were found generally acceptable, since many of us advocated greater increases in the initial prices of barley to meet current and future demand.

Manifesting the low fire-sale prices under which our grain sales were transacted in the past few years, the final payment on wheat amounted to 12.3 cents a bushel for No. 1 FOB Thunder Bay, resulting in a total realized price of $1.79 per bushel. This is the second lowest price in twenty years, the lowest figure being $1.56 which was realized on the 1953 - 54 crop year.

SAVED BY TORIES

It is also revealing to note that of the $62 million paid out as a final payment, almost $26 million was realized from the Temporary Wheat Reserves Act (a Government storage program) which the Government vigorously proposed to abolish. It should be also noted that a deficit of nearly $1 million was created in the Barley Pool account, which under current policy is covered by the Federal Treasury. This, too, was to have been abolished under the provisions of the Stabilization Act. The net effect of the abolishment of these two programs would have reduced the final payment by some fifty per cent, a clear example of the inadequacies of the Stabilization Bill which was proposed.

In any event, while we hear plenty of talk about the boom in agriculture, as far as the grain farmer is concerned, sales may be high, but returns at least for the last crop year, are far below average.

Alberta scores 21st year as rat-free province

An estimated 30,000 Norway rats were eradicated by a band of bait stations along the Alberta-Saskatchewan border last year, leaving Alberta a rat-free province for the twenty-first consecutive year.

The head of the Alberta department of agriculture's pest control branch, J. B. Gurba, says that a major portion of the credit for Alberta's international fame as a "Rat Free Province" goes to the public whose tremendous support and co-operation have ensured that there is no place here for the world's worst rodent pest.

He reports that invading rats were held along the 380-mile front from Montana to Cold Lake where control measures were diligently applied by rural and urban residents. Approximately 10.5 tons of ready-mixed poisonous bait and 2,526 packages of water-soluble bait were used to destroy the thousands of migrating rats.

The number of infestations that actually became established in Alberta last year increased slightly from 69 in 1971 to 77. The number of premises checked also increased slightly, and all infestations were destroyed by the end of the year. Mr. Gurba feels that this annual invasion can best be combated in the future by improving the co-ordination of control methods on both sides of the Alberta-

During the last year a few rats penetrated further into the province via transportation facilities, but these were destroyed immediately, thanks to a well informed, and rat conscious public. All local problems were very capably handled by the province's 250 pest control officers who are appointed by rural and urban municipalities.

IN MEMORIAM

POINTER—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Don Pointer, who passed away March 4th, 1972:

So many things have happened
Since you were called away.
Things you would have enjoyed
Had you been left to stay.
So many things to share with you
In just the usual way
Things that could be much nicer
If you were here today.
We cannot have the old days back;
Your hand we cannot touch,
But God has given us wonderful memories
Of you we miss so much.

Greatly missed by Mother, Wife, Children, Grandchildren and many friends 28p-7271

ANDERSON — In loving memory of Ragna L. Anderson, who passed away March 8th, 1963:

We who loved you, sadly miss you;
As it dawns another year
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of you are ever near.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by your family 28c-7272

Tofield Titans won the Zone 'B' boys basketball championship during a tournament in Wetaskiwin over the weekend while their female counterparts lost in a hair-raising finish in the 'B' girls' provincial finals in Stettler.

BOYS

Tofield won all three of their games to take their second Zone championship in a row and advance to the provincial finals this coming weekend in Calgary where they will defend their provincial crown which they won last year.

The Titans outgunned Daysland 51-43 in their first outing on Friday as Nachtigal picked up 15 points while Dickson and Pearson each netted 12. Gabruck of Daysland was the top point-getter in the game with 18 points.

Tofield then met Leduc in the semi-finals on Saturday and emerged with a 43-28 triumph. Unfortunately, individual statistics are not available on this game.

In the finals, Tofield dumped Camrose 46-28 as Dickson led the attack with 16 points while Pearson racked up 12 and Thiessen picked up ten. Richardson and Robinson each picked up ten points for the losers.

Camrose had gained a berth in the finals by stopping Coronation 47-37 in their first game and stopping Wainwright 36-29 in the semi-finals.

Wetaskiwin won the consolation playoff by whipping Castor 40-25 in the finals and, Wetaskiwin also won the cheerleading competition.

GIRLS

An exhausted Titan team made a gallant try and fell two points short of winning the provincial championship in Stettler when they bowed 30-28 to Lacombe in the finals.

It was Tofield's fourth game in the tournament and only the third for Lacombe, but despite this, the Titans rallied in the second half of the contest to close the gap to only two points.

Webber led the winners with nine points while Shewchuk paced the Titans with 12 points.

The Titans won their opening game against Calgary Queen Elizabeth 33-17 with Helberg leading the way to victory with 11 points. In their second game, Tofield edged St. Paul 28-26 as Helberg again led the way with 13 points while Shewchuk picked up nine.

The Titans then dumped St Albert 25-18 in the semi-finals with Shewchuk leading the attack with 12 points while Eastlick netted six.

Although the season ended on a losing note, the Titans did get a berth in the provincial finals and had won their first Zone championship.

Coach Ken Eastlick said he "was extremely proud of the girls. They made quite a showing, especially after three hard games prior to the finals." Mr Eastlick went on to comment of the effort they exerted in the final game when they should have been exhausted and ready to quit "but they wouldn't and didn't quit"

Up, up, up goes the budget

By PETER WARD

OTTAWA Like so many things in life, the government of Pierre Elliott Trudeau has been a combination of good news and bad news.

During February and March, we had demonstrations of both. This week the bad news; next week the good.

Economics has long been considered a weakness in this government, and since last Oct. 30, little has been done to dispel that judgement in the face of the continuing unemployment crisis in the country combined with inflation. every Canadian is entitled to question the budget Finance Minister John Turner presented in February

At first glance it appeared expansionary and tailored to fight unemployment. Mr. Turner and all the rest of the government front bench beamed when they talked about five per cent personal income tax cuts.

Deeper examination showed that we weren't really getting all that much of a tax cut, and when the government spending estimates for the current fiscal year were produced, lo and behold it became apparent that the Federal machine planned to take an even greater percentage of the gross national product to finance ever - expanding government programs.

To be sure, there were praiseworthy sections of the budget, particularly the provision which decreed that no Canadian should receive a tax cut of less than $100. The avowed design of that measure was to give lower income Canadians a break, and to make it relative terms that's just what it did

Then there was the ten penny tariff reduction for food items imported from the U.S., something which may have marginal effect on the spiralling price of food.

But in spite of the tax cuts a little less than two percent, not the five percent advertised by the government front benches - the amount of government revenue produced rose inexorably upward as a percentage factor of the GNP.

Increased government spending, and the danger of inflation emphasized by the budget, gave increasing credibility to the demands from the Conservative opposition for price and wage controls - at least of a temporary measure.

That demand for controls is being pin pointed here as a major issue for the next election, and while they're at it, the Tories might make some pledge about controlling the upward spiral of government spending.

Next week, we'll talk about the good news.

What? No plan?

Before its election, the Lougheed government promised it would launch a program of expansion activities financed on borrowed money, so it could hardly come as a surprise last week when the news was announced that it was going to the money markets in order to conduct some of its major "expansion" programs.

No surprise, but some shock, just the same, for the picture always looks different from the government side of the house. And we had thought, and hoped, that election would bring the realization that while we may get more development, and more action this year, and next year, and for a few years, than we would if we simply used current revenues, the time isn't far down the line when larger and larger percentages of revenues will simply go down the drain for interest payments, and produce less and less for Albertans.

After enjoying all the benefits of a pay-as-you-go policy for a number of years, it comes as something of a shock to be back on a debt financing basis . . . especially when times are as good as they are. We're keenly aware that provincial revenues have been under a major strain, and probably few of us outside the government realize just how tough things are. But times are still extremely good, relatively speaking, and if we have to borrow now to keep going, what can we fall back on if things really slow down?

The action might not even have been necessary if the government hadn't been so liberal a few weeks ago in greatly extending the homeowner's and renter's tax relief program, at a cost of several millions.

Coupled with what appears to have been a hastily conceived and ill-tested program of municipal grants, on top of a system of education grants that has left large numbers of school districts buffaloed, the various actions of the government so far make one wonder if any basic plan whatever has been involved. Have the plans, if there were plans, been tested on the computer to see how they'd work in actual practice? Or was incomplete information, or misinformation, used in the first place?

How much planning was involved, for instance, in the sudden announcement when the department of education overnight reversed the statements made by senior officials only days earlier concerning departmental examinations for Grade XII, and accreditation of schools?

To be sure, there are many pluses for the Lougheed team, too, but there are also more shortfalls, and for the length of time the government has had, it does indeed make one wonder how much in-depth planning has really been involved.

Part of the solution

Railway buffs must have been having a fine time in recent weeks, watching the trains go by, and observing the multitude of names on the cars that come from outside Canada. Not just the familiar old CNR and CPE, but cars from a variety of American lines are far more familiar than they used to be.

This is all a result of the Canadian lines renting several hundreds of cars from the American lines in order to help the huge pressure of grain needed to meet commitments to Canadian customers overseas. Probably the American railways are delighted, too, since much of their rolling stock had been idle, and renting cars and engines would help to balance the ledgers.

It may be romantic to read the names, such as Santa Fe, Illinois and Southern, Great Northern, Central, but in this prairie area, the real romance is in seeing the grains move to market.

As I see it

By Dr. Walter Buck

Last week saw the continuation of the Budget Debate. This is the period of time allowed for both sides of the house to express their views on the budget. Traditionally, the Government defends its position and the opposition indicates what they think should be changed. The amount of money that is going to be spent is never changed but it does make for lively debate.

This year a new approach will be taken on the study of estimates. The estimate is a parliamentary procedure where by each and every section of the budget is studied and passed clause by clause.

Under the new procedure, the entire Legislature will be divided into four committees. Each committee will then concentrate on only a certain section of the budget. The committees thus set up will be able to concentrate more closely on the areas that they have under study. The debate can, upon the completion of the committee study, continue further in the Legislature as a whole.

My personal concern is that our constituents want us to be conversant with the entire budget rather than to specialize in certain areas. This is a trial session for the study of the estimates so time alone will tell if it is a better system or not

WILD LIFE DAMAGE FUND

This time of year brings many complaints from land owners concerned with hunting damage from last fall's hunting season.

The farmers' chief complaints are in the area of animals being shot by hunters. It seems that to be able to prove that the animal was shot by a hunter you almost have to march the offender in at gunpoint to the local RCMP detachment to prove your claim. I know that the Fund cannot be left wide open, otherwise abuses will occur with justification but their is room for improvement. Any farmer or hunter that has a problem or suggestion is welcome to contact me with his views. People having problems or suggestions on any matter, please contact me at Box 1030, Fort Saskatchewan, or phone 513-2160.

From the mail bag

A letter, commenting on "Winter Games" in last week's issue of The Mercury has been received from George Baker, of the County of Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Department.

However, because of the length of this letter it was impossible to have it "set" in time for this issue. But, it will be carried next week.

Grain for fuel

Gasohol - unleaded regular gasoline blended with 10 per cent grain alcohol - will be tested by 50 state-owned vehicles in Nebraska in 1973. If it proves feasible for conventional automobiles, it could open a huge new market for grain.

Gasohol-powered automobiles are the latest project of the Nebraska Agricultural Products Industrial Utilization Committee (APIUC). The 50 test vehicles will log about 20,000 miles each, testing cold weather starting, motor wear, vapor locks, muffler deterioration, water accumulation, storage problems and any other problems that may surface.

The APIUC's long range objective is to develop a gasoline market in Nebraska which would use 30 million bushels of grain annually for conversion into alcohol. This is the amount of grain which would be required to provide a 10 percent alcohol blend for the 83 million gallons of gasoline used on Nebraska highways annually.

The 10 percent alcohol blend is used because no mechanical motor adjustment is required at that rate. This means that a car can use both gasohol and regular gasoline. Four state vehicles have been running on gasohol since last December.

THE COST OF BEING A LOYAL CANADIAN

What happens when you put your money where your nationalist heart is and refuse to buy any product, service or cultural medium that was not made in Canada? You go to work naked and riding a dogsled' but you save money. That, at any rate, was the finding of Campbell King, director of Manitoba's Consumer Safety Service. King and his family volunteered for a research project organized by Financial Post Magazine: to try to live a 100 percent Canadian life for three weeks. Transportation, clothing and reading material proved the biggest problems; there's no such thing as an all-Canadian motor vehicle. Canadian-made clothes just can't compete for price or, and homegrown literature is pretty scarce. the Kings found. The bright spot came when the family went shopping: by buying all Canadian groceries and household goods, instead of those manufactured by non-Canadian companies, the Kings made big savings - 25 percent and even 50 percent on some items. Their total savings made by buying Canadian: 15.8 percent on $7.60 on a $30 grocery bill.

Looking for switch to turn off rust

Somewhere in the complicated chemical world of wheat rust, there's a switch that will shut down rust production.

And two Agriculture Canada scientists are looking for the switch.

They are Drs. Roland Rohringer and W. K. Kim of the Winnipeg Research Station.

Scientists believe that rust-resistant wheats work because they push the chemical switch that turns off rust production.

If they find that chemical switch, it would be a major breakthrough which could change the entire wheat production system in Canada.

Government launches hail suppression program

Hugh Horner, Deputy Premier and Minister of Agriculture last week announced the establishment of an interim weather modification committee to operate both an active hail suppression program and a hail suppression research program in the Olds-Three Hills area of Alberta. The special MLA committee studying crop insurance and weather modification during the past summer under the chairmanship of Gordon Stromberg, Camrose MLA, recommended that a weather modification corporation be established to operate both of the above programs. Legislation at the spring session of the Alberta Legislature is required to establish such a corporation. In the meantime, Dr. Horner has appointed an interim weather modification committee and given them the responsibility for both programs. This committee is as follows: Gordon R. Sterling, Chairman, Department of Agriculture; T. A. Peterson, University of Alberta; R. J. Page, Didsbury; James Christie, Trochu; R. M. Elofson, Research Council; R. W. Fisher, A.W.M.C.; J. R. Bishop, Three Hills; Orlan Bratvold, Alberta Department of Agriculture.

The Alberta Research Council and others have conducted a hail suppression research program in the Olds and Three Hills area for a number of years. This program is recognized throughout the world. The Alberta Weather Modification Cooperative operated a voluntary commercial hail suppression program for some years in the same area but recently discontinued it. Dr. Horner stated that there was little lead time for the committee to plan and prepare for an active hail suppression program for the 1973 season. He said the committee, through the Department of Agriculture, will start such a program in 1973 and hope to operate a much more extensive one in 1974.

The Legislature agreed with the special MLA committee and decided to start the hail suppression program which may be followed with a rain increase program dependant on further research.

The corporation's head office will be in Three Hills.

Hastings Lake news

(By R. Bates)

Alphonse Fontaine has recently returned from a very enjoyable three week trip. Alphonse and Jerry Herbert accompanied Carl Kolodychuk of Tofield and two other friends in Carl's Camper truck. The 6,000 mile round-trip journey saw them as far as Chihuahua, Mexico.

Among many other places, they visited Las Vegas, and tried their luck at the slot machines.

For the most part, avoiding the toured areas, they watched the building of Adobi houses and saw homeless people sleeping in the open, around small fires.

Basking in sunny 75 degree weather they collected suntans, as well as handicraft items for gifts and souvenirs.

Although Alphonse does his travelling in a wheel-chair; which he fondly calls his Cadillac; he never loses his good cheer and friendliness. Thus, bringing forth the same response, he reports helpful and kindly people everywhere. Though he didn't understand their language, a Mexican smile says the same as any other.

Ministik news briefs

(Mrs. Jim Roddick)

The Community Club were hosts at a dance on Saturday evening and, despite a stormy night, there was a good turn out.

Mrs. Andrew Ferguson spent Saturday and Sunday in the city with her sister, Mrs. R. Inglis, also visiting her sister, Mrs. J. Petts who suffered a stroke recently and is in hospital.

Due to heavy snow fall in the Two Hills area, the Midget team from there could not make it to Ardrossan arena to play their game with Ardrossan Midgets in the second of the provincial playoff series. Ardrossan at present is leading in the series.

Snowmobilers in the area were wearing broad smiles after the snowfall, as it extended their season and another weekend was greatly enjoyed by them.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear wife, mother and grand mother, Mary, who passed away March 6th, 1972.
What would we give her hand to clasp,
Her patient face to see,
To hear her voice, to see her smile,
As in the days that used to be.
But some sweet day we'll meet again
Beyond the toil and strife,
And clasp each other's hand once more.
In Heaven, that happy life.
Ever remembered, usually missed by loving husband, George, and family.

OGRODNICK — In loving memory of mother and grandmother, Michaelina Ogrodnick who passed away March 19th 1971.

No one will ever know
Ever remembered and very sadly missed by daughters and sons. 29c-7276

A lovely lunch was served by the ladies in the church basement.

2. Install doors so that the high school wing can be locked off from the gymnasium and library when the public uses the school.

It was agreed that each of these items would receive further consideration at the time that the 1973 budget is prepared.

A request for spectator seating was received from the Tofield School since it will host the Provincial play-offs in Zone 10 Girls Basketball on March 2nd and 3rd, 1973. This seating was originally planned for the new gymnasium but because the project was done by day labour it was agreed that the seating would be delayed. If finances permitted the seating was to be installed later.

Moved that the Building Committee investigate the possibility of setting up the Tofield gymnasium and that the School Committee empower this committee to act.

Dick Wilsons are feted on wedding anniversary

by Mrs. Jim Roddick

The family of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. (Dick) Wilson recently entertained more than 125 guests at an "open house" held at the farm home of the Wilsons to honor the couple on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

A three-tiered wedding cake made and decorated by Mrs. Isabel Mortenson, daughter of the Wilsons, centred the table.

Jeanie Wilson, as a girl, came to Canada and Ministik from Southend, Argyleshire, Scotland, in 1906 with her parents, three brothers and four sisters, the Matthew Ferguson family, and lived where her brother, Andrew, still resides. She attended Ministik School for three years, then going to Edmonton where she was employed.

Dick Wilson came here in 1910 from Rosehearty, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, filing on a homestead.

On February 5th, 1923 they were married in the First Presbyterian Church Manse in Edmonton by Dr. D. G. McQueen.

They went to Brule, Alberta, for four years where Mr. Wilson was employed as a carpenter.

After four years there, they returned to their homestead where they have resided since, carrying on dairy farming.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Neils (Isabel) Mortenson of Edmonton, and one son Matthew who resides and carries on the dairy business on the home farm. They also have two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Messages of congratulations were received from friends and relatives far and wide and even from Scotland. Although there were to be no gifts, special request, many beautiful floral arrangements and gifts were received by the honored couple.

A plaque from the County of Strathcona was presented by Councillors J. D. Morrow of Deville.

Mrs. Jack Bradshaw was in charge of the guest book.

Tofield figure skaters present first showing

by Grace Phillips

A standing ovation for the youthful performers was awarded by the capacity crowd at the Tofield Skating Club's Fantasyland Ice Revue on Saturday, March 17th in the Tofield Arena. From the time the Canadian flag and the banner of the Skating Club were escorted onto the ice by Dixie Rose, Garry Borton and Danny Saltart, the audience was entertained by the various numbers which were introduced by Marvin Bruce, emcee for this "first" in Tofield's history.

The arena was transformed into Fantasyland by blue lights circling the ice, and by the gay background scenery painted by Richard Pitter which was enhanced by colored spotlights.

The participants in the carnival were colorfully and appropriately costumed for their roles. All the traditional characters of Fairyland were present - the Three Little Pigs and the Wolf, timid mice and a cat to keep them in order, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, fairies, Raggedy Anns and Andys, Jack and Jill the Old Woman in the Shoe with her numerous children, Cinderella, her Prince, and the dancers at her ball.

In addition to the Fairyland characters, Irish colleens in shamrock-sprinkled costumes, Raindrops carrying parasols to match their shining costumes, swing dancers, and a group of power skaters all entertained the 700-750 people present to watch the first presentation of the Tofield Skating Club.

Performances by guest artists, Brenda Bell of Edmonton and Marilyn Schaffler of Killam, received hearty applause as did a duet by Tannis Shaw and John Donnan, and a solo by Bonnie Baergen.

The finale brought all 98 participants out on the ice to the strains of "Ca-na-da". After the applause for the performers had died down Mrs. Barbara Morris called Mrs. Karen Bruce, Mrs. Mildred Rempel and Mrs. Yvonne Borton to come on the ice to be presented with bouquets by "bunnies" Marilyn Bruce, Blair Neufeld, and Barbara Borton respectively.

Mrs. Bruce is president of the Tofield Skating Club; assisted by Mrs. Mildred Rempel and Mrs. Carol Pierce. Mrs. Bruce has also been skating instructor and has been responsible for the organization of and arrangements for Fantasyland Mrs. Borton and her family, Garry, Wayne and Barbara made the props for the show the house for the Three Little Pigs and the Old Woman, the tools of the Seven Dwarfs, etc.

Considering that the arena opened only last fall, the evening's performance was a real achievement for both instructors and students. Of the 122 students who registered for the figure skating classes, 98 participated in Fantasyland, the culmination of the winter's work.

The list of participants will be printed next week.

In the semi-finals against Vegreville, Tofield trailed by nine points at half-time but rallied in the second half to earn a hard fought 42-39 triumph that wasn't decided until the final seconds in the game. Nachtigal was the top point-getter for the Titans in this contest.

Tofield then met a big, strong team from Coaldale in the provincial finals and bowed 42-29 with Pearson leading the Titan attack. St. Mary's of Edmonton won the consolation playoff.

Witch hunt?

Cries of a witch hunt over the investigation of thousands of claimants on Unemployment Insurance have been launched following the news that something like eighty percent or more of cases investigated were dropped. And it seems the criticism might almost be justified.

Thousands of working Canadians were highly indignant over the known abuses of the UIC system which were costing so dearly in terms of raids on the fund, but even it all their indignation, we don't suppose very [illegible] people would have felt the proportion of cheaters was so overwhelming [illegible] ed how much publicity was gained only a few months before the election by how terribly difficult it was for unemployed claimants to have their cases properly processed, and accepted, it doesn't seem reasonable, or even conceivable, that the situation could have so completely, and so overwhelmingly, reversed itself in only that a few months.

It seems that some people must either have set out to prove the cheating was on an unbelievably large scale, or else they settled into work with a tainted viewpoint ready to find error where no error existed.

We must be exceptionally careful that in trying to clear up [illegible] we don't inadvertently [illegible] a worse ill that we had

"WINTER GAMES"
MARCH 13, 1973.
Ryley, Alberta.

EDITOR

In reply to your Editorial - - What Happened? Winter Games In Wainwright.

FIRST - It would be real interesting to be told who said the winter games were Scheduled for County of Beaver, and what person or persons had even committed the County or any other body within the County to such a task or undertaking without even enquiring around as to who would be interested.

SECOND - Winter Games had only taken place once previous to 1973, and they were held in Lac La Biche. Only two meetings were held prior to January, 1973 to even mention anything about the games.

We were as amazed as your many residents were to even find out we were supposed to have hosted the games, upon reading the press release and the first releases to our office.

Could your many residents or you, as Editor, tell us who they think should have been the party to have known?

THIRD - For information to fill in residents of the area that is included in the North East Winter Games, it is called Area 5 under the Culture, Youth and Recreation Department, which includes all of County of Beaver, from East side of County of Strathcona, East to the Saskatchewan border and North to include Fort McMurray - - Fort Chipewan which includes Highway 14 taking in Wainwright.

FOURTH - As was said in the beginning two meetings were held in 1972 - - first one, one month after my taking over the Regional Recreation Administator's position for the County, May 8, 1972, in Vegreville, which I attended. At this meeting, no mention was made that County of Beaver was to host the Winter Games.

Hosting was mentioned only to the effect that each one was to think about it until July or August and write it they thought they could take it on. The other alternative was to discuss it at a meeting to be set in November, 1972. It was at this meeting a decision had been made, November 1972, a date that conflicted with many important fall meetings and Seminars and no one from Beaver could attend.

Under this part, we might mention those people or groups who can attend these area meetings which are usually held in May and November of each year. Recreation Board members - - both local and regional, secretary-treasurers of Towns and Villages, or Cities within the Area 5, Councillors, lay people who are interested in Recreation as well as professionals, Club members, Associations, anyone who thinks they have something to give toward further development of the total recreation of their communities, volunteers or otherwise.

The third meeting called was Two Hills on a Saturday, January, 20th 1973, with two Government representatives, myself, Mr. Willson, Director of Wainwright, Vermilion, Lloydminster, and other representatives from about three other communities. Turnout was very poor considering the amount of notices that were sent out.

It was at this meeting, January, 1973, that I questioned; since when was County of Beaver supposed to have offered to "HOST" the 1973 Games? And why weren't we notified?

The information received was that the prior administrator of the County had made the offer to host, but never informed the county of Beaver Regional Recreation Board or any of the Local Recreation Boards of the Towns, Villages or Hamlets, and no records of information or details in the 1971 or 1972 files prior to my appointment.

We were not too happy of the news either in the way it was made known.

FIFTH - As to facilities required when hosting an event as large as this; I wonder if those residents, and anyone else who is concerned realizes just what is involved as to the number of facilities needed, and the kind.

(A) These facilities have to be in one central locality.

(B) Motels, Hotels, and billets for participants as well as spectators - - - participants were up near 500 for 1973, almost double 1972.

(C) Large enough Hall for the first evening banquet for participants and guests who wish to attend.

Even Wainwright could not handle all these with the Army Base being involved.

(D) One - Two Arena - for ladies hockey and broomball events.

(E) Large Area for snow shoeing.

(F) Curling Rinks - About 10 sheets of ice.

(G) Badminton Courts - six to twelve courts or more.

(H) Table Tennis - Fairly large Hall.

(I) Basketball and Volley ball - Two or three large Halls It is also expected that all facilities will be made available with no rental charges or at low as possible.

Referees and Umpires are expected to volunteer their time for this event as costs are being kept to a minimum so as not to get beyond the average participant.

County of Beaver may have many facilities throughout the total County, but not enough located in one specific spot to take on an event such as Winter Games. This has been discussed at various meetings when the matter came up.

We have no doubt that enough volunteers could have been found to host the program, but one has to take a serious look at this, and other matters, especially when in the whole County approximately a dozen people took time to phone the Regional Recreation office to even ask about the Winter Games.

One local Recreation Board meeting attended were concerned enough to discuss possible entries from their area and made several contacts.

Viking Badminton Club put in six entries from their area. Hamlet of Kinsella entered a men's Basketball team.

These were the only two groups interested enough to enter the Regional playoffs, which consisted of Beaver County

As they had no competition to play, they were the ones to represent the County.

Your Mr. Editor, and Mr. Mrs. resident, are really interested in being informed, or want to know more about what is happening in Area 5, your County, or your local Area, take advantage of the opportunity to attend your Recreation Board meetings. And even better still, you are all invited to the next meeting to discuss the 1973 North East Winter Games results and plans for 1974 Games.

Where: Vegreville
When: April 7, 1973 - Saturday
Time: 10:00 A.M.

For further information about this and your Board meetings - - call in, or phone the Beaver Regional Recreation Office - 663-3730.

We hope this will help to clear up the question - -"What Happened?" "What Happened" to you and your entry? "What Happened" to all the news releases sent to the two main presses in the County? Of the many sent to newspapers, Radio, T.V.?

We thank you for this opportunity to explain our side of the picture.

Yours truly,
Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board
Tofield, Ryley, Holden, Bruce, Viking, Kinsella and District Recreation Boards,
And G. Baker,
Your Administrator.

"THANK YOU"
Tofield, Alta.
March 19, 1973

Dear Sir:

I think the skating show which took place March 17th in the Tofield Arena was great. A lot of work was put into it by many to produce the program that many people saw.

I think we owe thanks to Elaine Cousins who was hired from Edmonton and to Carol Pierce who volunteered her help to teach figure skating classes. Thank you.

Margie Mahowich

Vern Gossman to head NFU Holden Local

The annual meeting of Local 715 of the National Farmers' Union was held in the Holden Community Hall on March 9th.

The assembly was chaired by Albin Lukiwicki and Art Gibson acted as secretary.

Sam Black, mayor of Holden, gave a preceptive address to the meeting. He stated the need for improving the farmer's financial status after so many hard years.

Vern Gossman defeated Albin Lukiwicki in the bid for presidency. Past president, Steve Gabrysh declined to run again for this office.

In his president's report, Steve offered complete support to the new president. He mentioned the effectiveness of collective bargaining in keeping prices at least partially in line. The canvassing is being wrapped up in the area and response has been good. This year, two youths from this local will participate in the country wide Youth Exchange program. Mr Gabrysh emphasized the NFU as being a family organization.

The result of the vice-president election brought Steve Gabrysh in by acclamation.

The 1972 national convention decided on the constitutional change of a local being able to expand its directorship from three to five directors. It was decided our local would elect five. The five elected to office are: Joe Motkoski, John Kowalik, Joan Bablitz, Nick Laskoski and Ann Motkoski.

Gordon Stromberg MLA for the Camrose constituency, was the guest speaker for the evening. He gave a very comprehensive report on the recommendations currently being presented to the Legislature on Hail and Crop Insurance. Mr. Stromberg is a committee member and he said the NFU brief brought forth three original suggestions which are being presented in the final recommendations.

He also spoke on the Petty Trespassing Bill, and told of many points needing adjustment. An active question period followed.

The Woman's District Director, Marsha Seniuk from Mundare, spoke next on the need for change in a society that was placing services ahead of the producer level. She pointed out that if such a system should continue, the (i.e.) teacher would end up owning the land rather than the farmer.

The new officers were then sworn in by the District Director, Doug Livingstone.

An announcement was made that Holden will host the District Convention on April 13.

The meeting was then adjourned on a note of thanks to Steve Gabrysh for his leadership of the last two years.

As I see it

Dr. Walter Buck, MLA

Why was a Vancouver firm, C. D. Schultz & Co. hired for $250,000 to do a timber study?

The nine month study to evaluate timber harvesting systems, reforestation methods and results, road construction and related requirements will report in September of 1973.

The Vancouver firm was one of 13 that had submitted responses to advertisments in several Forestry and Environmental publications. In announcing the study in the fall, the Minister emphasized that Alberta's management practices need to be of high quality and provide environmental protection, in balance with the economic utilization of this valuable renewable resource. The selected area for study will extend south of Grande Prairie to near the Brazeau Watershed, where a majority of timber harvesting will take place in 1973.

But why an outside firm? Surely there is sufficient expertise available in Alberta to do this study. The Government promise of Alberta first seems to have been forgotten very quickly.

During the discussion in the House on this matter the Minister felt that we needed outside consultation, but I can't fully buy this! Alberta firms and Alberta Personnel should have been given this contract.

Fish and Game Lose Grant

Last year the annual grant of $10,000 was not given out by the Government. The purpose of this grant was to help the Provincial Fish and Game people promote conservation, investigate environmental problems and advise the Government. In my opinion this was rather short sighted action, on the part of the Government. The work that the association did was returned to the people of the province ten fold.

The Provincial Association very forcefully brought this to the attention of the Minister of Lands and Forest at the annual Fish and Game dinner.

The concern of the Fish and Game people is very genuine, so keep up the good work!

Any problems, concerns or suggestions, please write: Dr. W. A. Buck, MLA, Box 1030, Fort Saskatchewan, Alberta, or phone collect 543-2166 evenings or 543-3376 day time.

Tofield plans parent-teacher day on April 6

by Grace Phillips

Friday, April 6th, is the day chosen for the second Parent-Teacher Day of the 1972-73 school year in the Tofield School. Report cards will be issued on Wednesday, April 4th, so that there will be time for parents to assess the student's progress and consider areas of concern before the scheduled interviews take place.

Unless a change is requested, parents will be given the same times as for the first interviews held last November. Forms for requested changes of interview times are being sent home with the students very shortly.

Attendance on Parent-Teacher Day has always indicated that a high percentage of Tofield parents take a keen interest in the progress of their children. The staff of the Tofield School hope that the records for high parental attendance will be maintained or exceeded on April 6th

As usual, coffee will be served by Mrs Foshaug and her assistants on interview day.

There will be the leatherwork handicraft display for you to view and a book display to commemorate the Centennial of the RCMP.

A public library is for all age groups and a good public library is community oriented; it contains materials covering all areas of reading likely to be needed by all members of the community, including adults in search of informed education, school children extending their range of interests and large-print books for those requiring that format.

We try to provide service for the individual and welcome any request to obtain books from the Extension Library at the University of Alberta.

Minor Hockey Day gets large turnouts all day

by Grace Phillips

Teams from Ryley, New Sarepta, Edmonton, Terrace Heights and Lamont participated in Tofield's Minor Hockey Day on Saturday, March 24th in the Tofield Arena.

Beginning at 8 a.m., good crowds were present all day to support their favorite teams. Telford's Mighty Mites were successful in winning the Highway 14 Mite League trophy. During an intermission in the final game of the Tofield - Ryley senior hockey series, two Mighty Mite teams entertained the crowd with an exhibition game which resulted in a scoreless tie.

Due to the necessity of a seventh game to decide the Tofield - Ryley series, part of the planned minor hockey program had to be omitted. The committee in charge had planned to acknowledge publicly the contributions made to Tofield's minor hockey program by coaches of the Mighty Mites, Don Roth and Don Litwin; of the Mites, Bert Clark, Ray Henriksen, Alan Wa[illegible]er Bruce Telford and Mr Soetart; of the Pee Wees, Keith Williams and Dave Morris; of the Bantams, John Olsen and Dave Coleman; of the Midgets, Earl Jones and Ken Stauffer; of the Juveniles, Chic Blacklock.

These coaches have worked with 114 boys registered in the league play during the past winter. J. C. Lampitt produced the program for Saturday's games. Pat Donnan, manager of the Arena, not only arranged ice-time for the playoffs but all winter has helped with the teams

The committee in charge of Minor Hockey Day were well pleased by the public attendance and by participation in the camera raffle which was won by Vic Fairbrother.

Tofield ATA holds its March meeting

Tofield Sub-local ATA held its monthly meeting March 20th

Dick Thiessen reported from the professional development committee on a proposed meeting for all the teachers to be held at Viking on May 11th. Brochures were circulated and signed to indicate the teacher's choice of topics suggested for workshop discussion.

President Ron Taylor brought a report from Beaver Local ATA. Among other matters he mentioned the possibility of sending two students from the county to a science seminar to be held in Edmonton this summer.

A letter requesting time at sub-local meetings for DRA candidates was tabled, and the meeting came to a close after the playing of a tape presenting the platform of candidate Regelini.

The next meeting is to be held on April 17th, and will host J. Course, who is to be guest speaker on the rights of teachers.

A slate of candidates for the chief offices in Beaver Local ATA is to be prepared and presented at the May meeting. This will not rule out nominations from the floor, but is intended to facilitate elections.

Jail to be phased out???

The NOW Government appears to be starting on a program that coulld see the demise of one of Fort Saskatchewan's oldest industries. Dr. Walt Buck, MLA, asked the Attorney General, was it true that the jail was to be phased out? The Attorney General said "There is, at the very tentative stages, planning which would involve replacement of some of the structures and perhaps all of them ultimately now existing in Fort Saskatchewan."

The Town Council, Chamber of Commerce, jail employees and all concerned citizens must become involved immediately, says MLA Dr. Buck, to strongly object to this move. If the Jail is to be phased out we want some type of alternative replacement, the MLA added. The time we feel that action should be taken is early so that Government will be aware of the Town of Fort Saskatchewan's disapproval.

How large should the Government bureaucracy be?

Albertans have one of the largest civil services per capita of any province in Canada. This is due to the fact that it provides more services to its people than any other province. The quality of Alberta's civil service is excellent! In my dealing and association with government workers I have found them to be very dedicated, hardworking people.

But should we be enlarging an already large service force? One of the government's main election planks was "cut out the fat in the civil service'. This seems to have been very quickly forgotten when the government took over. The first step was to increase the cabinet from 17 to 22 thus making Alberta have a larger cabinet than Ontario. Ontario has nearly four times as many people as we in Alberta have. This increase was an immediate cost to the taxpayer of $125,000 per year. Now start adding the executive assistants, secretaries, typists and expenses start mounting.

This is just the beginning. In the department of Agriculture alone nearly 400 new employees have been added. The increase in the civil service in the past 18 months and next year's projection runs well over 3000! SOME FAT CUTTING!

This week was spent on sub-committee and committee of the whole study of the estimates.

Our sub-committee has so far scrutinized Agriculture, Lands and Forests and will commence Mines and Minerals. The committee on the whole debated Agriculture, Youth, Culture and Recreation. The department of Industry and Commerce has commenced its review.

In Agriculture the main point of contention was the failure of the Federal and Provincial Government to sign an agreement on Irrigation Rehabilitation. This will be a disappointment to Southern Alberta as this project has been delayed for the past several years. The other two departments have been passed quite quickly.

Thanks go to the many concerned people who have phoned or written me regarding problems. Keep up the good work! Any requests for information, phone collect 543-2166 or write Box 1030 Fort Saskatchewan.

"OF LOCAL INTEREST"
Nanaimo, B.C. Mar. 19

Dear Sir:
Enclosed please find a clipping from the February 16th issue of our local paper here, The Nanaimo Daily Free Press, which I hope you can find space to reproduce in the local paper there of The Tofield Mercury. It would be of interest to many residents of the Tofield and Ryley areas as the McMullen family were old-timers and very early residents of the Tofield district, having settled there in 1908. There are still a great many who remember them. Paul's wife, Naweda, was a daughter of Charles Fry, another Tofield old-timer.

Mr. McMullen is trying to locate as many members as possible who served with him in Siberia and is asking that if any of your readers know of any, would they please contact him at his address here at RR1, Ladysmith, B.C. They are planning a re-union this summer at the Calgary Stampede.

Thanking you,
Your truly,
Mrs. H. P. Bruce,

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police force is 100-years-old this summer and preparations are under way right across Canada for celebrations to mark the act of Parliament, passed on May 23rd, 1873, that saw the North West Mounted Police come into being.

Theme of the Calgary Stampede will be RCMP and a replica of the original carbine the Mountie carried on his saddle has already been manufactured and released.

The winning of the trust and loyalty of Crowfoot, chief of the powerful Blackfoot Confederacy which led to the singing of the Blackfoot treaty — considered the most important Indian treaty in Canadian history — will also be recalled along with the dangers the Mounties faced from Chief Sitting Bull and his Sioux warriers and the Riel Rebellion in which the NWMP took an active part.

To one man living in Ed ar, the RCMP centennial holds special significance. In 1918 Paul Dewey McMullen was serving with the Royal North West Mounted Police with "B" Squadron in Siberia, Russia, on a peace-keeping mission that is now a part of history.

Today, he is busy trying to get in touch with as many members as possible who served with him in Russia for a re-union at the Calgary Stampede. He has contacted two, one from California — another in north Saskatchewan, who in turn are sending out enquiries on their own. "There'll be a hell of lot to talk about — so much water has run under the bridge since we parted company", he said.

Paul isn't expecting too much in the way of membership at the re-union. As he pointed out, "I'm 75 years old now and was quite young when I enlisted. Many of the men were quite a bit older than I so it's likely there aren't too many of us left from that company."

Various factors led Paul to volunteer for such venture. "I was young then and craved excitement but I guess the main thing that pushed me into it — I was out of work and the force needed men."

Born in Croydon, he came to Canada with his parents as an early age and settled on a homestead near Tofield, Alberta, where his father, a professional photographer took pictures of everything from farm machinery to work gangs, selling them to help supplement the meagre income the farm produced. Paul learned photography from his father, a hobby he has continued ever since.

After leaving school, he took a job with the Merchant's Bank, to be later taken over by the Bank of Montreal, but found that life too dull and boring.

His mother repeatedly urged him to teach school but that idea had little appeal for a youth who had ridden horses, could shoot straight and believed a man proved himself not by physical courage rather than "pencil pushing".

"There wasn't much else to do around Tofield so I went to Edmonton and joined the provincial police force. That kind of life appealed to me", he recalls.

It was the time he owned a twin Indian motorcycle and was paid seven cents a mile for serving papers on draft evaders throughout the country. "That was a full time job as the place was full of them," he said.

He was later transferred to Peace River where he became ill with rheumatic fever and was discharged from the force.

COMPLETE RECOVERY

Paul made a complete recovery from his fever and headed for Calgary looking for work. While walking the streets one day he spotted a sign reading "Wanted — Men" who can ride and shoot to join the Royal North West Mounted Police".

"I walked in and signed on — just that easy—and after a period of training found myself among 160 men and some 300 horses on a train heading for Vancouver and Siberia.

These were members who

Health Unit plans clinic

The Vegreville Health Unit is introducing a four year old clinic into its program to replace the former three-year old and school starter clinics. The purpose of such a clinic is to review the child's health growth and development and to detect defects at an early age. Early detection and attention to such defects as vision or hearing problems which might interfere with a child's educational and social adjustment is highly desirable and in the best interests of the child. Discussion of parents individual concerns regarding their children will be an important part of such a clinic.

Four year old clinics have been introduced in other areas and have proven to be successful in detecting a significant number of defects which could then be dealt with at an early age. Four years of age is suggested as an appropriate time for such a review since the child is old enough to cooperate with screening tests and yet young enough to receive necessary treatment before entering school.

Parents of children who will be reaching their fourth birthday in 1973 will be notified of these clinics.

Those parents of children who will be entering school this fall and who wish to see the public health nurse in that regard are advised to contact the nearest Health Unit office. Formal school starter clinics will not be held but special arrangements can be made on request. Your child will be seen by the nurse as soon after he/she begins school as possible.

Adults are reminded that immunization against Tetanus and Polio is recommended and that boosters are due every ten years. Those who received Sabin Polio Vaccine in 1963 are due for boosters this year.

News from Ministik and district

(Mrs. Jim Roddick)

Tuesday evening was hockey night for several of us. First the Ardrossan Pee Wee A's defeated the girls team by a score of 4 - 0. The A's reported that girls play rough hockey.

Next were the Pee Wee B's from Tofield up against the Ardrossan B's. In a good game the Ardrossan B's defeated Tofield 4 - 1. For a team that knew no organized hockey until this year Tofield shows great promise, due to the coaching of Keith Williams. David Williams plays defense for Tofield. Then it was the Ardrossan Midgets first turn in the second Provincial play down game with Two Hills. Ardrossan got the initial goal shortly after the game opened scoring their second goal later in the period. Two Hills came on strong in the second period and the score stood at 3 - 2 for them at the end of the period. Early in the 3rd period Ardrossan tied the score and seconds later went ahead maintaining their score of 4 - 3. Then they opened up and got four more goals, final score being 8 - 4. Total goals to count in two games gave the Ardrossan team a 14 - 10 victory. Keith Horricks played a good position on defense, saving many sure goals.

Ardrossan then were champions in their league for Northern Alberta.

On Saturday afternoon, Stettler came to Ardrossan to challenge them as Central Alberta representatives. Ardrossan got 3 goals in the 1st period - 1 goal in the second, then Stettler came through with a counter making the score at the end of the 2nd period 4 - 1. Then in the 3rd period Stettler came on strong and got 2 more counters, the final score being 4 - 3 in Ardrossan's favor. Ardrossan were not so fortunate in their return game in Stettler on Sunday, the score being 4 -1. After a 1 - 0 lead until the end of the second period Ardrossan could not come forth with any more counters, while Stettler came on with four unanswered goals. The final score being 4 - 1. Total points of the series 7 - 5 for Stettler who now goes up against Southern Alberta.

Mrs. Ronald Swabey, Mrs. Frank Swabey and Mrs. Russell Rowland were Monday shoppers in Edmonton.

The Alberta Housing Corporation (AHC) is a crown corporation formed in Alberta to deal with all aspects of housing. One of the Corporations major programs is to provide mortgage loans for low and middle income families who plan to build, buy or improve a home. A builder may also apply for a loan to build housing to sell or rent to these families. All applications are considered on the basis of need.

If you are planning to build a new home, loans are available though the AHC. You may design and build the house yourself or have a contractor build it for you, as long as it meets standards set by the Alberta Housing Corporation. All plans and specificiations must be approved before you start to build. This includes structure, Plumbing, Heating and Ventilation. Plans must also meet local and muncipal standards and Department of Health regulations. You may include a garage in the design as long as it meets the approval of local by-laws.

To be eligible to apply for a loan you must either own or plan to buy the land you wish to build on.

You may borrow up to $22,000, plus the insurance fee. The current rate of interest charges is 8 and three quarter percent but this is subjet to change by the Corporation. The amount of time to repay the loan is decided by the AHC and can be up to 40 years. Your down payment is the difference between the amount of your loan and the total cost of your home (at least 5 percent of the appraised value of the house).

It's a good idea to hire a lawyer to look after the mortgage arrangements; his fees are paid by you.

Fire insurance and extended coverage for the full value of the house or the approved loan, whichever is less must be purchased with losses payable to the AHC.

How to Apply? —An application for a loan may be obtained from the Alberta Housin Corporation. A fee of $35.00 must be enclosed with the application plus other information and plans you are from the AHC. please contact resentatives will be glad to discuss it with you.

For further information on other types of loans available from the AHC, please contact the Department of Agriculture office in Vegreville or the Alberta Housing Corporation, 11810 Kingsway Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta. (453-3511) had volunteered for army duty.

The Armistice had actually been signed but these men didn't know it at the time. In fact there was still some doubt in their minds as to why they were going to Russia in the first place. However after a 17-day crossing in rough seas on the S.S. Monteagle, a 15,000 ton Glasgow wheat ship, converted into a troop carrier with Paul leaning over the rail most of the trip from sea sickness.

"What made us mad," Paul said, "was that we were volunteers and yet we had the worst ship possible to sail on. But a contingent of draft deserters who had been rounded up and put on board with fixed bayonets sailed on the Empress of Russia, a beautiful ship that made the crossing in seven or eight days."

The same held true when we returned and I was sick all the way home, hanging over the same rails of the same ship Monteagle."

Peace keeping, or in Paul's words trying to keep some control over the Bolsheviks, were their main duties but that wasn't easy.

"It seemed to me that all Russians wore the same uniforms and you couldn't tell the Bolsheviks from the Romanoffs.

SMUGGLED CAMERAS

Paul managed to smuggle in a couple of cameras, a completely illegal act in Russia, even in those days and in one dark corner of the barracks he managed to rig up a sort of darkroom in which he printed many shots taken from surrounding areas.

Several of these photos are now in the RCMP museum in Regina along with badges Paul wore on his uniform.

Paul remembers having a relatively easy time free from any major events, during his eight-month stay in Siberia. What comes first to his mind was a 20 mile ride in 24 degrees below zero temperature with high winds blowing sand and snow in his face to unload pack mules from a ship.

"Our major was against us going out in such weather but we were under a Captain Duffus who believed in the old Mountie tradition that any job must be done forthwith regardless of hazards."

"It was a miserable ride and 40 men were later treated for frost bite—even the horses barely made it," Paul said.

But grinning, when he remembered an incident, he said it was almost worth it. "Our tough Captain froze himself to the saddle and spent an agonizing night following the ride."

On his return to Canada Paul first resigned from the army and then went to Regina and got a discharge from the police force. From his severence pay he bought a farm but wheat prices dropped and he gave up farming and headed for the west coast where he worked at various jobs until retiring to settle in Cedar with his wife, Neweda.

A change in the ideal spring weather came Sunday night with some rain and sleet falling which was all gone by morning but leaving the air a little colder, although still real spring weather. Gophers crows, geese and ducks have been seen quite frequently lately as well as reports of meadowlark and other early spring birds. Tulips here are at least 3 or 4 inches tall and seem to be thriving at present as even though the temperature has been dipping to near ten degrees above zero in some parts the last two nights.

Erma and Fred Onyschuk of Edmonton were Sunday visitors at the home of Erma's brother, George and Ida Niemetz. They also visited at the home of another brother, Charlie and Mickey Niemetz.

REMINDER TO SEED BUYERS

The following points are important to farmers who buy seed and want to be sure they are getting seed with high purity and germination.

Advertisements of "Seed for Sale" and "Grain for Sale" may not always be clear in indicating if the grain is Seed for planting or grain for feeding

Advertisements may also indicate that the seed is pedigreed seed when it may only have been field inspected and not have pedigreed status.

Seed is not to be advertised or sold by Variety Name unless that variety has been licensed for sale in Canada

Forage and rapeseed is only to be sold by Variety Name when it has been graded and tagged as Pedigreed seed

Seed offered for sale, held in position for sale, sold or distributed, must be graded and labelled as required by the Regulations under the Canada Seeds Act

Certified seed of wheat oats barley, rye and flax may be sold in Bulk by persons or farms who have been authorized to do so

It is unlawful to advertise or sell any grain as seed for planting purposes unless such seed conforms to the requirements of the Seeds Regulations

Preliminary plans set for having Canada Day

by Grace Phillips

Preliminary plans for the 1973 Canada Day celebration were the chief item of business to come before the Tofield Community League at its regular meeting Tuesday, April 3rd, in the Tofield Community Centre, with president Bob Moss in the chair and a better than average attendance.

Representatives from most of the participating organizations were present to pledge their group's share in the work, profits, or losses of the planned celebration.

Marvin Bruce for the Curling Club, Bob Moss for the Chamber of Commerce, Doug Coffin for the Baseball Club, Harold Schultz for the Historical Society, John Moore for the 4-H Club, Ed Regehr for the Lions, Andy Heiberg for the Agricultural Society took part in the plans. Previously Uniform and the Beaver Hills Light Horse Association had also notified their willingness to participate in the celebration which this year will be on July 2nd, since July 1st falls on Sunday.

Much discussion centred around the parade which last year was noticeably smaller than for many previous years. It was felt that a good parade with a band is essential to the success of the day. Since this year is the Centennial of the RCMP, there was some thought of honoring Canada's famous police force in the theme for the day or in some other way.

Other business of the meeting included Hans Christensen's treasurer's report showing heavy expenditures for insurance and improvements in electrical wiring for the Centre. A recent bingo showed a net loss since the $100 jackpot was paid out.

A ham bingo for Wednesday, April 18th, was planned. There will be 13 games and a $50 jackpot. Bill Christensen and Bob Moss will be in charge.

Arnold Swift reported that the Town Council had written to The Mercury re cost of supplying the weekly paper to ratepayers of the town. No reply had been received.

Attend session

M. Hudema (seated) of Manning and George Knudsiten of Ryley were two of the Albertans in attendance at the four-day national conference of the Canadian Emergency Measures Organization held recently in Arnprior, Ontario.

Old-Timers end season

On Wednesday, March 28th, the Old Timers defeated Lamont 3-2 in a rough, but fast game. Scoring for Tofield were Kelly Willers, Jack Lerbekmo and Swede Jorken with one goal each. McNeil, Lerbekmo, Stauffer and Sorken got the assists.

On Friday, March 30th, the Old-Timers wound up the season by losing to Dr. Buck's Bukaroos 8-3. Johnny Olsen, Owen Jones and Bill Miskew got the goals with assists going to O. Jones, Lerbekmo, McNeil and Davenport.

Coach of the Old-Timers, Harold Blakley, thanked the public for their support this past season and gave a special "thanks" to the sponsors who donated the uniforms to the team.

Allan Zwierschke heads Agricultural Society

The Holden and District Agricultural Society held an open meeting on March 30th with approximately 30 people in attendance.

Chairman for the evening was Allan Zwierschke, assisted by Dennis Cooper as acting secretary.

A tentative constitution was presented, discussed and subsequently approved by the people present.

Officers for the Society were then elected and are as follows: Pres., Allan Zwierschke; first vice-pres., Wm. Ogrodnick; second vice-pres., Rueben Lauhe. Elected to the Board of Directors were: Bob Markus, Dave Payne, Lara Olson, Norman Keeth, Zane Bilyk, Norman Lefaive, Stella Komarnisky, Donna Keeler, James Tymchak, Harry Shyba and Lyle Gresland. A secretary - treasurer will be appointed by the board at a later date.

The object of the Society shall be to encourage improvements in all aspects of community activities. Its present objective is the clubbing of an area curling rink complex. Discussion took place in this regard. George Hoker, Recreation Director for the County of Beaver, was present as a resource person and had much to offer in the way of information. Mr. Williams, representing Bolidan Steel Buildings of Lethbridge was also in attendance and presented slides showing the different types of structures that his company had to offer.

Membership in the Holden Agricultural Society is open to anyone for a fee of one dollar per year.

As I see it

by Dr. W. A. Buck, MLA

The government has increased the royalties on grazing lands in the province. This has been achieved through an Order-in-Council, dated March 13th, which has increased the royalties by 50% in the area south of Edmonton. The area north of Edmonton has been increased by 20%. Thus, when the residents south of Edmonton receive their grazing rental notices this year, they can expect to find a substantial increase. This increase will likely be in the range of 60% due to the 10% increase in the price of beef, plus 50% increase in the grazing land royalties. This enormous increase comes at a time when prospects for a good crop year are not as good as we have enjoyed for the past few years.

The government has taken a great deal of satisfaction in attempting to convey the image it is not increasing taxes. As a matter of record, the Provincial Treasurer in his budget address, clearly stated there would be no tax increases for this year. Now we have the spectacle of having a 50% increase in the grazing royalties for all the area south of Edmonton.

It is even more disturbing when the municipalities have been given the ultimatum they will not receive their incentive grants if they do not keep their mill rates within the 7½% guidelines.

I also think I should make the observation that when you have an increase of 50% in the area south of Edmonton and only 20% north of Edmonton, you have perpetuated a discrimination against a large segment of the cattle producing area.

During Mr. French's remarks (S.C. Hanna-Oyen) in the Legislature on Monday afternoon, he urged the government to rescind their Order-in-Council which increased the forage values. He felt no change should be made until such time as we have an equitable relationship in the ratio of assessment between arable and pasture lands. As a matter of fact, we had a number of our members in the Opposition express their concern over the huge increases in grazing land royalties, when they took part in the debate on Monday afternoon.

The government has also indicated they will not be making a decision on the ratio of assessment between arable and grazing lands for at least another six months. Thus, it would appear the cattle industry will be subjected to the massive increase in grazing land royalties for this year, without the adjustment in assessment which could result from a more equitable relationship in the ratio of assessment between arable and pasture lands.

On Monday night the Legislature sat until 4:00 a.m. Normally it is up to the government leader to decide when it is time for adjournment. The last 15 or 20 minutes of the late session sparked the most unruly debate I have seen in years. Perhaps it was the time of night that tempers were frayed. In any case, one weary member observed it was obvious the government wanted to complete the estimates on the Attorney General Department to get the least amount of adverse publicity which has been generated from the contentious Slave Lake affair and the Dr. Craig case.

Beaver Council meets

Present were: Crs. Brimacombe, Knudsen, Kropielnicki, Laube, Sears, Johnston and Roddick. Also present: A. R. Cross, Secretary-Treasurer.

The meeting was called to order by the Reeve, Cr. Roddick, at 10:30 A.M.

Moved that the minutes of the regular meeting of January 11th, 1973, be accepted.

Moved that the Public Works Committee Meeting Minutes of February 9th, 1973, be accepted.

The hospital reports for Tofield and Viking were given at this time and accepted.

A letter was received from the Department of Highways and Transport advising that they cannot include a project on S.R. 854 south of Ryley on their secondary road program for 1973.

On January 18th, 1973, a letter was submitted to Dop Mauschkowski, M.P. for Vegreville, regarding the C.N.R. rail line from Vegreville to Camrose. County Council has been considering this roadbed as a possible cross-country road from Vegreville to Camrose provided it could be completely abandoned as a railway. Council does not see the necessity of keeping this rail line as the grain from the country elevators could probably be moved by trucks and loaded on grain cars through elevators on the main lines, much more efficiently than by running trains down these lines. Subsequent correspondence received from Mr. Mauschkowski indicated that he had received information from the C.N.R. indicating that an agreement had been reached with the Province of Alberta whereby the properties which C.N.R. acquired from the Province for the Vimdell-Kaybob line extension would be exchanged for the Vegreville-Camrose and Tofield-Camrose rights-of-way. The Province intends to transfer this property to the Alberta Wildlife Foundation. The Foundation is concerned that insufficient land is available in the more intensively cultivated areas for birds and other wildlife and therefore would allow the rights-of-way to revert to their natural state.

Moved that this correspondence be received and that the Provincial authorities be advised, indicating that County Council does not agree with this proposal.

Correspondence was received from the Department of Highways regarding S.R. 857, Vegreville to Bruce. The Department of Highways have a nine-mile section of this road for grading included in their 1973 program.

Moved that this correspondence be received and filed, and that a request be submitted to the Department of Highways asking that S.R. 857 north from Bruce be included in this project in 1973.

Louis Slipec attended the meeting at this time with regard to the numerous requests the County of Beaver has been receiving for subdivisions of forty acres or less. Mr. Slipec indicated that their Department would have no objection to subdivisions of less than forty acres providing the land subdivided had no agricultural value. As a result of this discussion it was moved that policy regarding subdivisions be amended to allow smaller parcels than forty acres providing the parcel to be subdivided is marginal or unproductive agricultural land.

A request was received to subdivide the N.W. 11-50-19-W4

Moved that we have no objection to this subdivision provided the County of Beaver is not required to provide access roads to the subdivided areas.

Moved that we have no objection to the subdivision of the N.W. 32-50-20-W4 provided we are not requested to provide access roads to the subdivided areas.

Correspondence was received from the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and Counties regarding the municipal assistance grant and the municipal incentive grant.

There are two ways Counties and Municipalities can budget for 1973.

a) Levy the hospital mill rate in 1973 as part of their municipal mill rate and also compute the allowable 7 and one half percent increase on the total municipal and hospital mill rate

b) Compute the 7 and one half percent allowable increase on their total 1972 budget (less school) rather than on only the municipal mill rate.

Moved that this correspondence be received and filed and that a letter be submitted to the Minister of Municipal Affairs advising that the County wishes to budget as follows:

Levy the hospital mill rate in 1973 as part of our municipal mill rate and also compute the allowable 7 and one half percent increase on the total of municipal and hospital mill rate.

Correspondence was received from the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and Counties, regarding the need for improvement of liaison between the Counties and the Provincial Highway Depart-

A listing prepared by William Chappell, piano tuner, was distributed indicating the best to worst planos. Of the present thirty-five pianos in schools, principals have indicated that approximately twenty are required and used on a regular basis. The School Administrators have suggested that nineteen pianos be sold and that four new pianos be purchased for the four large schools.

Moved that the School Committee sell pianos Nos. 19 to 35 by public tender with a reserve price and that the funds from the sale be used to purchase one piano for each of the four large schools.

A number of friends and relatives met Saturday evening and held a surprise "house warming" for Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Alberts who recently purchased the former Royal Bank house. A pleasant social evening was spent visiting and those present presented them with a lovely tri-light lamp. The ladies present had brought lunch, which was served to end a very enjoyable evening.

Wednesday afternoon visitors in Viking were Mrs. Ethel Brelstead and Mrs. Mabel Story. Mabel going for a doctor's check-up.

Grant Hooper and friend, Joe Labuweiter from Elkford, B.C. were visiting with Grant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hooper over the week-end, returning to Elkford Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Florence Poolse was a patient in Tofield hospital for a few days and returned home Monday, after having a check-up.

"WINTER'S OVER"
Tofield, March 28th

Dear Sir:
My greetings to you.
Our winter is almost over,
And Spring is here at hand;
Now what have we accomplished
Toward God and Fellow man.
As we are older grown,
The young are following on;
Have we a pattern been?
For them to understand.
We love our young generation
As we were young once, too;
So now let them take over,
And see what they can do.
As our season turns to spring time,
So let our lives shine too,
To God our great creator,
Give praise and thank Him, too.
Sincerely,
Petra Stauffer.

SHEERS AND LACES

Sheer shapes for spring . . . eyelet, voile, lawn in great new revivals, dimity, chambray, organza, light-weight cottons and blends in a myriad of prints, plains and plaids. Tex tures are soft, soft or fresh crisp. Lace is a sensation — a wonderful word here in polyester. Also super cotton laces, super nylon laces, new colors, 5 outthul looking galloon laces, printed or embroidered with lots of new appeal in borders. Sew a lovely prom or graduation dress in a border sheer fabric.

Patterns for sheers and laces are definitely geared with few seams and darts and a gentle fit, because the fabrics usually will not stand too much stress. Patterns especially designed for sheers and laces as they include all instruction for finishing garments.

Since lace has no grain line to follow, pattern pieces should be placed to show lace design to best advantage. The right side of lace is often a side on which the cord outlining the pattern stands out or lies on top. Underlinings for sheers or laces should be chosen carefully to give depth interest or opaqueness, and they are cut from the same pattern pieces as the garment. For a roman ce effect leave sleeves unlined as in the season's pop ular bishop sleeve.

For lined garments, mark construction details on the wrong side of the fabric pieces only making sure markings do not show through. Place right side of fabric to wrong side of lining. For unlined dress and sheers, it is advisable to use tailor's tacks.

Adjustments for sewing will be well depend on the figure of the fabric. Here are some points of guidance. Tension — use of Dynamic Average to Full Stitch length, reduce to only 10 stitches to the inch for sheers. Needle — size 11 for lace; very fine 9 or 10 for sheers; Thread — fine and suitable to fabric ols outlined the 1973 Individual School Budget. It was noted that the Capital Equipment Budget was reduced by one dollar per student and the Instructional Aids materials was increased by one dollar per student from last year's budget. All 1972 under-expenditures less 1 per cent of the 1972 budget will be carried forward to the 1973 budget.

If you need any help when you are sewing up that grad uation dress be sure and give us a call at 612-2897

Moved that the School Committee approve the 1973 Individual School Budget.

Neil Cannon, Viking School Principal, was approached by the Lloydminster School Unit, No 60 to give a two-hour presentation dealing with Individualization of Instruction, on February 23rd, 1973. The Superintendent of Schools approved this request providing that the Lloydminster Board reimburse the cost of a substitute teacher for one day and that Mr. Cannon be re-imbursed his personal expenses.

Moved that the School Committee concur in this action.

Moved that the School Committee approves the purchase from Percy Pepper of a 1967 Chev. tow truck for $3,000.00.

At this time the School Committee discussed the use of County owned school buses for community uses. One appparent problem that has occurred with the community owning the bus is that no storage facility has been available.

The Secretary - Treasurer contacted the Highway Traffic Branch which stated that a permit is required when the bus makes special trips. The use of County school buses by communities would be classed a special trip.

Moved that the School Committee accept this information and that storage space if available in County bus garages be made available to communities by organizations at no cost to them.

Correspondence was received from the Department of Education requesting a nomination from the County to the Canadian Studies Forum to be held in Calgary April 29th to May 5th, 1973. Since the total accepted is twenty-one from Alberta, the Counties candidate may or may not be named to the Forum.

Moved that the School Committee sponsor a candidate to the Canadian Studies Forum if named and that a contribution of $50.00 be paid for that person's expenses.

Moved that the School Committee receive and file the following correspondence received from the Alberta School Trustees Association:

- Proposed Calgary Power Rate Increase
- Report on A.S.T.A. staff and executive meeting at Banff:
- Negotiations with C.U.P.E.
- Labour Relations Seminar
- Teacher training increased to two years
- Various newspaper clippings.

The Superintendent of Schools distributed estimated figures on enrolment and staffing for the 1973-74 school year. These figures indicated that to maintain a 1:20 or 1:18 teacher-pupil ratio, the present teaching staff must be reduced by six to eight teachers for the 1973-74 school year. It was agreed that no teachers on one year contracts be advised, if possible, early in May as to whether or not the contract will be made permanent.

It was agreed also that some may be advised earlier if there is no doubt about the quality of teaching service being rendered.

As there was no further business it was moved that the meeting adjourn.

County Council briefs

ment with reference to overload permits. The following suggestions were presented for discussion and consideration.

a) The issuing of a permit by the province for haul from point of loading to point of delivery by a process which would be able to deal with the characteristics of the road throughout the wrole length of the route, this being done using one permit and one central authority.

b) The issuing of a permit which would require the authority of the department and of the municipal district or districts on one permit form such that all were in the picture in respect to the haul involved.

The present system is sometimes complicated because of the different approach taken by different jurisdictions throughout the province. It may be that through an evaluation of the problems that prorating permit fees from one central location might better and more efficiently serve the industry and control the loading by a more effective means.

Moved that we support in principle this suggestion and that a letter be written to the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and Counties advising that this subject be a topic for discussion at the spring meeting to be held in Edmonton, on March 28th, 1973.

Notice was received from the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and Counties advising that the annual spring meeting is to be held March 28th, at the MacDonald Hotel in Edmonton.

Moved that any of the councillors that find it possible, attend this convention.

A letter was received from the Department of Highways and Transport with regard to Development Permits requirements in the vicinity of Highways. Pursuant to the Public Highways Development Act, the Development Permit is required from the Deparment of Highways for proposed development within one-thousand feet of a highway right-of-way boundary, or within one-half mile of the inter-section of the highway, with the public road. The highways concerned are primary highways and public road includes undeveloped road allowances.

Correspondence was received from Beaver Foundation indicating that the Senior Citizens Home in Viking operated last year with a deficit of $9,460.27. The County portion of this requisition is $6,876.78.

Moved that this requisition be paid.

The Secretary-Treasurer reported on an accident involving Arthur Pointkoski, which occurred on December 24th, 1972, at the intersection at the S.E. 6-48-17-4. This matter has been turned over to Jubilee Insurance Agencies Ltd.

Moved that this report be accepted.

A request was received from Mr. C. McMillan, Outside Plant Engineering and Construction Supervisor, of A.G.T. Mr. McMillan requested permission to cross the County of Beaver oiled roads in the Tofield area with A.G.T. cable at a fee of $20.00 per crossing.

Moved that this request be granted.

Moved that a motion of intent be made for the closing of the road allowance, situated on the S.W. 23-51-20-4, N. 1 and one half miles.

Notice was received from Bruce Ray that in his opinion something should be done with regard to a dangerous corner situated on the N. of N.E. 31-50-20-W4.

Moved that this matter be referred to Cr. Sears.

Moved that Court of Revision commence April 16th, 1973 at 10:00 A.M.

Moved that the annual meeting of the County of Beaver be held in Viking in the Legion Hall on March 19th, 1973.

A wiring permit had been requested at the January Council Meeting for the wiring of the Kinsella Grader Shed. A letter had been received from the Department of Manpower and Labour advising that all electrical work must be carried out by a certified electrical contractor and it is his responsibility to obtain the necessary covering permit for the installations he undertakes.

Moved that this matter be referred to Cr. Johnston.

Notice was received that the Annual Convention of the Alberta Provincial Fire Chiefs Association will be held in the Town of Sylvan Lake, June 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th.

A request was received from Gordon Nelson for an improvement of a road to his property

Moved that this letter be referred to Cr. Sears.

A request was received from Karl Peterson to subdivide the farmsite out of the land registered in the name of Lars Peterson.

Moved that this correspondence be received and filed and that Mr. Peterson be advised to contact the Provincial Planning Board in Edmonton.

Gerald Allott attended the meeting at this time and gave the Public Works Report for the month of January, 1973.

Moved that the following old equipment be advertised for sale: 2 old winch trucks and 1 old cook shack.

As there was no further business it was moved that the meeting adjourn at 5 p.m.

IN MEMORIAM

UNDIN — In loving memory of my dear wife, and loving mother, Alma, who was called home April 9th, 1972:
God's golden gate stood open,
Just one year ago today;
With farewells left unspoken
You quietly slipped away
You suffered much in silence
Your spirits did not bend,
You faced your pain with courage
Until the very end.
You tried so hard to stay with us
Your fight was all in vain,
God took you to His loving home
And freed you from all pain.
Loved and remembered and sadly missed by your husband, George, children, Rudolf and Louise, Martha and Ernest, Ellen and Gustav, Clifford and Ruth.

UNDIN - In loving memory of Grandma, Alma Undin, who passed away April 9th, 1972:
When days are dark, friends few,
Grandma, dear, we think of you.
Friends are friends, if they are true,
We lost our best when we lost you.
Always remembered by all your grandchildren. 32p 7972

GIEBELHAUS — In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Phillip, who passed away April 8th, 1972:
The depth of sorrow we can not tell,
Of the loss of one we loved so well;
And while he sleeps a peaceful sleep,
His memory we shall always keep.

ADDED DIGNITY

"Co-operatives have added dignity to agriculture; this may be the most important thing history will have to say about co-operatives," U. S. Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Dr. Thomas K. Cowden told 150 Maryland farm leaders recently at the 12th annual meeting of the Md. Council of Farmer Co-ops. Dr. Cowden said, "as society grows more complex and farm organizations become larger, it is harder and harder to make the individual feel important. But farmer co-operatives have done this." Dr. Cowden cautioned the farmer co-op leaders that there may come a time when the farmers will have "to be protected from their own co-operatives". As co-operatives grow larger and more complex, it becomes increasingly important for the individual farmer to retain control. If co-operative management ceases to be responsive to its individual members then the organization is no different from any other large corporation.

In a Kansas City, Mo. speech to Far-Mar-Co., a regional grain marketing co-operative, E. A. Jaenke, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration, said, "If farmers are to advance in the present day economy they will have to gain greater control over the processing and marketing of their products. Forward integration has long been recognized as a means to achieve this goal. Now it is time for the talk to end and broad scale action to begin" He pointed out that some co-operatives such as those involved in cranberries and butter have historically integrated their operations all the way to the consumer, with satisfactory results for farmers and consumers. "But in most instances," he said, "farmers have had little or no involvement in the processing and distribution of the food they produce. One of the reasons for this lack of control is that the greater amounts of equity capital necessary for such ventures have not been available.

Take advantage of the handicapped.

If you hire people.
And want capable, productive, committed employees, you should be hiring the handicapped worker.

Firstly, the word "handicapped" is misleading. When a worker is disabled he has many skills remaining that maximize his ability and are not affected by his disability

In that sense, he is not handicapped at all. He is an equal competitor at his skill And he asks no favors.

Most disabled people have developed new skills. They show incredibly high standards of productivity.
They appreciate their jobs.
And they are stable and reliable
They have a little extra to prove
All they ask for is the chance

A good businessman can spot a solid investment Hiring the disabled is smart business. Our case histories prove this Contact our Vocational Rehabilitation Department and see what we have to offer
Then take advantage of it

ADDED DIGNITY

"Co-operatives have added dignity to agriculture; this may be the most important thing history will have to say about co-operatives," U. S. Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Dr. Thomas K. Cowden told 150 Maryland farm leaders recenly at the 12th annual meeting of the Md. Council of Farmer Co-ops. Dr. Cowden said, "as society grows more complex and farm organizations become larger, it is harder and harder to make the individual feel important. But farmer co-operatives have done this." Dr. Cowden cautioned the farmer co-op leaders that there may come a time when the farmers will have "to be protected from their own co-operatives". As co-operatives grow larger and more complex, it becomes increasingly important for the individual farmer to retain control. If co-operative management ceases to be responsive to its individual members then the organization is no different from any other large corporation.

In a Kansas City, Mo. speech to Far-Mar-Co., a regional grain marketing co-op erative, E. A. Jaenke, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration, said, "If farmers are to advance in the present day economy they will have to gain greater control over the processing and marketing of their products. Forward integration has long been recognized as a means to achieve this goal. Now it is time for the talk to end and broad scale action to begin" He pointed out that some co-operatives such as those involved in cranberries and honey have historically integrated their operations all the way to the consumer, with satisfactory results for farmers and consumers. "But in most instances," he said, "farmers have had little or no involvement in the processing and distribution of the food they produce. One of the reasons for this lack of control is that the greater amounts of equity capital necessary for such ventures have not been available.

ton Lodge. A report of the weekly bingos was given, also reports given by Bro. Robert MacKay on junior hockey. A discussion took place regarding the purchase of new bingo cards. It was also decided to have the sweaters of hockey team's (which they sponsor) cleaned.

Take advantage of the handicapped.

If you hire people.
And want capable, productive, committed employees, you should be hiring the handicapped worker.

Firstly, the word "handicapped" is misleading. When a worker is disabled he has many skills remaining that maximize his ability and are not affected by his disability

In that sense, he is not handicapped at all. He is an equal competitor at his skill. And he asks no favors.

Most disabled people have developed new skills. They show incredibly high standards of productivity.
They appreciate their jobs.
And they are stable and reliable.
They have a little extra to prove.
All they ask for is the chance.

A good businessman can spot a solid investment. Hiring the disabled is smart business. Our case histories prove this. Contact our Vocational Rehabilitation Department and see what we have to offer.

TEACHERS GO BACK TO SCHOOL.

The Southern Alberta Teachers' Strike is still being negotiated but the teachers have gone back to their class rooms.

Negotiations between ASTA and ATA have been at an impasse for nearly three weeks. The Minister of Labor, Dr. Hohol, several times attempted to bring both sides together. The contract has not been signed but, the teachers were ordered back to work.

It appears that the Minister ordered the strike to come to an end and that a deadline should be reached on the signing of a contract.

Many teachers have contacted me indicating their opposition to this type of action and I appreciate their interest and concern.

UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES COMMISSION DISSOLVED

The government has presented three bills that will bring to the end the Universities and Colleges Commission.

I believe that this is a retrogressive step in that we do not know specifically what will replace it. The purpose of the Commission was to place the universities at arms length from the government. The autonomy and independence of the universities is a very important factor and government must not dictate or attempt to control their independence. The commission will be taken under the Department of Advanced Education. An Advisory Board will take the place of the Commission, but our concern is the mechanics of the Board's operations. Too many questions have been left unanswered and the people at the universities have indicated their concern.

We on our side of the House would like to see a Legislative Committee set up to consider all aspects of maintaining the independence of the university.

Any and all suggestions on these matters would be appreciated.

My sincere thanks to the many people who have indicated their concerns and views in the form of phone calls and letters.

Keep it up! Phone collect 543-2166 or write Box 1030, Fort Saskatchewan.

TOUCHES OF SPRING

Quiet Details and clear color are really what put the Spring 1973 on clothes. Colors are happy. They can be pale or bright, strong or subtle in contrast, but they are seldom sombre. Happiness and hope, incidentally, are two big influences in fashion now. The colors are one manifestation of that fact, the gaiety of dots from pin to polka to coin and the crispness of checks are others. If any colors lead, they are bright green, sunny yellow and soft pink. But it's strictly the wearer's choice.

Perhaps the best thing about a season when detail is king, is that you don't have to spend a lot of money to achieve current looks. The details to watch:

Hats: Soft cloches with unstructured brims, wrapped turban shapes.

Hair: Slick but soft, in lengths from short to Garbo (just above the shoulders).

Makeup: Obvious but healthy. No Vampira looks.

Jewellry: No real symbol, but the heart's in there pitching. Important are the "naturals" (not always real) like ivory, bone, tortoiseshell, chains of ball bearings, wood, silver.

The Halter: Still the big neckline news in all kinds of variations. Newest perhaps, the collared version.

Flowers: The frankly phoney flower is back, like it or not. Usually white. Sometimes tucked discreetly beneath your collar or at the waist of a diagonal-wrap blouse or dress. Never placed front and centre.

The Drawstring: Everywhere. At necks (halter), at waists of jackets, skirts, dresses. At cuffs.

Belts: Narrow. The simpler the better. Great colors. Looking especially good at the bottom of a wide waistband. Buckles are often animals, real or abstract.

Skirts: Somewhere around the knee in length. Always with some action fullness like pleats (all kinds) or interesting gores.

"NONE OF MY BUSINESS"

Tofield, March 27

Dear Sir:

When on Main Street the other day, I referred to the water situation and it was pointedly inferred that it was "none of my business". But when I had to wait for some time to get enough for a cup of tea the feeling came over me that it was the business of all of the citizens of the town

And then I remembered that, when the present system was being set up, Amisk Creek was discussed Some years before the CNR had built a dam just north of Highway 14 to supply the old steamer locomotives with their daily needs, and that many of the boys of my age went from town for a swim

But, to those of us living north of Tofield who crossed Hastings Creek on our way to shop and haul our grain to the elevators, we felt that it was the best source of supply, as there was three times the water flowing most of the time and some winters it ran all the year around And that there was in it the best dam site of the west side of Beaverhills Lake and no "big rock" either. Now we hear that Ducks Unlimited are interested in filling Cooking Lake, Hastings Lake and into Beaverhill Lake from the North Saskatchewan River Mayhaps Ducks Unlimited might give us something more than just duck hunting Then as many of us wish, Tofield could continue to grow and eventually need more than one source of supply, using one or so for reserve

Then if it comes to the worst (or best) we might acquire cloud seeding equipment and fill two or three each year for reserve

License new barley

—A new feed barley has been licensed and released for sale in Canada by Agriculture Canada, reports Battle River MP Harry Kuntz.

The new variety — Vanier was developed by federal agricultural scientists at the Cereal Section of the Agriculture Canada Ottawa Research Station.

Vanier is a six-row, smooth-awned, yellow aleurone strain of feed barley suited mainly to growing conditions in eastern Ontario. It comes from a cross made in 1950 involving York, Velvet, Olli, OAG-21 and Anoidium.

Vanier's yielding ability is greater than that of varieties commonly grown in eastern Canada. In three years of testing, it yielded eight per cent more than Conquest and 11 per cent more than Champlain.

It has better lodging resistance and higher bushel weight than Champlain.

Vanier does not have acceptable malting quality so will be grown as a feed barley. It is resistant to stem rust and loose smut with tolerance to prevalent races of powdery mildew.

Only limited quantities of seed are available, and will be distributed through the Seed Stock Distribution Committees for multiplication increase in 1973.

Breeders seed will be maintained by the Cereal Section, Ottawa Research Station.

Elaine Field, a native of Bruce, now residing in Edmonton, was honored recently by Canadian National for her quick action in spotting and reporting a defective wheel on a railway freight car.

At a luncheon in her honour at the Royal Glenora Club, J. O. Pitts, manager Alberta for CN, presented Miss Field with an engraved wrist watch, on behalf of the company.

Miss Field was driving on highway 14 near Bruce last December 16 when she noticed sparks coming from the wheel of a privately-owned oil tank car, part of a passing freight train. She drove to the nearest phone and contacted the CN agent at Viking, who had the train immediately stopped and the car removed. Mr. Pitts praised Miss Field for her presence of mind in realizing the potential danger and for taking the action she did.

Students form ecology group

A concerned group of Holden High School students have formed an ecology group.

To be known as the Holden Ecology Group, their main concern will be conservation of plant and animal life, pollution of the environment, whether it is soil, air or water. However, it meets every Wednesday at noon-hour to hear progress reports and to plan further action.

The group hopes to draw the attention of the public, institutions, and governments at all levels, to cases where the environment is being polluted or destroyed. Then they will attempt to propose alternative measures to be taken and attempt to get action.

Bonnie Gray, from a small group study of pollution, a visit from a speaker representing the Edmonton Anti - Pollution Group, and a keen sense of personal interest, the group is already at work.

Some projects already being worked on are: limiting "junk" mail, studying roadside spraying, and encouraging clean-up campaigns of yards and public areas.

In the case of "junk" mail, the group has learned that if you receive unsolicited third-class mail, one only has to mark "REFUSED" on the unopened envelope, sign it and mail it. The original sender will then have to pay return postage and, hopefully, your name will be deleted from their mailing list. This technique has caught on and many students and their parents are enjoying returning unwanted mail.

Vince Bates will lead new Tofield gas co-op

A rural gas co-op meeting was held in the Tofield Community Hall on Monday evening.

There were over 50 interested farmers in attendance and the gas program was outlined by Herb Warner, Utilities branch; Jerry Heath, Co-operatives branch; Bruce Palmer, engineer and Ed Bragg.

A vote was taken and a large majority favored forming a gas co-op in the Tofield area. The area extends from Tofield, east to Ryley gas transmission line; then a line running southwest through Deddo to Camrose, being the eastern boundary; From Camrose the boundary runs west to Highway 21 then north to Hay Lakes, on to Minimik, east to Lindbrook area and then on to Tofield. Approximately 500 farmers are located in this area including hamlets and heavy density populated areas.

Eleven directors were elected at the meeting and from those directors the following officers were chosen: pres., Vince Bates, Tofield; vice-pres., Leo Lauber, Tofield; sec., Lester Severson, Tofield.

A market survey will soon be taken by the directors to find out how many will be interested in joining and using the services offered by the gas co-op.

Tofield plans for ball season

by Grace Phillips

The baseball season is here again and plans are being made for the young ballplayers in Tofield.

An organizational meeting for this season's junior ball will be held in the old, unused MacKenzie school on Tuesday, April 24th at 7:30. This meeting will be to accept registrations from all boys from 7 to 16 years of age who want to play baseball this year.

Parents are asked to attend the meeting with their boys as registrations must be signed by one parent for each prospective player. Mothers can sign for the boys; no boy need be not registered because father was unable to come.

If the baseball program is to be a success, help is necessary in the following areas: coaching, umpiring, and transportating players for league games. Offers of help will be greatly received.

FATHER, SON BANQUET

Preparations are underway for a Father and Son Banquet to be held in the Tofield Community Centre on May 1st at 7 p.m. Special guests are being contacted to attend to add to the interest of the occasion. This banquet provides funds for minor sports in Tofield and district. Last year's banquet was highly successful so it is hoped that the one planned for May 1st will be as well attended.

Beaverhills Hockeyists hold 1st Awards Night

On April 5th, about 300 people, including players and guests, gathered in the Lamont Recreation Centre to celebrate the Beaverhill Senior Hockey League "Presentation Banquet and Dance".

Dave Niles, chairman of the league, had organized the proceedings. The Lamont Women's Catering Service provided an excellent turkey dinner with all the trimmings. Dinner was served "buffet style".

At the head table were Mr. and Mrs. George Orlosky, Mr. and Mrs. Ken MacAuley, Dr. Walter Buck, MLA, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Niles, Rev. Jim Shortt, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Helberg, Bill Turcie, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Onyschenchuk, Grant Hackett, secretary of the league, and Lois Wightman.

The master of ceremonies, Bill Turcie, sports broadcaster on CFCW, introduced the speakers in turn and kept the levity at a high pitch with lots of wit and remarks, wise and otherwise. He first called on Dave Niles to introduce the guests at the head table and then introduced Ken McAuley, one of the guest speakers.

Mr. McAuley reminisced on his work with the New York Rangers and his experiences as coach of the Edmonton Oil Kings.

Mr. McAuley told the group of some of the players he had coached who went on to fame. McGregor, now with the NHL; Normie Ullman, now playing with Toronto; Ed Joyal with the Oilers and others who had made a name for themselves. He commended the local league and spoke highly of the achievements of some of the players to be featured at the banquet.

Dr. Walter Buck, having been introduced with certain humorous connotations, congratulated the Ryley club and encouraged the league for a good piece of work being done. He said that this league had helped make hockey fun for the kids so that they'd love the game and become good sportsmen.

Following the after-dinner speeches, presentation were made to several outstanding players: Roger Osland of Ryley Flyers as most valuable player; Ken Stauffer of Tofield Satellites as leading scorer; Bob Clark of Andrew Aces, best defenceman; John Koenig of Lamont Bruins, most gentlemanly player; Bob Klarnak and to Andy's Kiss of the Lament Nuggets as best goalkeepers.

SENIOR CITIZEN HOMES NEEDED!

The past two weeks, I have had meetings with senior citizen groups worried over inaction of the government on the building of senior citizen accommodations. The last year has seen the completion of the homes budgeted under the previous government but, little action on the part of the NOW government. The nursing home and senior citizens home program is the envy of North America and I do hope the government will carry on this program.

The taxpayers of the present are more than willing to provide accommodations for our pioneers. The people who came to Alberta and, literally with their bare hands, carved out a living and raised their families in this new land. These people would now like to enjoy their retirement in the company of their friends and relatives within a short distance of their pioneer areas.

The Tofield and Fort Saskatchewan areas are two localities that require senior citizen homes and I pledge to work to that end

TEACHERS UNHAPPY

TEACHERS UNHAPPY

The forced return of Southern Alberta teachers to their classrooms has brought many cries of protest to the government. Many teachers and labor people have phoned me voicing their concerns about the government's heavy-handed approach. There seems to be mixed opinions, if the intervention of the minister speeded up the negotiations or retarded them. The minister has the power to force people back to work, but I think that when the bargaining process is laid down, it should be followed. The two parties were not very far apart so that possibly the forced settlement was premature.

I would appreciate opinions on both sides of the issue. Next week will see the House having Easter recess so I will report back in two weeks.

Please write Box 1030 or phone 543-2166 Fort Saskatchewan, stating your views and concerns.

Holden and district news items

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

A familiar and long-time landmark of Holden is rapidly being taken down. The old CNR depot is almost demolished. It had been a landmark since 1909-1910, shortly after the railway came through in 1909. In the early 1920's it was a popular passtime to walk down to the depot in the evening to meet the daily local train from Edmonton and see who had been making the trip to "the big city". It has been in dis-use for the past few years and like many others in the prairie provinces, is being taken down or moved away.

Word was received Tuesday by friends that Bill Richards of Banff, a former Holden resident in the 1930-1940's, had passed away after a long illness. Mr. Richards had been a hospital patient for the past several months

Mr. Nord is still a patient in Tofield hospital and is being treated now for a very bad cold.

Mr. Starzko, who had been home from hospital for about a week, became ill again and was taken to Tofield hospital last Sunday.

Mrs. Brian Johnson of Ryley was a Tuesday visitor with Brian's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson and was helping Winnie in the store.

Province to guarantee farm development loans

Agriculture Minister Dr. Hugh Horner recently announced a new guaranteed loan program for the agricultural industry in Alberta.

Agreements have been recently signed between the Agricultural Development Corporation and commercial lenders, particularly chartered banks and treasury branches. Other lenders may be involved in the program in the near future.

Loans of up to DLRS50,000 may be made for purposes of buying livestock, equipment and land. Loans may also be used to provide for operating capital and effecting improvements such as buildings, clearing and breaking, or any other purpose designed to increase the productive value of the property.

Loans may be made to individuals, partnerships or family farm corporations.

Repayment may be spread over a period of up to 10 years depending on the purpose and amount borrowed. Loans for farm machinery will be restricted to five years.

Interest rate will be 1 percent above the bank prime lending rate and may vary from time to time.

Deferment of principal payments may be made for a period of up to two years on livestock loans for breeding purposes.

An application fee of 1 percent of the amount of loan will be assessed and used by the Agricultural Development Corporation for supervision purposes.

Application may be made to any chartered bank or provincial treasury branch. Additional information may also be obtained from the district agriculturist or staff of the Agricultural Development Corporation.

"CAMEO ROLE"

To popularize a production, famous actors often take roles that require their appearance on screen for only four or five minutes. Hence, any famous "face" seen briefly on a screen is considered a "cameo."

Alfalfa Breeding Program Aims to Knock Out Bloat

Alfalfa has all the qualities a forage should have, except for one major drawback - - it can cause fatal bloat in cattle.

Direct losses from bloat-caused deaths run about $11 million every year.

Several Agriculture Canada scientists are working in western Canada to breed a non-bloating alfalfa variety. Such a variety would have worldwide impact.

VOL. 56—No. 35—April 26th., 1973 $2.50 per Year, PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT TOFIELD, ALBERTA

PROVINCIAL LIBRARY EDMONTON ALTA DEC

$30,000 fund drive begins

The Tofield Agricultural Society is going to conduct a house to house canvass of the area in an attempt to raise $30,000.

The campaign will start tomorrow (Friday) and will conclude on Tuesday, May 15th, and canvassers will call at each house and business before the deadline arrives.

In addition, anyone wishing to make a donation to the fund-raising campaign may leave their contribution at the Town Office.

The Agricultural Society have released a financial statement which shows a progress report and operating costs and expenditures for the arena complex up to and including April 19th.

The statement shows that the total capital cost of the arena-complex is $219,970.51 while capital revenue amounted to $221,618.59. However, $70,000 of the latter is a loan obtained from the Bank of Montreal which must be repaid.

The reason for the canvass is to raise $30,000 to be repaid on this loan as the remaining $40,000 can be covered on the one and one-half mill rate levy which will repay the loan and the interest.

One of the main reasons for cleaning up this loan as quickly as possible is the fact that the interest rate is one and one-half per cent above the prime lending rate with interest payments from July 20th, 1972, to March 20th, 1973, amounting to $3,797.13.

Revenue from the arena amounted to $22,768.53 while expenditures amounted to $18,150.98 for a profit of $4,635.55.

A breakdown of the capital revenue showed as follows: Local Initiatives Program $50,661; Department of Agriculture grant, $50,000; County of Beaver Regional Recreation Board, $8,431; 1½ mill levy on recreation area, $5,898.18; cash donations in 1972, $29,939; cash donations in 1973, $3,842; Skate-a-thon, $2,847; loan from the Bank of Montreal, $70,000.

The directors of the society are: Andy Heiberg, L. Kallal, H. Schmidt, M. Bruce J. Moore, R. Goeglein, R. Wyllie, H. Schultz, A. Klassen, L. Weatherill, T. Kerke, D. Dykeman, Mrs. A. Watt, Mrs. Y. Brown, Mrs. M. McLeod, S. Voltner, E. Boettcher, E. Regehr and C. Sears.

Father, son banquet scheduled in Tofield

by Grace Phillips

Tuesday, May 1st, is the date set for the annual Father and Son banquet sponsored by the Tofield Minor Sports Committee.

It will be held in the Tofield Community Centre, starting at 7 p.m.

Guests are expected from the Edmonton Eskimo Football Club and the Edmonton Oilers Hockey Team. These guests will be happy to answer questions and supply autographs for their fans.

As well as hearing from the sports celebrities, guests at the banquet will have a chance to hear the local sports program reviewed. Then, too, recognition will be given to last winter's hockey coaches and teams, and announcement made of the baseball coaches for the coming season.

The Minor Sports Committee wishes to remind residents of Tofield and district that anyone who wishes to attend is welcome at the banquet. Boys, any number in a family may attend on their father's ticket. If the father is not available, Mother may substitute, and should neither parent be able to attend, there are some interested "substitute fathers" who will take a boy, or boys, with them. The names of these substitute fathers may be had by phoning any one of the members of the Minor Sports Committee, Don Roth, J. C. Lampitt., J. B. Beergen, A. Warner and V. Walker, Bert Clark.

Tickets are available from the above committee and may also be obtained at the door of the Community Centre on May 1st.

Tofield rink scores well in Yellowknife

Ted Whyte, Doug Coffin, Ray Pittet, Floyd Irwin and wives flew to Yellowknife on the Easter weekend to take part in the annual Yellowknife Sportsman's bonspiel.

Of the 61 teams curling in the bonspiel, the Tofield foursome was successful for the second consecutive year to be one of the 16 teams to qualify for the championship event.

This event offered polar bear rugs valued at $1500 each as top prize. The Whyte rink lost 7-6 on last rock to Roger Comeau of St. Albert. Comeau then went on to curl in the final game against Gill Myler of Edmonton. The Myler rink emerged victorious and took home the polar bear rugs.

The Tofield rink took home prize and Calcutta money totalling $225.

Car wash and bake sale planned by Tofield 4-H

The Tofield 4-H Beef Club is planning to keep its members pretty busy in the weeks ahead.

All members will be participating in a "car wash" and "bake sale" this Saturday. The car wash will be held at the Tofield Car Wash starting at ten o'clock in the morning and running through until six o'clock in the evening. Anyone filling up with gas after they've had their car washed will become eligible for a lucky draw. It will cost three dollars to have a car washed, inside and out.

The bake sale will commence at 2:30 p.m. in the Tofield Community Hall and will stay open as long as the goodies last.

Members went on a tour and visited all 4-H calves earlier this week.

Achievement day has been scheduled for May 28th while carcass class judging (on the hoof) will be held on May 23rd at the Fairgrounds and judged carcasses will be evaluated on May 28th.

Historic day for Alberta says Minister of Industry

Friday was an historic day for Alberta, declared Hon Fred Peacock as he presided at the ceremony opening the first meeting in Ponoka of the Alberta Opportunity Company Recently created by the provincial government, the AOC will have its headquarters in Ponoka which Mr. Peacock said is easily accessible from most parts of the province.

Established with a fifty million dollar fund, the AOC will have a major role in rural development said Mr. Peacock. The minister said that heretofore industry has taken the young people from the rural areas to the larger centres, and even right out of Canada. "The brain drain has been staggering" he declared.

Rural areas have always faced a problem in gaining access to the resources of the central banking system, said the minister, because decisions are made in the East, and local problems tend to be forgotten. The AOC is intended to recognize some of the shortcomings of the central banking system. Its problem is to assist industry in locating in areas where capital would otherwise be hard to obtain. It will fill a void that the conventional lender has tended to ignore for a variety of reasons.

Mr. Peacock paid tribute to the managing director, 42-year-old Ed Clarke, who has had considerable experience and understands the problem of moving capital out into the rural areas. Mr. Clarke has an instinctive "feeling of what we want", said the minister.

Mr. Peacock said one of the major problems of bringing industry to Alberta is the problem of transportation, in a landlocked provice. It appears we're on the edge of a breakthrough in this field, the well known businessman from Calgary said, due to the efforts of a number of people. There is no one person responsible, he said, but it seems the drive is now well in hand.

Lorne Ordze, who will be managing director of the Agricultural Development Company moving to Camrose in September, is one of the directors of the AOC. Other members include Bob Chapman of Edmonton, Peter Grant of Calgary; Jack Wilder, Ponoka; Gordon Buchanan, High Prairie; and N. F. W. Picard, assistant deputy minister of the Department of Industry and Commerce, interim managing director as an ex officio member.

The roll call was then taken with each lady responding with a scripture verse in the usual manner. HEALTH PRECAUTIONS IN YOUR KITCHEN

Even a kitchen that's kept sparkling clean can occasionally harbor "hidden germs", especially when there's illness in the family. Here are a few common-sense precautions to take:

· Dishes, glassware, flatware, which use water over 140 degrees, are ideal for thorough cleaning. If you're without one your best defense is washing these items in water as hot as your hands can stand. Allowing dishes to drain dry is more sanitary than towel drying.

· Can Openers: Clean these frequently. Hand-operated ones can go in the dishwashers or scrub them well, especially where food collects. Some electrics have removable cutting parts; if not clean them with a toothbrush dipped in suds.

· Brushes, sponges, dishcloths: These collect bacteria long before they develop an odor. Wash sponges and brushes often in clean, hot suds. Change dishcloths and towels frequently, or use disposables.

· Cutting boards: Raw food can contain harmful bacteria which could contaminate other foods. Wooden boards, especially, need thorough cleaning with cleanser containing bleach after each use. Rinse well, to remove cleanser and odors.

· Other surfaces: Counters, apliance surfaces, floors are not usually a source of infection. But if there's sickness, or toddlers who touch and "taste" everything, use a household disinfectant in your cleaning solution or a disinfectant cleaner. These will also get rid of odors caused by bacteria

Ball players still needed

by Grace Phillips

38 boys registered for the 1973 baseball season on Tuesday last.

Since last year, there were 98 boys involved, it is expected that registrations are incomplete due to absences during the holidays.

Registration time runs out on May 1st. No one can play on the organized teams if he is not registered by that date. Registration forms may be picked up at the Tofield Co-op Store.

Several coaches for the junior baseball teams are still needed to make the season successful.

There is a possibility that girl's softball teams might be included in the County of Beaver recreation program. If enough Tofield girls are interested, the Tofield Minor Sports Committee would underwrite the expenses.

Girls between ages of 12 and 15 years who are interested in playing softball in a league may leave their names at the Tofield Co-op Store.

Research is now finding methods of helping even the severely handicapped to achieve hitherto unexpected levels of self-help.

Gas explosion causes raging inferno

Tofield Texaco Service Station is back in business, on a partial basis, following a spectacular explosion and blaze on Monday night.

Bulk sales are being offered now and station consignee Don McKerlan was hopeful of being able to sell gas by Saturday. A new portable office is being moved in to replace one lost in Monday's fire.

At right is the bulk of the 7,000 gallon tank truck that was being unloaded when the fire started and bottom is a scene of the fire during its zenith being fought by local firemen.

The fire started at approximately 8:30 p.m. when the truck was unloading gas into a tank. It is believed that a hose blew allowing some gas to enter the air cleaner of the truck which speeded up the time the truck was a diesel causing a backfire which ignited the gas.

The resulting explosion blew the driver of the truck, Robert F. Keswell of Sherwood Park, out of the truck. Fortunately he was not injured. The explosion itself was felt for miles and the smoke from the blaze was visable as far away as Camrose.

The Tofield Fire Department was the first on the scene and they took up a position of cooling off the tanks that were not burning in an effort to keep the fire from spreading while the Ryley Fire Department, next on the scene took up a post to protect the service station. Other departments, upon arrival, took up defensive positions until they were able to bring the fire under control and finally extinguished the blaze. Give up too easily?

It always takes a long time for reason to catch up with prejudice, and one more of the problems caused by the long-time prohibitory liquor laws in Alberta came to light a few days ago, as officials of the Edmonton Exhibition Association decided to back down on the inauguration of an annual competition for homemade wine in the Klondike Days tradition.

Under Alberta laws, they discovered, it is an offence to carry or convey liquor other than from a liquor store to the buyer's residence, and they backed down rather than making potential exhibitors subject to prosecution.

That hardly seems to fit the style of the old Klondike Days, but then, laws weren't so proscriptive then, either. It does seem that in the interests of a good show it might have been possible to request special dispensation for small samples to be transported by registered competitors, under certain specific conditions.

It's interesting to speculate on the possibilities a large number of samples would create for the judges, and the interest there would be from potential judges — they'd probably queue up for the job. But alas, such is not to be. At least, not this year.

WHAT?

ANOTHER CANVASS?

Tofield, May 1 '73

Dear Sir:

If questioned some time as to the kind of community I'd prefer to live in, my answer would probably be: A place in the country with all the conveniences and services of the city but with none of its disadvantages.

If I gave the matter little thought I'd probably add that the ideal place would have all this to offer without anything being asked of me: no demands on my time and no requests for charitable handouts. And yet only a moment's reflection is necessary to realize that under these circumstances life would lose much of its meaning.

There would be no feeling of participation and no sense of achievement. Mankind is such that we thrive under challenge, and a feeling of accomplishment is necessary to our well-being. Undoubtedly, this is what sustained the pioneers who opened up this country. From our comfortable armchairs, their's was an almost insurmountable task — that of carving homes out of the wilderness with such limited resources at their disposal. (Not even a family allowance).

Thankfully, challenges did not end with the pioneers and the one which concerns us in the Tofield district at the moment, is to improve the financial position of our new arena. Faced with interest charges of almost $500 per month, it becomes the duty of the executive to reduce the loan to manageable proportions. Collectively, it is but a small challenge. A canvass similar to that of last year is now underway. Let's try to make it equally successful. In 1973, almost $1,000 has already been donated.

So, it is hoped that the many $100 donations of last year will be repeated. With the ever decreasing value of the dollar this is not as much as it was only a short time ago. Speaking for my fellow-cattlemen, it represents only a portion of a weaned calf or a few cans of cream.

While the canvass will be similar to that of last year, the similarity ends there. Last year, we could only guess what the arena would mean to the district. Now, we know. It was patronized to such an extent that ice time was at a premium and its popularity was not confined to the younger age group. Our equipment is good and adds much to the pleasure of participants and patrons alike. The members of the executive have a season's experience to their credit and this will be used to advantage in the future.

So, let's be as generous as we can when the canvasser calls. Without a doubt, we wouldn't want to go back to pre-arena days.

Sincerely,

V. Bates

Ryley's Spring Prom Friday, May 11

There will be no classes for students in the Ryley school on May 11th. The School Committee and the Beaver Local ATA have organized a professional development day at Viking where all teachers are expected to attend. A number of highly-important matters will be considered: high school accreditation, recent development in elementary education, special education funding and various classroom techniques for good teaching will receive much attention. It is hoped that the day will be of considerable benefit to teachers and ultimately to students.

The annual Spring Prom will be held on the evening of May 11th in the Ryley school gymnasium. Students have selected "A Dreamworld Beyond" as this year's theme.

A parent-teacher discussion night has been scheduled at Ryley school for May 22nd at 8 p.m. Topics for discussion will be circulated via the students.

Grades four and six will visit Fort Edmonton, the Provincial Museum and Fenn-Dor Plastics on May 9th. Due to extended scheduling at Venn Dor the students will not be able to return to Ryley until 5 p.m.

County agricultural news

By Iver Challman

1) INCREASED RAPESEED ACREAGE SUGGESTED

The Alberta Department of Agriculture's cereal and oilseed crops specialist advises farmers in this province to increase their intended rapeseed acreage for this year.

Sherman Yelland also congratulates Alberta farmers on the fact that they have not gone overboard on their intended wheat acreage increase. The March Canadian Survey of Seeding Intentions shows that Alberta farmers plan a modest 12 percent wheat acreage increase; a 4 percent oat acreage increase; a 6 percent barley acreage increase; a 41 percent flaxseed acreage increase and the same rapeseed acreage as last year (1.3 million acres).

Mr. Yelland feels that the strong price indicated for the 1973 rapeseed crop and the favourable domestic and export contracts that are being offered justify an increase in Alberta's rapeseed acreage. He says that the domestic crush, which could amount to 13 million bushels next year, and the 15 million bushel increase in rapeseed exports this year could leave Canada short of rapeseed by the end of the 1973-74 crop year. Rapeseed planting intentions across Canada are down by 100,000 acres.

At the end of the present crop year, the Canadian rapeseed supply will be only approximately 19 million bushels which is considerably less than desirable. With such low stocks on hand, rapeseed exporters will be reluctant to accept more sales in case they cannot fill them, which will result in the loss of future potential markets.

Since Alberta farmers are in an advantageous position in relation to West coast seaports and Pacific rim markets, Mr Yelland thinks they should consider planting some of the large summerfallow acreage indicated for this year to rapeseed. If moisture conditions are favourable, rapeseed could also be sown on well - fertilized stubble land, he says.

2) SEED DRILL SURVEY SCHEDULED FOR 1973

Every fifth year the Field Crops Branch, in co-operation with local Service Boards, conducts a province-wide seed drill survey. It is felt that seed quality and purity are important items in successful crop production and weed, insect and disease control. Therefore, this periodical check is made to assess the whole seed situation and the information is used as a guide for future seed improvement policies and programs.

The County of Beaver Seed Plant at Holden has recently been re-inspected and has received a "Class No 1" cleaning permit. This permit is issued to seed plants after a thorough inspection of the general condition of the building, equipment, and quality of cleaning being done. Plant hours are presently from 4 A.M to 12:00 midnight. Oats are being cleaned at present and wheat will then be on the agenda till May 25th. For cleaning appointments phone 688-3917

3) WEED CONTROL -

THE HOW OR THE WHY

All weed control literature, and various communications largely confine their message to HOW. Maybe it's time we looked at WHY. Here are some facts compiled by Department of Agriculture researchers.

- Alberta rapeseed producers lost $25 million to weeds in 1972!
- Alberta farmers lost $100 million to wild oats in 1972!
- Alberta farmers paid $4 and a half million to transport and clean out weed seeds, mostly wild oats, from cereals and oilseeds shipped to terminals.
- Forty wild oats per square yard reduces wheat yield by 11 bushels per acre.

Two Canada Thistle plants per square yard reduces yield of wheat by 6 bushels per acre.

- Amiben applied at a cost of $4.50 per acre gave an average increase of 7 bushels of flax - a $35.00 increased income per acre.
- Avadex at $4.50 per acre gave an increase of 8 bushels per acre of wheat or a profit of $8.50

If anyone needs information on the "HOW" of applying these chemicals feel free to contact your local Agricultural representative

RURAL WATER

In the past years, the government has had a water test hole program opperating in many parts of the province. This year, as was the case last year, the Department of the Environment will be drilling test holes for farmers in the County of Beaver.

The main objective of the program is to determine the availability of water in areas where well water supplies are difficult to obtain. Therefore if you are contemplating drilling a well, you may be well advised to have a test hole drilled innitially to determine if water is available before expending a thousand dollars or more for the drilling of a dry hole.

The application fee for a test hole is $50. and applications or further information can be obtained from the District Ryley.

Please note that the test hole cannot be cased and used as a well.

Father and son banquet attracts a full house

by Grace Phillips

More than 200 boys and their dads filled the Tofield Community Centre on Tuesday evening for the annual Father and Son banquet sponsored by the Tofield Minor Sports Committee. This event has a three-fold purpose: to interest the boys in sports, to acknowledge local help given in sports, and to raise money to support the sports program.

Robert Lyslo, emcee, welcomed the guests and introduced the head table guests. Following the blessing by Jerry Wiers, supper was served by the mothers of the junior sportsmen. Kate Backschat, Joan Warner and Lena Baergen were responsible for the initial arrangements for the banquet.

Following the banquet Mr Lyslo called on John Baergen to speak for the Minor Sports Committee. Mr Baergen reported that last summer seven minor baseball teams had participated in league competition. In addition two teams of seven and eight year olds played in a house league. A total of 112 boys participated in the program. All the Tofield teams played in the league finals with two teams winning trophies.

Expenses for the season included ball equipment, $256; uniforms, $100; gas for transportation $47. Help in meeting these expenses was obtained through a raffle which netted $70 and a grant of $150 from the Town of Tofield.

In regard to the hockey season just ended, Mr. Baergen reported four months of league competition successfully completed. Six teams took part in league competition and, as well, two Mighty Mite teams played exhibition games. The Juvenile team played only exhibition games with city teams because there was no organized league for them here. Three Tofield hockey teams won trophies: the Unifarm Mites, coached by Bruce Telford and Clem Soetart, won the trophy donated by the New Sarepta Recreation Board; the Bantam team coached by John Olson and Dave Coleman won the trophy donated by the Holden Recreation Board; the Midgets coached by Earl Jones and Ken Stauffer won the trophy donated by the Sherwood Park Pro Sports Shop.

Hockey expenses included equipment at $363; referees' fees at $50; transportation $6.35. A donation of $300 was made to the Tofield Agricultural Society to help purchase a time clock for the new arena. Two raffles brought in $345, and the Town of Tofield contributed $150 towards expenses.

The following clubs were thanked by Mr. Baergen for their tangible help to the teams: the Old Timers' Hockey Club for sweaters for the Mighty Mites; the Tofield Fire Department for sweaters for one Mite team; and Tofield Historical Society and Tofield Unifarm and the Unifarm Women for sweaters for the other team: the Tofield Branch of the Canadian Legion for sweaters for both Pee Wee teams; the Tofield Community League for sweaters for the Midget team; the Lindbrook Community Association for sweaters and socks for the Juvenile team.

Hearty applause followed the introduction of the hockey coaches by Mr Baergen showing that those present seconded the appreciation he expressed on behalf of the sports committee. Don Littwin, Don Roth, Bert Clark, Ray Hendrickson, Alan Warner, Vince [illegible], Clem Soetart, Keith Williams, Dave Morris, John Olsen, Dave Coleman, Pat Donnan, Earl Jones, Ken Stauffer and Chic Blacklock were the men who gave up their time all winter to coach the hockey teams.

The baseball coaches for the coming season were introduced and applauded.

These were Pat Donnan, Ed Williams, Vern Walker, Glen Jones, Bert Clark, Bill Friesen, Don Roth, Arnold Hildebrandt, Dave Dykeman and John Baergen.

Mr Baergen closed by reminding the audience that a lot of work goes into making good baseball and hockey players and the aim should be to produce goods sportsmen, win, lose or draw.

George Baker for the County of Beaver Recreation Board spoke of co-operation between the Board and the Town of Tofield. He reported that an insurance program to reduce the cost of all recreational activities is under consideration.

A softball clinic is to be held in Holden on May 4th and 5th for players and coaches. Baseball players may attend. This year's camping program is to be extended; a music, arts, and drama festival for the County of Beaver is under consideration by the Board.

Dr Walter Buck, MLA for Strathcona challenged the Tofield Old Timers to a game in December. He expressed his pleasure at being invited to this function and reminded the boys that winning or losing is not as important as being a good sportsman.

The featured speaker of the evening, Dick Symme, quarterback for the Edmonton Eskimos, spoke of his pleasure at being present, of the prospect of the Eskimos for this season and of some of his experiences in the football world. He answered questions from many of the boys and gave many autographs to his young fans.

In closing, Mr. Lyslo thanked the ladies who had served the banquet, the speakers and those who had attended.

CANTARM OFFICE DAYS

Due to the increased demand for Cantarm in this area it has almost become impossible for the Cantarm contact agents at Vermilion to meet with early farmers individually. Therefore, the Cantarm technician will hold office days at Ryley and Viking between the hours of 9:00 A.M. and 4:30 P.M. These office days will be for the purpose of meeting both Cantarm prospects and any farmers who may be interested in the Cantarm system.

Office days will be as follows:

Viking: Old AGT Building First Wednesday of Every Month.

Ryley: District Agriculturist's Office Second Monday of Every Month.

NEW STAFF ON THE WAY

Starting May 2, Teresa Jackson will be joining the staff at the D.A. office in Ryley to serve in the capacity of Assistant District Agriculturist.

Teresa is a 1973 graduate of U of A majoring in Animal Science.

Also, for the ladies, the County of Beaver will soon be getting a full time home economist. At present, who or when she'll be arriving has not been decided. However, do remember that Carol Steed man from the Vegreville office is presently in Ryley on Mondays.

NEW GROWTH STIMULANT FOR BEEF CATTLE

A new growth stimulant implant for beef cattle, recently approved for use in Canada, should be a welcome aid to beef producers. Some D.E.S. (diethylstilbestrol) was suspended on January 1, 1973 by the Canadian beef industry has been looking for an effective effective growth promotant to help check production costs.

Ralgro is the name of the newly approved product. It can be used as an implant to increase rate of gain in suckling and weaned beef calves, growing beef cows, heifers, steers and feedlot heifers, but is not to be used on breeding animals or veal calves. Cattle treated with the implant tend to produce the leaner carcasses currently in market demand. The cost to entitle them is about 75 cents per animal using a 36 milligram dose placed in the animals ear.

The average response in improved rate of gain and feed efficiency is about the same from Ralgro as that from DES. It is generally agreed that growth stimulant implants can increase the rate of gain in cattle by 10 to 15 percent. This can result in savings of at least eight to 10 percent in the amount of feed required per pound of gain and a reduction of 30 days in a feeding period based on 104 days required for non implanted animals to reach a market weight of 1150 lbs.

Animals must not be slaughtered until at least 65 days after treatment.

DON'T BLAME FARMERS FOR HIGHER FOOD PRICES

Grain growers have essentially contributed not at all to rising food costs over nearly the last 30 years.

The farmers' share of the consumers' dollar has declined a great deal most on bread and cereal products.

Income of farmers in 1972 was only about 12 per cent of the Canadian food bill.

The preceding statements were made by Charles Sluns, President, Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

MORE FACTS

Canadians spend less of their earnings for food than people of any other country except the United States. In 1963 Canada spent 19.3 per cent; Britain - 23.7 percent; Sweden - 25 percent; France 27.5 percent.

Farm incomes have been below those for every other industry. In 1971, the average farm family's net income was less than $3,000. Many farmers have been living below the poverty line.

Low prices for farm products over the past several decades have contributed to the decline in the number of the prairies.

Action such as meat boycotts will either reduce the prices farmers receive, or force them to stop deliveries creating shortages and pushing prices even higher.

Rising prices for food obviously hurt people on low or fixed incomes. They must be helped but through positive public policies, not through further reductions in the income of farmers.

More loans for rangeland improvement

Recent revisions under the Agriculture Rural Development Act - Range improvement Program for privately owned land will make available to farmers and ranchers loans of up to $4,000. The object of the new program is to increase farm and ranch income by assisting and promoting range improvement practices.

The loans will be made available for the purposes of:

1 Seed bed preparation
2 Brushing
3 Seed
4 Fencing

These loans will be available from lenders with a 100 percent guarantee from the government. The Agricultural Development Committee shall give the lender a certificate of government guarantee. Loans will be paid back over five years if the farmer follows his program of range improvement, payment of interest will be made by the Provincial Government.

Further information on the new loan program may be obtained from any District Agriculturist.

A snow storm hit this district around 12:30 a.m. on Friday and continued with some rain during the day and turning to snow again in the evening. This left about 4 to 6 inches of wet snow by Saturday morning and the roads wet and sloshy.

Ambitious publicity program for Battle River tourism zone

A program of radio and newspaper publicity for the coming tourist season set up by the Battle River Tourist Association increases expenditure in this area by over 50 per cent. Keeping pace with the growing impact of tourism on the economy, the zone's publicity program for this year has been amplified and will include a relatively light campaign in The Edmonton Journal and one of Edmonton's radio stations as well as use of the two radio stations within the zone. L. D'Albertanson of Wainwright submitted the proposals to the meeting. Publicity this year will also include a new and more complete and colorful brochure as well as the regular fall hunting guide which will be issued in the midsummer.

Some advertising will also be done in Saskatchewan.

Dennis Pedersen, of Wetaskiwin, in reporting for the Brochure Committee, expressed his satisfaction with the new layout and said that copies of the new folder would be available for distribution about the end of May. Seventy - five thousand are being ordered. These will be distributed through Travel Alberta (the Alberta Government Travel Bureau) supplied to various tourist information booths in the province, distributed throughout the zone, etc.

Individuals in the zone are to assist in the distribution by picking up supplies of the brochures from the local representative and mailing them to their friends or dropping them off at tourist literature distribution points on their trip. Just putting a few in brochure racks you happen to see is a good way of doing this. You will then help the development of tourism in your area.

The matter of having a student canvass the area with the object of selling individual membership in the zone was discussed at some length and it was decided that an experimental campaign should be started this year on the individual - community basis. Board members were asked to initiate campaigns in their own towns and villages, by engaging some interested person in selling these on a commision basis. It was emphasized that this should be done as soon as possible.

The meeting approved the purchase of twenty literature racks at $7.50 each for distribution in the zone. This also is a pilot project and future plans will depend on how well it goes.

The meeting was informed that the proposed placemats marking the RCMP Centennial were going to cost $12.50 per thousand plus delivery, instead of the proposed $8.00. In view of the added cost it was decided to cancel the order as it would be too costly to give them away and they would not sell at such a high price.

George McDonald, president of Travel Industry Association of Alberta attended the meeting and expressed his satisfaction at the active manner in which its affairs were conducted.

The board had a look at the new tourist information booths which were nearly completed and ready for transport. Ken Ince from Stettler asked that we confirm the decision that when a third booth is constructed this be assigned to Stettler in accordance with the priority of their original request.

HIGHEST BANG'S DISEASE

The number of abortions from Bang's disease in Alberta cattle is higher than it has been since 1962 reports Dr W.P. Brisbane of the Alberta Veterinary Services Division. Abortions from this disease (also known as brucellosis and contagious abortion) have been confirmed by provincial veterinary diagnostic laboratories in six herds scattered throughout the province.

In view of this situation he strongly advises Alberta cattlemen to prevent the disease from gaining any more ground by having blood tests done on all cows and heifers before they are brought into a breeding herd. If this is not practical, he recommends isolating them until they have been blood tested and the results shown to be negative. He also suggests that anyone who has an abortion in his herd should send the fetus and the placenta (afterbirth) to his nearest laboratory to find out the cause.

Tofield Prom set for May 18th

by Linda Eastlick

The Al Breault Combo will provide the music; "Some Enchanted Evening" will be the theme; the Tofield School Gym will be the setting for this year's Spring Prom to be held on Friday, May 18th.

The Students' Union feels fortunate in being able to obtain the Combo, a group of long experience and versatility. This band made their debut in 1950 and have continued together for 23 years. The four members of the Combo join on the alto saxophone, tenor saxophone, piano and drums in a style enjoyable to all types of audiences. Al Breault's Combo has played for functions at the Jubilee Auditorium and the Macdonald Hotel and recently provided entertainment at the RCMP Centennial. The versatility and experience of the Al Breault Combo recommend it as an ideal group for this spring's Prom.

Personal invitations to the Prom will not be sent out this spring. Residents of the vicinity and their friends are therefore extended a general invitation to attend.

Alberta film wins award

Industry and Commerce Minister Fred Peacock said last week he is pleased that the film "Alberta on the North side" won the gold camera award for the best industrial film in its class in North America by the U.S. Industrial Film Festival. The production is part of the Department of Industry and Commerce effort in developing and diversifying industry in Alberta, thus enhancing the economic base for major and secondary industry.

The award will be made April 26 in Chicago. The film was produced by Canawest-Master Films Ltd., under contract to the Alberta Government Photographic Branch. The producer was W.D.Marsden, the director, K. Jubenvil and the executive producer on behalf of the Government was C.N. Ross. This is the second major award for the Branch in the past two years.

Fire

South Cooking Lake, County of Beaver, Sherwood Park and the County of Strathcona

Lost in the fire, which caused an estimated $100,000 in damages, was the tanker truck, which was valued at $65,000 and which was apparently not insured a loading dock, a bulk oil and grease storage shed, a portable office which had been next to the service station and a small storage shed, used for old tires and other odds and ends.

Ironically a strange faith, being filled in the tanker truck still had lots of gas remaining after the fire was out. A check revealed only about three feet of gas had burned, leaving about 15 feet of gas remaining.

Proceeds towards putting the fire out began about ten o'clock and little more than a trickle remained about an hour later.

Hundreds of people were attracted to the blaze and kept RCMP busy as they had to keep the highway open for passing fire fighting machinery as well as keep the area clear so that spectators could not be injured. There have been many explosions.

In addition to losses already mentioned, Mr. McKernan said about one thousand dollars in personal possessions.

CLBI Ambassador Teams have extensive program itineraries

Beginning on Easter Sunday, three Ambassador Teams of The Canadian Lutheran Bible Institute began a series of programs to include all the provinces from B.C. to New Brunswick, and down into the mid-western U.S.A. They will travel for periods of three-four months and their programs will be presented at congregations, youth groups, high schools, Bible camps and Deeper Life Conferences of the Lutheran Evangelistic Movement. This will be the most extensive Ambassador ministry ever conducted by the school.

Students get youth grants

by Lena Bell

An "Opportunity for Youth Grant" has been obtained by students from the County of Beaver to schedule and stage four one-week outdoor summer encampments to be held at Camp Lake, ten miles north of Kinsella.

Activities will include swimming, hiking, arts and crafts, games, wood crafts and clay work.

The camp will be under the direction of Ken Steyck of Holden, a second-year recreational administration student at the University of Alberta. Part of the group are graduates of various province of Alberta leadership schools. Some hold Red Cross and Royal Life Saving Society certificates.

Schedules of the outdoor camps will be announced in the future.

Tofield School set for 'spring prom'

by Linda Eastlick

Next week the lights will burn late in the school gymnasium as Sharon Haugen and her committee members work to complete decorations for the May 18th Prom.

The program for "Some Enchanted Evening" will commence at 8:00 p.m. with the dance to follow at 9:30 p.m. The Al Breault Combo will provide the music. This year the Grand March will begin at 11:00 p.m. At the conclusion of the march, the students of the Year Awards will be presented. Lunch will be served in the gym throughout the evening by the grade 8 girls under the supervision of Mrs. Grace Phillips.

Due to increasing expenses, admission of $3.00 per couple will be charged to both participants and spectators. Prom dress will be semi formal and door rights will be reserved.

Car wash is success

The Tofield 111 Boy Club made well on its annual car wash which was held last Saturday.

The members of the club would like to thank all those people in the community that came and supported them. We would especially like to thank John Sirois for letting us use the car wash facilities free of charge.

The annual bake sale that is usually held with the car wash will be held this Saturday, May 12th, starting at 2:30 p.m in the Tofield Community Hall. We are hoping that all the hungry people in the community will be out.

It was last week

Everyone knows there are so many "national weeks" around that they overlap terribly, and it's almost impossible even to come close to keeping up. Many of us don't even try, because the whole thing tends to get out of hand.

But last week was Mental Health Week, and it's one we shouldn't have allowed to slide by unnoticed, because problems associated with the many mental health . . . and ill health . . . have become so important to all of us. With more and more pressures developing on all of us, with the tempo of modern life seeming to increase in tempo all the time, creating additional pressures, and with more and more frustrations caused by a variety of other causes, it has become all too clear that more and more of us will face the problems with our times. And some of us will face own mental health during our life-pressures repeatedly as we try to cope with loads which are actually beyond our ability.

The mental breakdown, the lapse into unreality, is the brain's safety valve in an effort to preserve itself from pressures which would destroy it, and more and more of us will tend to "blow" the safety valve as we are faced with unbearable loads.

But greatly increased study and research over recent years is finding many ways of attacking the problems, and many new ways of overcoming difficulties are being introduced, from changes in diet in some instances to the provision of therapy and counselling in other instances. At times the solution appears by a stroke of luck almost out of the blue, but far more often it's the result of painstaking study and work on the part of dedicated workers.

Even without expert training, a good deal of help at the right time and in the right places can often be provided by willing members of the public, and the Mental Health Association in Alberta would be delighted to hear of anyone remotely interested in helping . . . there are so many ways in which help can be given. Their office is in Suite 205, 10711 - 107 Avenue, Edmonton. Why not give them a call, or drop them a line?

Teamsters reach too far

A report from Chicago recently emphasized the practically incredible power and authority the Teamster Union has been able to build up in the United States, and while we're not so hard hit in this country, we're doubtless affected by it, too.

The announcement said that the union was preparing to station guards at the gates of every Chicago-area cemetery to enforce the union's new contract with the funeral directors association.

The new contract provided that only a casket spray may accompany a casket in the hearse of a funeral procession. If the family of the deceased wants any other flowers at the cemetery, it must hire a flower car, at a cost of $61.50. (And remember, this would generally be for two hours or less.) Family cars carrying flowers will not be permitted in the funeral procession . . . by authority of the Teamsters Union.

Surely this is going far too far in trying to insist on jobs that really are unnecessary. There can be no reasonably logical arguments that would sustain a union in thus circumscribing the wishes of bereaved parties to demonstrate their grief, their sorrow, their love or their respect for the departed. Surely this is demonstrating completely irresponsible use of union power, in the tradition and philosophy of the old 'protection' racket, the muscle gangs, and the Mafia.

TOO MUCH SECRECY

Sir

On April 25th in the Alberta Legislature, Gordon Taylor (SC MLA, Drumheller), questioned Premier Peter Lougheed on the Bilderberg Conference and the status of that organization. The Premier said that it was very fortunate Alberta has been given an opportunity to express views on matters of world energy at this conference, referring to the Athabasca Tar Sands; and for that reason our Premier [illegible] derberg meetings.

Mr. Taylor also asked Lougheed if this conference was one of an exchange of ideas or one where business deals will be made and completed. Mr. Lougheed said it was a matter of exchange of ideas; no business of any nature transacted.

Mr. Benoit (SC MLA, Highwood), asked the Premier where he could obtain a list of the names of the members attending the Bilderberg Conference, and the countries represented. Premier Lougheed responded by saying he's not sure, under the rules of this conference, whether he was allowed to give the names of the people.

Wha am I getting at, you ask? I think we, as Albertans, should "really" know what this so-called Bilderberg Conference is all about especially when our Premier will be attending.

These conferences are held yearly as an international master planning conclave. They are "secret" and attendance is restricted to invited guests; these turn out to be about 100 men from the top inner circle representing their four major dimensions of power.

The chairman of the conferences is Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands who has massive fortunes in the Royal Dutch Shell Oil Corporation. Close at hand is David Rockefeller. These men and others are trying to enforce a socialized "world government" upon humanity.

Prince Bernhard convened the first of these conferences in 1954 in the Netherlands. Other meetings have been held all over the world, including Canada.

Their meetings are closed; no secretary takes notes of the speeches; no reporters sit in on the debates. The conferees depart to the four corners of the earth to carry out their adopted goals but the world is never given the slightest hint as to what has been decided.

The great fear of the Bilderberg Group has been the possibility of infiltration and exposure. They sometimes make a pretense of publicizing their meetings and even acknowledge who has been invited so that the presence of so many world-renowned personalities will not look quite so conspiratorial or mysterious.

Some typical Canadian politicians who have attended these secret meetings are Lester B. Pearson, Trudeau and Quebec Premier Bourassa.

Our Premier will be attending this socialistic-conspiratorial conference . . . a conference with members intent on bringing civilization under a "One World Government".

As I see it

by Dr. W. A. Buck,
MLA, Clover Bar

Last week saw the completion of the "Estimates". This brings to a conclusion the scrutiny of all the departments of the government's provincial budget.

The new system of sub-committee and committee study did not seem to bring out the desired results of streamlining and speeding up study of the estimates. It seemed, on the whole, to slow up the procedure. Many members felt that they wished to question estimates on other committees as well as the sub-committee on which they sat. It will remain up to the government to decide if we will return to the former system or try again next year.

This week saw our first major march on the Legislature by about 2,000 construction workers. This large group was protesting certain sections of the new Labor Act. The Minister of Labor indicated that he will be reassessing sections of the new Act and will bring in amendments later in the session.

Our side of the government felt that the new act should be more fully reviewed and brought back in the Fall sitting. The government appears to be trying to rush the new act through, rather hastily. Introduction of the bill came in just recently so that the Legislature has not had any great opportunity to ask for labor and management representation on the new act.

An increase in gasoline prices seem to be the order of the day. This was the second increase in the last short period and is the result of the increased royalty rate. I wholeheartedly agree and support the raise in royalties but would like to see an increase rebate to the farm sector so as to hold cost of production down.

Please keep the letters coming. I do appreciate it and it does help me in serving you. Phone collect 543-9660 or write Box 1030 Fort Saskatchewan, Alta.

A home worker who received orders would deduct a 30 percent commission and forward the order to the promoter for filling. Typically, the worker received 1 or 2 orders worth 2 or 3 dollars in commissions. In all about 6,000 persons lost $60,000 to this youngster.

A housewife made hundreds of dollars from 55 victims of a scheme in which she advertised work for home typists. Respondents sent her a $5 "registration fee" to qualify for typing assignments. No assignments ever materialized.

A swindler who sold instruction to be used in selling name plates on a commission basis took in over a million dollars . . . just for mthe receipt of $1 bills for his so-called instruction!

TREE PLANTING TIME

The following information on planting trees is by George Sherwichuk, District Agriculturist at Lamont and I thought you would find it a help at this time of year.

When Your Trees Arrive

Each spring as the seeding of grain begins, the trees you ordered arrive. It's a bad time for the trees to come in. But you must remember that it is the best time to plant them.

Circumstances may not permit the planting of trees immediately upon arrival. Because be held a week to ten days in good shape until you are ready to plant, but they must be 'heeled' in.

Do not allow baled and wrapped nursery material to stand more than a day after arrival. Either plant them or heel them in.

'Heeling In' is done by partially burying the lower half of the plants in moist soil.

Planting Instructions:

To give your trees or shrubs the best chance of survival and growth, make use of these suggestions:

1. Plant them immediately upon arrival. If not "heel them in."

2. When you take your plants out into the garden or field, have them planting in with the roots in a tub of 'mud soup.' Then take one at a time as you are ready to plant them. NEVER, NEVER take out a plant, lay it on the ground in the wind and sun and start digging a hole for it. Dig the hole first, then take out your plant.

3. Dig a hole a little bigger than you need for each plant.

4. If sub-soil is not too good or clay, use good farm soil to fill in when planting.

5. NEVER PLANT trees or shrubs or anything into grass sod. The plants you plant and you are best before you start.

6. It is a good idea to plant the tree or shrub and inch and a half deeper than it originally grew. If you look carefully at the bark on the root-stem region you'll find that whatever portion was in the ground is lighter in color and smoother than the stem above ground. You can then determine how deep it was in the ground before.

7. It is a good idea to leave a dish-like hollow around the tree so that it can be watered well.

8. Plant first then water generously — this means water them well.

9. When planting make sure the soil is packed (not patted) well around the roots. Use your heel (not the 6-inch spike type). I'd suggest the heel of a good work boot.

10. It is a good idea to have the tree well planted and the soil packed before watering. If done any other way, you'll find it quite messy and hard to handle.

11. If the tree is 3 feet or taller, stake and tie it to the support with a narrow piece of cloth or twine. Do not use wire. Staking will prevent the shrub or tree from swaying in the wind and will allow it to root well.

Weeds in Shelterbelt Trees.

Keeping the weeds under control for a few years certainly shows up on how the trees grow. Good planting plans as suggested later will save much labor. Most can be done with a trowel and a cultivator. There will be a few weeds too close to the trees where you don't dare come any closer with a cultivator without injuring the roots. Here you have a choice of a hoe or chemical. Since most people don't care too much about a hoe you will be interested in the chemical GRAMOXONE. It will kill any plant growth, including trees, if their foliage is sprayed. It's best to shield the small trees with a cardboard or a plywood sheet when spraying around them.

Many Trees Planted Too Close

Looking at many of the trees people plant for shelterbelts, we see some spruces, poplar, willow, etc. planted 4 to 6 feet apart in the rows. This is good for five to six years then they become too crowded. By this time they become difficult to transplant. IT'S BEST TO PLANT THEM RIGHT IN THE FIRST PLACE.

Here's how far apart they should be planted: Spruces, Pine, Larch, Poplar, Willow, Manitoba Maple, American Elm, Green Ash - - 10 to 12 feet spacing in the row.

Caragana - 1 to 2 feet spacing in the row.

Lilac, Honey suckle, Hawthorn, Cholecherry, Dogwood - 3 to 6 feet spacing.

The rows are spaced 15 to 20 feet apart.

FOR ROADSIDE or SNOW-FENCE PLANTING, the shrubs should be planted 125 feet from the edge of the road. If planted any closer the snow will pile up on the road, driveway or buildings. This also applies to farmstead shelterbelt trees.

STOL going again

The way at last seems to be clear to begin the long awaited experimental Short Take Off and Landing (STOL) air service between Ottawa and Montreal. An announcement is expected shortly from the federal government that it is letting a contract in Montreal to build a short air strip and terminal facilities alongside the old Expo parking lot. Matching temporary facilities will be put in at Rockcliffe airport in suburban Ottawa. This work should take about eight months. That means that Air Transat, the specially created subsidiary of Air Canada, should be ready to begin trial runs without passengers by late winter or early spring of next year, and full passenger flights in early summer. The change has come to pass because Finance Minister John Turner lifted his blockade in cabinet. As the local members for the area surrounding Rockcliffe airport, he has found the whole experience very trying. There was strong opposition in the districts around the airfield, and in the period leading up to the last election, Turner apparently used his considerable muscle in cabinet to freeze any development of the Stol service. He insisted that before the project could go ahead, the Ministry of Transport must demonstrate the noise levels at the airfield and meet with the various aroused citizens groups.

(Mrs. Ellen Eaton)

Mrs. Isabel Rudzcki entertained quite a number of the ladies from the district north of Tofield and former district residents at a shower on Friday night in honor of Miss Clarice Jacobsen, eldest daughter of Carl and Mavis Jacobsen, whose marriage to Peter Andersen takes place shortly. After an evening of visiting and a contest, five young girls of the district, dressed in nurses' uniforms, wheeled in the presents on a make-believe treatment table. After all the presents had been opened, Clarice thanked the guests for the gifts, and invited them all to visit her at her home in Fort McMurray where they will be making their home for the present. The hostess and her co-hostesses then served a lovely luncheon before the guests left for their homes.

Mrs. Lillian Nelson of Edmonton spent the weekend at the home of her son and family, Arnold and Deanna Nelson and family.

CORRECTION

In a recent issue it read Cecil and Violet Bailey of Sardis, B.C., were visiting in the district. It should have been Neil and Violet Bailey. Sorry for the mistake.

The flower girls were Janet and Agnes Gagne sisters of the bride.

The girls all wore floor length gowns of green polyester and they all carried bouquets of yellow and white carnations.

The bestmen were David Kaufman, Kenny and Steven Bruha, friends of the groom and Hector Gagne, brother of the bride.

The guests were ushered to their seats by Charles Cameron, brother of the groom and Victor Gagne, brother of the bride.

Open house was held in the bride's home. Centering the bride's table was a three tiered wedding cake, decorated in white, green and yellow. A reception and dance followed in the Tofield Community Centre.

Mr. and Mrs. George Knudslien and family and Ida Nord were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Allott.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hjelter of Calgary are spending the Easter holidays with relatives and friends in the Ryley district.

East Central farms are dry

The Alberta Department of Agriculture's statistician, Hugh Bryce, reports that moisture conditions are relatively good in the province except for the southern and east-central regions which are very dry. However, with a reasonable amount of moisture this spring, crops in all regions should get off to a good start.

The conditions in southern and east-central Alberta resulted from last winter's light snow cover, but fortunately, what snow there was soaked into the ground as it melted. Nevertheless, a dry spring would almost certainly produce a serious drought because the soil in these areas has no moisture reserves, Mr. Bryce says.

He also points out that unless we get some good spring rains, livestock producers in southern and east-central Alberta could find themselves with a serious water shortage. The lack of spring run-off has left many of the dugouts in these regions practically dry.

A tax case in point

By PETER WARD

OTTAWA — It's axiomatic that governments will expand expectations to spend all the funds available from higher tax revenues in good times, rather than cut taxes. It's also axiomatic that when programs introduced in the flush of prosperity become more expensive then the tax rates are eased up a notch to pay for them.

The latest case in point was the announcement just before Easter by Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde on how welfare and social assistance programs in Canada are to be "rationalized" into one inter locking scheme under dual provincial and federal umbrellas.

It's going to take three to five years before the new program comes into effect, Lalonde said, but increases in Canada Pension plan payments and baby bonus cheques, he hopes, will be in place by Jan. 1, 1974.

The baby bonus increases alone up from an average monthly payment of $7.21 per child to $20.00 per child will cost an extra $800 million. The entire package proposed by Lalonde stops short of offering a guaranteed annual income, and in outline it seems a highly commendable rationalization of the existing welfare hodgepodge. But it will be exceedingly expensive.

Worry not. The entire cost will be covered within the existing tax structure, says the minister. Do you feel that strange krinkly feeling around your nose as though something doesn't smell right?

Could it be, perhaps, that with me you remember three years ago during the great tax debate, when critics charged that the tax reform package was also designed to produce far more revenue than the government was then receiving?

Perish the thought. Ben Benminister's office. If we collect more money through the new system, why then we'll cut taxes.

No, that hasn't happened. But the fact that there certainly is an enormous lump of extra tax revenue kicking around the treasury coffers is amply demonstrated by Mr. Lalonde's prediction that we'll be able to enjoy all the benefits of the new world of social services without having our taxes raised. That is, they won't be raised right away.

Elks' leaders

Sub-local A.T.A. plans next meeting in Holden

The Tofield Sub-local ATA met on May 15th. A report from the Beaver Local was given by the Local President, Ron Taylor. He reported that the next Local meeting will be held in Holden at 7:30 p.m. on May 30th. As the new executive for the coming year will be elected at this meeting, it is imperative that a full quorum be present.

He pointed out that with the abolition of grade 12 examinations, it has become necessary to replace the hundred dollar scholarship formerly awarded each year by the ATA for the highest grade 12 average in the County, with a fifty-dollar prize for the highest academic standing in each school.

Discussion regarding the staff year-end party brought the resolution to picnic again at Elk Island Park, and arrangements for this were referred to the Social Committee.

Sub-local officers for the new term were elected: Mrs. Florence Ingram, President; Mrs. Yvonne Allen, vice pres.; Mrs Gail Foshaug, sec. and serving out the balance of a two-year term of office on the Economic Policy Committee, Floyd Irwin. Suggested for a two-year term on this committee was John Blades, subject to his later approval.

The Sub-local President, Mrs. Ingram, then introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Don Corse, Co-ordinator of Membership and Operational Services for the central ATA. Mr. Corse gave an interesting and informative talk on teachers' rights and liabilities with special emphasis on recent trends towards differential staffing, use of teacher aides, reduced enrolments leading to reducing of staff by natural attrition, and the resultant curtailment in school programs. A question period followed, bringing to a conclusion the final business meeting of the year. The date for the final meeting of the year, to be held at Elk Island Park, will be announced later by the Social Committee.

'Varmint hunt' staged by Tofield Gun Club

The Tofield Gun Club's first shoot of the year, the annual "Varmint Hunt", was held on May 6th.

The contestants were divided into three-man teams and were allotted two hours to hunt for crows, magpies, starlings and gophers.

The winners were Bill Freisen, Dr. Gordon Booth and Mike Warner. They will be presented with the trophy, the President's Shield, at the annual game supper this fall.

This coming weekend, the Tofield club will be opening the 1973 CBPF black powder competition season with the holding of their annual black powder shoot. Events begin on Saturday and will continue on Sunday.

There will be events for rifles, shotguns and handguns, and this year there will be two events for junior shooters, aged 10 to 13, as well as an air rifle event for the small fry.

The public is invited to attend, either as spectators or as competitors. Most shooters are very happy to lend their knowledge and equipment to help a novice who might wish to enter.

Starting time Saturday is 2:00 p.m., and Sunday's starting time is 9:00 a.m.

Single papers rise to 10c

Single subscriptions for The Mercury will rise on June 1st as will yearly subscriptions which were announced two weeks ago.

Beginning with the first issue in June, single papers will cost ten cents as compared to the present rate of five cents per issue.

Yearly subscription rates have been increased to $3.50 as of June 1st. New subscribers, or old subscribers wishing to extend or renew their subscriptions at the old rate, may do so up until the new rate comes into effect.

Rising costs for paper, materials and labor were cited as the major reasons for the increased cost.

Grass blaze razes barns

(Mrs. Jim Roddick)

With the help of neighbors and the promptness of the South Cooking Lake fire department, a grass fire at the Alen Penrice farm was soon extinguished.

But, the fire did have a head start as the Penrices have no phone, and Mrs. Penrice, who has a crippled leg, had to go one mile to a neighbor's for help.

Mrs. Penrice was burning her garbage and a small bit, fanned by the wind, escaped, catching on nearby grass.

Two small buildings were burned and a third badly scorched.

Holden seniors organize club

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

A meeting was held Thursday evening, May 10th, in the old Grade I school, for senior citizens of Holden and district with Mr. Baker of Ryley, Recreational Director for County of Beaver attending.

The group attending was advised by Mr. Baker of the requirements needed to organize, having a constitution drawn up and by-laws, and having various officers such as other organizations have.

He also advised them of the various programs and activities that are available for those interested, that three free trips or tours to various places in the province can be had, buses being supplied by the government for transportation.

Mr. Baker then showed a number of slides of the activities, etc., of the Tofield group.

The Holden Group is to be known as "Holden Senior Club" and will meet once a month in the former grade 1 school which they have the free use of for their meetings and other activities.

Ryley holds annual prom

(Lena Reil)

Friday, May 11th, Ryley School gymnasium was decked out in her finest attire for the annual Spring Prom.

To accompany the theme "A Dream World Beyond", the gym was decorated in various pinks and with a beautiful mural created by Don Pope.

Everyone danced to the music of the "Easy Aces" until 1:30 a.m.

This year, the traditional crowning of the queen and princess was held at midnight with the winners being Elaine Munkedahl, queen, and Susie Stensrud, princess.

Other contestants were Linda Cucheran, Eileen Owen, Sheila Ilsey and Lorraine Helgeland.

The door prize was won by Haakon Stensrud of Camrose. Lunch was served throughout the entire evening.

Weed control cuts crop loss

Chemical weed control in Canada has been handled responsibly from research through to licensing and application, according to a scientist at the Agriculture Canada Regina, Sask., Research Station.

And, the scientist continues, the use of herbicides has gone a long way to stabilize agriculture and as a result the whole of society, particularly in the prairies.

Chances of crop failure have been greatly reduced by weed control.

Eight projects under OFY approved in Battle River

This year's Opportunities for Youth grants for the Edmonton rural area (south to Ponoka, east and west to Saskatchewan and British Columbia) will total $369,005. The 43 approved projects will employ 278 young people, in schemes ranging from recreation for senior citizens to a recycling project.

A Battle River project called Beaver Bound on Battle River will involve a study for the removal of beaver dams along the Battle River. They are creating numerous problems of water back-up and flooding of valuable agricultural land for farmers who own land along the river. The project contact is Joanne Robertson, one of four who will have a grant of $8,180 to work with.

In Camrose, there is a Dial-A-Grandchild project designed to aid elderly people, providing such services as lawn mowing, gardening, housekeeping, painting, and general maintenance of households. Project contact, Randy Gurlock, and ten others will have $8,033 to work with.

The Camrose Recycling Project, employing Jan Cheema and six others, will have $8,400 for the collection and recycling of newspapers and other waste papers.

Operation Outdoors in Ryley is a project to schedule and stage four one-week outdoor summer encampments for youngsters from 8 to 15 years of age at Camp Lake and Beaverhill Lake in Beaver County. Ken Sieryk and 13 others will have $10,945 with which to work.

Also in Ryley, Operation Clean-up will concentrate on the area surrounding the park. Larry Lougheed and two others will have $800 to remove and recycle dead timber and brush, install an entry gate and new fence, lay out a softball diamond, and plant trees and shrubs.

The Viking Youth Environmental Program, employing Larry Kelly and two others, is aimed at the general beautification of the town of Viking. It involves litter removal and care of public vegetation in parks, recreational facilities, cemetery, and around public buildings. Their grant totals $1,730.

A Beaver project called Opening Beaver's Past will result in a book. Lois Hameister and four others will have a grant of $6,100 and will interview people, tape conversations, photograph, review old records and papers, and compile data, to write a history of the Beaver community.

And Killam has a project going also. Barry Munro and one other are employed in the Flagstaff Youth Involvement Program, which is designed to involve boys and girls from 8 to 16 years in organized sports programs for the summer. The grant to work with is $2,780.

This year 35 percent of the projects are rural (located in communities smaller than 10,000), an increase over last year's 43 percent, says Secretary of State Hugh Faulkner. There are also increases in the numbers of non-student young people, women, and native northern projects, he says.

SEED IDENTIFICATION SERVICE

Agriculture Canada's seed testing laboratories across the country check commercial seed for weed seed and other unwanted contaminants.

But sometimes novel seeds turn up in their tests -- like peas and beans from a French frigate which set sail for the New World in 1760; or fossilized seeds of marsh plants.

Alberta now has a modern cheddar cheese factory at St. Paul and will soon have others at Bashaw and Glenwood.

Improved returns to manufacturing milk producers and cheese expansion and diversification policies have all played a part in the present trend towards the mechanization of cheese factories in Alberta. From the point of view of labor, cheddar cheese manufacturing has, by tradition, always been a very arduous and back-breaking type of work. Now it promises to be considerably more attractive.

The new cheese factory at St. Paul is completely mechanized except for the cheddaring process itself, which is still done by hand. This plant has a well laid-out floor plan and makes wise use of conveyors and power hoisters.

The Alberta Department of Agriculture's regional dairy specialist, Dennis Prince, gives the following description of the improvements in the mechanization of cheddar cheese making that are being used at St. Paul.

The curd is formed and cooked in a double-O covered vat. This vat is two to three times larger than the conventional cheese vat. It has a capacity of 30,000 pounds of milk.

The curd-whey slurry is then pumped by means of a positive action, low rpm pump via a four-inch line to a cheddaring or finishing table. This table looks like a conventional vat except that it is not nearly as deep. Most of the whey is pumped via the cheddaring table to the whey storage tank where it is separated. The remainder of the whey and all the curd is then held in the cheddaring table until the acid has developed to the required level, at which time the small amount of whey remaining may be quickly drained and the curd piled. The use of a pH meter rather than an acidmeter is a significant innovation at the St. Paul plant.

After the curd has piled, the cheddaring then takes place in the cheddaring table. Since the bottom of the table is about on a level with an average man's hand, this part of the process, which requires much handling of the cheese, can now be done without bending and reaching as has previously been the case.

After the cheddaring has been completed, the curd is milled, salted and mechanically agitated until the salt dissolves.

The cheddaring table is equipped with a plough mechanism that takes "bites" of curd and pushes it to the open end of the cheddaring table. Here it drops into an augur and curd elevator which directs the milled curd to the hoop where it is weighed, mechanically "stomped" and hydraulically pressed. Single-service press cloths are used in this plant.

The following day the cheese is removed from the press and packaged in a plastic bag prior to being stored. The hoop is then mechanically washed and lined in preparation for the curd made that day.

Because of today's high labor costs, many cheese factories in Ontario and Quebec are also using this system of making cheese. It eliminates much of the manual labor and improves the hygienic quality

Only three of the eight federal general elections held in Canada in the past 20 years have resulted in the election of majority governments. They were the elections of August, 1953, March 1958 and June 1968. In each case the majority was lost in the next election.

In each of the 16 Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Depots active research projects involving blood grouping and blood transfusion are under way.

So much for law and order

The spectacle of Premier Bourassa of Quebec supporting the early release of three union leaders convicted of inciting their members to disobey the government must give pause to thinking members of the country, both within and beyond the borders of Quebec. Far less than half of their sentence, honestly merited, had been served, when Mr. Bourassa felt the situation called for justice tempered with mercy, and advocated the release of these men, to go back to working with their unions, and devising more methods of obstructing rapid economic development of the province.

His own attorney general was in open conflict with the premier over this travesty of justice, and the public in Quebec is seeing once again how frequently Mr. Bourassa does not have the support of his cabinet in serious matters.

Coming home again

Economic nationalists who declared that it wasn't necessary to nationalize industry to make it Canadian, it was only necessary to change some of the tax laws, are being proved right. At least in part. For a combination of new tax rules, and special market forces are combining to increase dramatically the Canadian ownership of some of Canada's largest companies, according to recent reports in financial centres.

The latest to pass the half-Canadian ownership mark is International Nickel Co. of Canada, whose stock, at mid-March, was fifty-one percent owned by Canadians, thirty percent by Americans, and nineteen percent elsewhere. As recently as the end of 1970, little more than two years ago, the figures were only thirty-one percent Canadian, compared to fifty-six percent American and thirteen percent elsewhere.

About fifty-seven percent of Alcan stock is now held in Canada, compared to forty-one percent in 1970. And the survey says, even more dramatic is the change in share distribution of the Hudson's Bay Co. It is now about half owned in Canada, compared to only about seven percent just before the company moved its head office, and its legal residence, to Canada from Britain in 1970.

Behind the shift, at least in the case of Inco and Alcan, seems to be a basic difference of opinion over the outlook for mining and metals, so that Canadians have been buying, while Americans have been selling. This seems particularly true in the case of the institutional investors, although Canadian institutional opinion may be colored by the government requirement that ninety percent of their stock market holdings be in Canadian equities.

In the case of Hudson's Bay, it seems the move to Canada almost insured a shift of stock into Canadian hands. Before the move, the British investor looked on it as a dollar stock for all practical purposes, but one which he could buy without paying the security dollar premium imposed by the British government. That advantage is now gone.

Part of the dramatic shift is undoubtedly caused by the interplay of market forces and opinions, but part of it is equally developed through the introduction of a more sympathetic tax system. We could do with a lot more of this, increasing our own control and impact i[illegible] our market place, without materiall[illegible] damaging our international image, such as direct nationalization might achieve.

Ottawa viewpoint

By PETER WARD

OTTAWA- Within the last year Canada has suffered strikes which crippled shipping on both coasts, shut down municipal services in her major cities, halted all airline traffic, and even in Quebec gone to the extent of jailing three labor leaders for a year because they advocated their rank and file should break the law.

With a track record like that one would expect a fair measure of fireworks at the first meeting of provincial and federal ministers in the past two years. Come to think of it they've only been ogether six times since World War II.

But if fireworks were your expectation you'd have been disappointed during that get-together in Ottawa during the spring recess of parliament.

There wasn't one issue that the Labor ministers discussed to the point of disagreement. I suppose one should add that despite a running labor dispute involving elevator maintenance men effecting the entir country, that subject was not even raised.

The object of the exercise was to agree, it seemed, and that the ministers of labor from all 10 provinces managed to do, aided and abetted by the federal minister John Munro.

What emerged from the two day conference was a particularly bland communique followed by a congenial press conference.

The Ministers agreed that minimum wages in all provinces and in federal jurisdiction should be raised gradually so as not to hurt employment until they surpassed the level of welfare payments available to the average family.

They also agreed to mount cooperative federal-provincial studies on the causes of wildcat labor stoppages with the goal of reducing the number of strikes which take place during the life of labor contracts.

They talked about the compressed workweek-where employes put in the same number of hours weekly but do it in four days instead of five-and they agreed there too. They agreed that the idea shouldn't be pressed but neither should it be obstructed.

The list of agreements ran into five pages. The dissent could have been covered in a sentence.

The whole performance left one scratching the reportorial head wondering if the new labor minister, John Munro, is a consensus genius - or whether he has simply been astute enough to steer clear of any confrontation.

Oil with lumps in it?

Pumping coal as well as oil down a crude-oil pipeline? No, it's not a pipe dream. It's the solid proposal of Interprovincial Pipe Line Co. President David Waldon. The project would involve transporting powdered coal from Alberta to Eastern Canada along part of its present two thousand mile pipeline system. If proved economically feasible, this would be the first such project operated on a commercial scale anywhere in the world. The market for the coal-oil mix are the various power companies along the pipeline route - including big Ontario Hydro. Based on investigations so far, IPL thinks a mixture as viscous as 35 percent coal could still be pumped through the system. Even greater BTU value could be packed into the same volume if the coal were upgraded before transportation. (It would be partly dehydrated and have some of the ash content removed after pulverization.) A possible starting volume of one million tons a year is being looked at. But the upward potential could be many times that, depending on power company demands. Power company officials - all extremely concerned about the rapidly rising costs of their future fuel requirements - have indicated considerable interest in the project. An attractive feature of the plan is the low sulphur content of most Alberta subbituminous coals. Ambitious plans for moving coal great distances through a pipeline in a water-slurry mixture have had to be abondoned time and again because the heavy capital cost of building the pipeline rendered the project uneconomic. The cost of building such a grass-roots project from Alberta to Eastern Canada, for instance, is estimated at about $500 million. But, in the proposed IPL plan, the pipeline is already built and functioning. The major additional investment involved on IPL's part would likely be an acceleration of its present 48-inch diameter looping program.

SHORT CUTS FOR SEWING KNITS

(Prepared by A. Marilyn Hemsing, Clothing and Textile Specialist)

With knit fabrics increasing in popularity and variety, the time the home sewer spends in garment-making is reduced.

Knits are easy to cut and sew but they are a little different from woven fabrics. Just remember:

1. don't allow a knit fabric to hang off the end of the cutting table. Fold up the excess at the edge of the table and unfold it as you lay the pattern pieces on.

2. If it is a tubular knit (as in some T-shirt fabrics) cut along a rib line to make a flat fabric. Fold along a rib line to establish straight grain of the fabric. Preferably cut each pattern piece separately on a single layer of fabric—especially on a striped knit fabric.

3. When sewing allow for the fabric strechiness so the stitches won't break in wear. Do this by using a fine zig-zag stitch — or stretch the seams as you sew — or use a small straight stitch — or use a polyester thread and stretch slightly — or use machine stretch stitch.

Seam finishes are unnecessary on most knits because knits don't usualy ravel. Seams on single knits, such as T-shirts and sweater fabrics curl. To prevent this, sew both seams edges together with a single row of straight stitching.

Bindings are a snap and a great way to finish neck and armhole edges on dresses and tops, cardigan jackets, and slash openings. No need to fold under or finish the raw edge on these either. Bindings are decorative and easier than facings on a knit.

Boundbutton holes are neat, give a quality appearance and are easy to do on a knit. To finish the facing of a bound button, stitch around the rectangular shape of the buttonhole from the right side, stitching through the facing. Carefully clip out the facing fabric within the rectangular stitching. Voilas! No hand work needed.

Tailers hems are a super-easy way to hem on knits. Pin the hem up, matching the seams. Fold back the raw edge ½ inch as you sew. Hand stitch from hem to garment to hem with sitches about ½" apart. No need to turn under the raw edge, or to finish with seam binding.

Getting lazy? Maybe so, but it is a waste of time, effort and money to use extra thread and seam binding unnecessarily to finish raw edges of knit fabrics.

SEAT BELT SAFETY

Consumers' Association of Canada reminds motorists to periodically inspect the seat belts in their cars. Sections of the webbing that make regular contact with metal hardware should be examined carefully. Continued abrasion at such vital points can weaken the fabric, which can then give way in a sudden stop or accident. CAC national headquarters is located at 100 Gloucester Street, Ottawa.

Religious crusade coming to Viking

The "Invitation To Live" Crusade, scheduled for Viking from June 8 - 17, is a major event for this area. A mass choir, under the direction of Bill McCaul of Toronto, will perform in a hymn-sing at 7:30 p.m. nightly. Evangelist Marney Patterson will proclaim the Word of God each night, commencing at 8:00 p.m.

In a recent South West Saskatchewan Crusade, Rev. Patterson's messages each evening were direct, simple and challenging so that all could understand the message of salvation and the response was left up to the individual.

Mabel Mills' ministry to women has truly been blessed by God. Many reported they had been challenged to a greater commitment after listening to her apply Bible truths to everyday life.

Mr. McCaul, is considered a great choir director. He has a keen sense of humor as well as a love for God and his fellow man and seems to draw out the best in people.

Many people were heard to say during the Saskatchewan Crusade "It's the greatest thing that ever hit this town!"

The meetings will be held in the new Viking Community Hall. Plan to attend regularly. Bring your friends.

Stone-age art

One of the interesting displays at the recent exhibit of lapidary work, in conjunction with the Art Club Show, was the picture above. Each component of the design is an individually polished stone, cut, shaped and polished individually to exacting standards to match or fit the design as required. At first glance an exercise in child's play, almost, the work turns out to be the result of many tedious hours of painstaking, exacting hours of work. It is a product of one of the members of the lapidary group in the Camrose Craft Centre.

Dairy industry again seeking crown princess

Alberta dairymen again are seeking a Princess.

Alberta's 1973-74 Princess will be selected in contest finals at Edmonton's K-Days Exposition and entries for the preliminaries are now being accepted. Out of these regional contests, eight winners will be selected for the finals.

The contest is open to single girls, 17 - 25 years old, who have a farm background. Candidates must compete in a variety of tests including public speaking, knowledge of the dairy industry, personality, poise, and machine milking.

The winner will be expected to serve in a public relations role for the dairy industry for one year, and will conclude her public appearances by competing at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, for the 1974 Canadian Dairy Princess crown.

All provincial finalists receive transportation costs and board and room while in Edmonton.

The dairy princess competition is sponsored jointly by the Alberta Dairymen's Association, the Alberta Milk Producers' Association and the Edmonton Exhibition Association Limited, and is supervised by the provincial departments of agriculture and culture, youth and recreation.

Bob rown, Box 550, Red Deer, is chairman of the 1973 Dairy Princess Committee and entries should be forwarded to him.

Holden pupils enjoy study tour of Calgary

(Supplied by Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

Tuesday, May 22nd, 42 eyed grade 5 students of Holden school met at the school for a field trip to Calgary, leaving at 6:30 a.m. They arrived in Calgary at the Saskeve Barracks around noon, then enjoyed a delicious dinner of a varied menu.

At 1:30 they left to visit at Heritage Park. Here they saw the Shoal's elevator, an old-time train, paddle steamer, Hudson's Bay Fort, Prince House, Wainwright Hotel, a general store, and many other pioneer articles, such as a spinning wheel, butter churn, clothing and many other articles for the house.

A lady's blouse sold for 75c and shoes for a little over a dollar.

The Prince House was visited. This hotel been built in 1894. It was furnished with old-time furniture. The four bedrooms upstairs had dressed models which seemed as if they were in use; the high front beds were especially noted.

At the Canmore Opera House they saw a play put on by five actors. This traced the history of Western Canada, the coming of settlers and the NWMP, and the hardships which all endured.

At five p.m. they were back at the barracks for supper which was again a delicious meal, then at 6:30 they were off to the Glenbow Museum. Crafts of various Indian tribes and of other countries were shown; they also saw many stuffed animals, old weapons, armour, antique rooms, a Hutterite room and replicas of the Crown Jewels.

By 8 p.m. they were back at the barracks auditorium where the extension officer Mr. Schmitz, gave a talk and showed a film of the Calgary Stampede. At 9 p.m. it was time to retire, but most were so excited that sleep did not come until the early hours of the morning.

Next morning the boys were up at five for a brisk walk around the building to get up a good appetite for a good breakfast and at 8:30 they were off to the zoo where they saw animals from many countries, the dinosaur park, and the conservatory where they saw tropical plants and other plants, which were placed in rooms according to the heat and moisture needed, similar to their original environment, even a banana tree. After this they visited the art gallery and were divided into groups with a guide explaining the types of paintings.

They were back at the barracks by noon for dinner, then visited at the Planetarium where they were taken on a tour to show model planes, a model railroad and then looked through a telescope at the sunspots, and later were shown the view of the stars.

They then boarded the bus for the trip home, stopping on the way for supper.

The money for the trip was donated by a lady in Calgary, each year she makes the donation to the Glenbow Institute to pay expenses of school children who live more than 100 miles from Calgary Mr.

Song festival comes to Tofield on June 3

If you enjoy choral music, come hear the massed choir of the Conference Mennonites of Alberta on June 3rd at 2 p.m. in the Tofield Agricultural Arena, as they worship God in song.

The choir, composed of singers from the various Mennonite church choirs of Alberta, will be led by guest conductor Dr. John E. Albertson of Kansas City U.S.A. Dr. Albertson will be known by many for his fine work, especially with the Youth Group of the Provincial Summer Music Workshop, held in Camrose in the summers of 1971 and 1972.

Dr. Albertson is Supervisor of Music in Kansas City Schools and has had extensive experience in directing various church and school choirs. He is also a fine baritone soloist.

This Song Festival sponsored by the Alberta Mennonite Youth Organization, has become an annual event and changes location each year. Held in Calgary last year, it is hosted by the Tofield Mennonite Church this year

Long service award

A local employee of Northwestern Utilities Limited, Peter Klar, crewman, was recently presented with a 20-year award for long service with the gas company. He joined the company in March, 1953 as a skilled labourer.

Pete is an ardent fisherman and gardener and anyone who has viewed the Tofield office grounds is aware that Pete certainly has a green thumb.

He is a member of the Tofield Lions Club and is married with two children.

A seat is a seat

Roughly a third of the regular fare can be saved on excursion flights lasting from a little over a week to a little over four weeks on some airlines in Canada, while even larger savings can be realized on some flights running from 22 to 45 days on a holiday basis.

A recent report says the international airlines are locked in a desperate battle with highly organized gangs of ticket scalpers who run a "fantastic operation" buying the low-priced excursion tickets, then reselling them to passengers who want longer, shorter, or even one-way trips. The passengers make a big saving over the standard fare, and the scalpers share in profits estimated last year as high as five hundred million dollars.

The ridiculous thing seems to be that the airlines insist on making it so easy for the scalpers. Why in the world should a regular ticket, over a weekend or just a few days, cost so much more than one for eight days to nearly two months? After all, a seat is a seat, and it doesn't matter when it has to be provided . . . it still costs the same amount.

The airlines can argue that they are bound to provide seats for all tickets sold on the regular flights, but this is just another way of saying that when the seats are all sold you have to wait for some other flight . . . there's no way they're going to add any extra aircraft for a few overseld seats.

A number of driving schools have expressed an interest in offering the in-car phase of the Driver Education 10 Course. Since the School Committee has experienced some difficulties with this part of the program due in part to long sessions to the trainer cars in the last one and one half years, it was decided earlier in the year to conduct a study on having Driver Education offered by driving schools.

It was concluded that the cost to the School Committee of having the in-car portion of the course offered by a driving school may approximate the cost of the present method of providing instruction. It was felt that an attempt should be made to have the in-car part of the program offered by a driving school in only one school on an experimental basis before any transfer is made on the total program. Moved that the accounts as represented by General Cheques 8570 to 8629 inclusive, Payroll Cheques 8422 to 8581 inclusive, be approved and passed for payment. Carried.

Dan Manderson attended the meeting at this time in connection with the Southeast Beaverhill Drainage Ditch. The ditch was originally constructed on a cost sharing basis with the Provincial Government assuming 75 percent of the cost, the County of Beaver 12 and one half percent, and the individual land owners 12 and one half percent. The 12 and one half percent has not as yet been assessed to the land owners as there is a grey area of difficulty in determining the area involved and on what basis to assess benefit derived from the ditch. There have been several problems result since its construction which have caused farmers in that area considerable inconvenience.

As a result of this discussion, it was moved that Cr. Knudsen, Cr. Kropielnicki and Dan Manderson arrange to meet with representatives from Water Resources Branch regarding the water problems in this area. Carried.

Moved that an assessment be made to the land owners for this ditch. Carried.

Robert Purnell from The Viking News, and Ed Clinton and C. McLean from The Tofield Mercury attended the meeting at this time regarding the coverage the County is getting in the weekly news papers.

When the original arrangement was made to publish County news and advertising it was the feeling of the County Council that this coverage would be adequate, but only County Council and School Committee business. There are more news items now, particularly under the Recreation Department, than in previous years, and as a result it is impossible to publish all the items as the cost for publishing is increasing. The newspaper representatives indicated they would be willing to publish all the County and Recreation items at $3.25 per subscription. Moved that the subscription rate of $2.25 per year be increased to $3.25 per year. Carried.

There was some concern over the length of time it takes to publish the County Council and School Committee Minutes. It has been the policy in the past to have the minutes adopted before publishing which results in at least a month's delay. Moved that the County Council and School Committee Minutes be published before they are adopted at the following meeting. Carried.

Ed Bauer from Merlin Transport, J. Green from Koch Oil Company Ltd. and two representatives from Gibson Petroleum, attended the meeting to discuss the road oiling program in the County of Beaver No. 9. Quotations for 1973 will be provided by letter.

Moved that these tenders be tabled for a month in order that Cr. Brissard can study this item to see exactly what is required to be hauled by a contractor and what should be hauled by individuals. Carried.

Moved that Glen M. Knudsen be hired as part-time heavy duty mechanic Carried.

A request to subdivide the S.E. 13-50-21-W4 was received. Moved that permission be granted to subdivide this property. Carried. Moved that Cr. Sears and Cr. Roddick be authorized to purchase fence posts. Carried.

Counties and Municipalities are not exempt from over - dimensional over - load permits or other policies which may affecting the use adopted by public highways. It is a requirement that the grand - type vehicles being moved to public roads must have the blade removed and replaced on the vehicle so that the ends will not extend beyond the width of the body of the transporting vehicle. Moved that this letter be received and referred to Gerald Allott. Carried.

T.M. Kerlee and G.A. Bakey attended the meeting at this time and reported on the proposed Regional Recreation and Parks Budget for 1973. Moved that a Special Council Meeting be held April 27th, 1973, commencing at 10:00 A.M. Carried.

Last Saturday the Ryley United Church Explorers hosted their month-to-a baseball game and tea at the home of Mrs. Birk. This robust event marked the last official Explorer meeting of the season and it was the last meeting for Tammy Helgeland, Vanessa Manery, Jean Kast, and Sharon Helgeland as they now graduate into the CGIT.

On Thursday, the CGIT held their mother and daughter banquet. It was a Japanese dinner. Mrs. Harriet Ruddy showed slides of Japan and talked about Japan, which was most interesting.

The 4-H Spinning Needles held their year-end party in Camrose with two families going. They picked up their dinner at a drive-in and ate it at the park then later played ball and went swimming.

Mrs. Edgar Beetlye has returned home from Camrose Hospital and feeling her self again.

Hog producer's viewpoint

by Elmer Schultz

The Marketing Council is an agency which keeps an eye on the operation of the marketing boards in Alberta. This group consist of representatives of most segments of agriculture except the hog industry. The hog industry made another step forward when Dr. Horner asked for three representatives of the hog industry to be on that board.

Livestock producers are facing a real tragedy, especially the hog industry, with rapidly increasing soybean prices. I have just been told by the feed company which I deal with that soybean prices jumped another $140.00 a ton. This brings the price to almost three times what it was a year ago and there doesn't seem to be any relief in sight.

This reminds me of what has happened last fall with the Russians buying up a large amount of soybean from the U.S. at the going price at that time of approximately $125.00 per ton. This type of purchase has helped to create a shortage of meal for us Canadians who have been their traditional customers for years.

We have a lot to learn from this experience; I believe we should be prepared to purchase our annual needs of soybean right after the American harvest. To accomplish this, we must organize ourselves through a federal agency or the Canadian Wheat Board to purchase or commit ourselves to purchase sufficient needs for the year. This would make more sense than letting the Russians buy up all our protein supplement which are in great shortage the world over.

Hog producer's viewpoint

by Elmer Schultz

The Marketing Council is an agency which keeps an eye on the operation of the marketing boards in Alberta. This group consist of representatives of most segments of agriculture except the hog industry. The hog industry made another step forward when Dr. Horner asked for three representatives of the hog industry to be on that board.

Livestock producers are facing a real tragedy, especially the hog industry, with rapidly increasing soybean prices. I have just been told by the feed company which I deal with that soybean prices jumped another $140.00 a ton. This brings the price to almost three times what it was a year ago and there doesn't seem to be any relief in sight.

Community League sets plans for 'Canada Day'

by Grace Phillips

"The Community participates; the Community benefits" is the theme for Canada Day 1973 in Tofield.

Plans for the July 1st weekend in Tofield were the major items of business at the regular June meeting of the Tofield Community League on Tuesday in the Community Centre, with president Bob Moss in the chair and 15 members present.

Men's baseball, junior baseball and ladies' softball will be major attractions. The closed gymkhana, displays by the RCMP, the Historical Society, the Garden Society, Arts and Crafts, and the Agricultural Society will also provide attractions for spectators. A bing, in the Arena from 1 to 4 p.m., run by the Legion members is an innovation this year.

The dance on Saturday, June 30th, with Joe Laahuis of Unifarm in charge will feature Jensen's Orchestra. It will be held in the Community Centre from 9:30 to 2 a.m.

The parade, reported Petra Sauffer, has 25 entries already promised. Judges are secured and a parade marshal is being contacted. The parade is scheduled to move off at 11 a.m. from the hospital area. It will follow a winding route through town to an area east of Dr. Price's home. Here prizes will be awarded and the parade disbanded.

The Lions' Club is again in charge of the barbecue which will begin at 4:30 p.m.

A raffle for 73 silver dollars is in charge of the Chamber of Commerce. A gate prize will be awarded to the winner of the lucky admission ticket.

The Beaverhill Light Horse Association is presenting a closed gymkhana at 2 p.m., as well as providing a large entry for the parade.

The Ardrossan Junior Band will be a feature of the parade and will give a band concert later on.

The Tofield Historical Society will be hosts to Old Timers who will be registered and given free coffee. Pictures in honor of the RCMP centenary will be displayed.

Food will be available in several areas. The Curling Club and the 4-H Club will be serving.

The Community Centre has been thoroughly cleaned by the ladies of the Mennonite Brethren Church. Even the seats have been scrubbed.

Thomas Jacobs, chairman of the grounds committee, is planning changes which will allow more parking space. Some low spots on the grounds will be filled up and the posts around the old skating rink will be removed.

The Tofield Firemen will again be responsible for parking arrangements.

Recent 100-club winners are Reg Adaire and Mrs. Carlson and Mrs. Sostart (jointly).

A letter of thanks was received from the Tofield Agricultural Society for contributions from the League and for Hans Christensen's handling of funds for the 1972 drive.

Tied for top place

Armand Pirault of Wetaskiwin demonstrates winning style as he pitches the bundle above into the threshing machine at Jayewhars Jamboree, but Tony Schneider of Killam proved to be just as good and the two tied for the bundle pitching championship with scores of 95. Performing as separator man above is Palmer Peterson, who handled the sheers all through the two days, while Casper Foss operated the old steam engine. Other contestants included last years champion, Jim Thrak, Lewis Felix of Forestburg, MP Harry Kuntz, and MLA Gordon Stromberg.

Viking still unbeaten in Powerline loop

In the Powerline League on Thursday the Ryley Rebels downed the Camrose Roadrunners 7-1. Ralph Berke pitched a strong game for the Rebels and was credited with the win. D. Schoenknecht was charged with the loss.

In Round Hill, the home-town North Stars lost as they were defeated 11-5 by the Viking Shamrocks. Lane Merta was credited with the win while Randy Strilchuk was tagged with the loss. Other action on Thursday saw Berdo and Tofield tie 7-7.

In Ryley on Tuesday, the Beadle Athletics won their first game of the season in convincing fashion as they downed the Ryley Rebels 13-8. Darryl Reil was credited with the win while Roger Shimek took the loss. In Tofield, the Viking Shamrocks continued their winning ways as they stopped the Tofield Lions 9-8. The Camrose Roadrunners defeated Round Hill in the second of the Thursday game played Tuesday night.

Mennonite 'song fest' outstanding success

The annual Song Festival arranged by choir leaders of the Mennonite Churches of Alberta was held in Tofield on June 2nd and 3rd. Choirs and individual contestants from all over Alberta took part. The committee was fortunate in obtaining the services of Dr. John Albertson as guest conductor for the massed choir and as adjudicator for some of the instrumental contests.

The opening session of the Song Fest was held on Saturday afternoon in the church and consisted of competitions in piano, flute, accordion, violin, trombone, guitar and voice. Probably the keenest competition was in the instrumental class which was won by Terry Sims with Bruce Baergen a close second. Both boys played violin and held the audience spellbound with their fine renditions. The talent shown by all competitors was of a very high order.

On Sunday morning, a song worship service was held in the Agricultural Arena. Choirs taking part were from Edmonton, Coaldale, Calgary Foothills and Calgary First, Didsbury Warburg, Tofield and a children's choir from

by,
Don Mazankowski, M.P.

Since my last report to you a number of developments have transpired in the House of Commons which are of significance to all Canadians.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

One of the items to which I refer was the free vote on the extension of the five year ban on the death penalty in all cases of murder except in the case of on-duty police officers or prison guards.

The closeness of the vote, 138 to 114, to extend the trial period is, in itself, a reflection of the grave doubts and reservations which many members have about the legislation itself and the manner in which it has been administered. As for myself, I voted against this measure.

Over the past five years, notwithstanding the fact there were policemen and prison guards murdered and convictions of capital murder, all death sentences were commuted, so the spirit and intent of the Act was never carried out. It seems to me, that those who argue that the death penalty is not a deterrent really have no foundation upon which to base their argument since it really was never implemented. Secondly, since the Government appears to be committed to the total ban of capital punishment, it should have brought forward, in my opinion, legislation which Parliament could have dealt with on that basis and we could have had a debate on it and voted squarely on the issue. Thirdly, the vast majority of those whom I have the honour of representing have indicated in various ways their desire for the reinstatement of capital punishment and I believe it naturally follows that their wishes should be reflected in a vote of this nature. In reaching the decision as to how I should vote, I must emphasize the great importance I attached to the wishes of the people.

In effect, Parliament has now approved, in principle, a total ban of capital punishment based on the experience of the past five years, under the guise of a Bill which contains a partial ban. Amendments will probably be introduced as the Bill proceeds through future stages, however, second reading is approval in principle and, amendments which deviate from that principle, will not likely be considered.

THE ECONOMY

Finance Minister Turner broke his long silence and unveiled his long-awaited compromise measure to implement his Government's tax reductions and fast write-off measures for manufacturing and processing corporations, an issue held in a state of limbo since May, 1972.

In an attempt to meet the objections of the Conservatives, he proposed measures wherein the legislation may be reviewed after April 1, 1974, on the recommendation of sixty members of Parliament. This, in effect, provides for the removal of permanency of such measures. The Conservatives agreed to support Mr. Turner's legislation for a period of one year on the basis that many companies may have acted in good faith on the commitments made by the Finance Minister and to change the rules in mid-stream would have been undesirable and caused considerable hardship.

However, with the Finance Minister's apparent capitulation, we are not absolutely sure whether he conscientiously agrees with the Conservative's proposal or whether he and the Liberal Government are simply hungry to cling onto power. In any event, this is not the only issue on which the Government has completely reversed itself, and probably it will not be the last, if its main occupation is to remain in power.

OFFICIAL LANGUAGES

The Resolution reaffirming the principle of the Official Languages Act, promised in the Throne Speech, is presently before the House.

The Resolution contains nine guidelines for the promotion of bilingualism in the agencies and Crown corporations, plus measures which safeguard those who are unilingual presently within the Public Service and those who are desirous of entering it.

The application of the Official Languages Act, and the administration of it within the Public Service was a subject of considerable controversy during the last election. The announced guidelines in December which in large part form the substance of the Resolution.

The Conservative Party, having regard for the fact that this Resolution has no legal status, has recommended to the Government that the Resolution become an amendment to the Official Languages Act wherein it would be administered on the basis of law rather than by Government commitment.

In other news, I was pleased to learn that the Boundaries Commission for the Province of Alberta, in tabling its final report on the Federal Electoral boundaries, saw fit to include the name of Vegreville in the new proposed constituency of Battle River-Vegreville. While there still remains some disappointment as to the enormous size of this rural constituency, which the Commission failed to consider it is reassuring to note that the representations by all parties had some effect, at least in preserving the very historical name of Vegreville.

AGRICULTURE SOCIETIES ACT AMENDED

The Alberta Agricultural Societies Act has been amended by the provincial legislature to increase the government's guarantees for loans to agricultural societies from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000.

It became necessary to increase the guarantees for loans because there has been a considerable increase in the number of new societies formed within the last two years, and because so many existing societies are engaged in building new community facilities like exhibit buildings, arenas and community halls. Under the Alberta government's priority employment program, rural communities can get a grant to cover half the cost of a building project up to a total of $30,000.

Another amendment to the Agricultural Societies Act makes it possible for an agricultural society that wants to establish a race meet and pari-mutuel betting to approach the Alberta Racing Commission directly. Prior to this amendment having been passed, such a society would first have to go through a time consuming and cumbersome legislative procedure.

Lakeshore - McKenzie news items

(Ellen Eaton)

June 7 — Donna and Frank Edwards and children, Robin and Judy of Elk Point were Friday and Saturday visitors at the home of Donna's parents, Howard and Mae Ferguson.

Arnold Jones of this district was among several parents and the teachers who accompanied the grade 5 students from the Tofield School on a field trip to Calgary on Monday and Tuesday. Arnold's daughter, Patricia was one of the grade 5 students.

Clarence Phillips, his son, Lenny and his nephew, Bobby all of Edmonton, were Sunday visitors at the home of his cousin, Ellen Eaton.

The Glen Jones family, the Earl Jones family, the Morley Jacobsen family and Doug and Randy Jones (sons of Arnold and Edna Jones, motored to Czar where they attended the wedding of Debbie Jones to Jerry Hoff on Saturday, June 2nd. Debbie is the daughter of Russel and Jean Jones (former Lakeshore residents) and a neice of Marjorie Jacobsen and Earl Jones and cousin of the other Jones families. The Country Cousin's Orchestra played for the dance following the reception.

Flu has been making its round in the district again. It seems to strike quite suddenly with upset stomach and the patient breaking out in a cold sweat and almost passing out. The dizziness lasts for a short time but leaves the patient quite weak for some time.

Weather conditions are continuing quite dry with high winds causing blowing of soil. A good rain is needed with warmer weather to get the gardens and crops growing.

Visit of Eskimos is thrill for Grade 3's

(Written by Grade 3A)

On Friday, May 18th, the Grade 3's had special visitors from Cambridge Bay. There were 23 Eskimos as well as 30 children from Edmonton. Before they came here they had gone to Jacobsen's farm.

As soon as they got off the bus they rushed to the playground. After they finished playing they had a wiener roast. It was windy but we didn't mind. All of us had fun roasting wieners and marshmallows. We want to give thanks to the people who helped a great deal. Mr. Peterson brought a truck load of wood and Mr. Goeglein gave us five gallons of ice cream. The Eastern Star ladies helped to serve.

After the wiener roast the Grade 3's took the Eskimos into the Drama room to sing with them and to play their games, while the Junior High boys took the Edmonton children out to see a beaver dam. We all had partners to talk to. They used things made out of leather and bones to play with. There was the ear pull and the head pull. They had a game in which you had to get a stick inside a bone with holes in it. The Eskimos were very strong.

After we played the games Grades 4 & 5 came in. We had a sing song and sang a whole bunch of songs. The Eskimos sang in Eskimo language. In this sing song we all sang "This Land Is Our Land." After the sing song the Eskimos had to go. When we waved good-bye we almost started to cry. Now we miss them.

We thank everybody who helped make this come true.

IN MEMORIAM

WARNER—In loving memory of our daughter and sister, Iala, who passed away June 11th, 1972:

This month comes with deep regret
It brings back the day we cannot forget.
When one we loved was called away,
God took her home; it was His will,
Within our hearts, she liveth still.
You left so quietly without goodbye
But memories of you will never die
Ever remembered and sadly missed, Dad, Mom, Rod, Duane, Norma and Laurie.
41p-7446

JAMES In loving memory of Pat a dear husband and father, and grandfather, who was called to rest June 7th, 1969:
Softly the leaves of memory fall,
Gently we gather and treasure them all.
Unseen, unheard he is always near,
Still loved, still missed and very dear.
But God will mend the broken chain,
When one by one we will meet again.
Always remembered and sadly missed by his wife, Nancy Jean and Sharon, Jim, Delores and Grandchildren.

CARDS OF THANKS

I would like to send a sincere thanks and appreciation to all who came to put in my crop and those who helped in other ways while I was in the hospital. Thanks for your visits and cards.

GENERATION GAP

Tofield, June 3

Dear Editor:

We hear and read much about the Generation Gap and much of the discussion implies that it is an unavoidable, undesirable evil experience to all of us. But, may I take a different view, as a reminder back when we moved onto a bushfarm of nearly solid brush with but three small horses, an ax, a walking plow and faith.

In the beginning, the single plow was the best in the stumps and roots, but in a few years I felt that we had enough clear land to use a two bottomed plow and four horses and of course, not forgetting that the gang had a seat on it and that one could ride instead of walking 30 miles in loose ground to plow 10 acres, and then the Generation Gap showed up. And the answer that I got was "too many stumps and roots". But one of the neighbors asked if he could borrow our single plow as he a new field which still had too many stumps and roots for his gang plow. Consent to trade for a time was granted and we made time and graduated to the gang plow. Of course, in a year or two I began to aggitate to use six horses on it pull a harrow of packer and was definitely informed that "I am just a good driver as you are, and no one can handle more than four horses". But I was very happy when, after a farm sale, I saw a six-horse tandem evener in the back of father's wagon. Then, when the six horses were attached, I had expected to have help in getting the extra horses to the field as none of the horses were used to tandem work, and if the lead team should drop back, the rear horses would get tangled in the evener. But an argument arose on the arrangements of the lines and I was told "go to the field yourself if you are so smart". Father never knew that I had dragged the plow all the way to the field to keep the traces of the front horses from becoming slack. In two hours, I was "inspected" eyeing the straightness, depth of furrow etc., but when I got to end of the furrow I got the heart warming compliment "not bad, not bad" which I knew was an admission of "very good". Of course, I had laid the furrow out carefully with the four horses the night before. Then it was a 3 bottom plow and eight horses and more G.U. and in another year father was helping to get ten horses ready to be put day. And of course if he had lived it would have been "Glenen vs Tractor".

And I'll wager that there has been many an argument on types of machines and methods of procedure in all developments; there is a couple in the Fraser River over differing ideas.

And the younger generation should recognize that the older people are in position or responsibility for failure or otherwise and have not always achieved success and therefore are more careful. The older people remember some of the things that they advocated when younger, and both should recognize that conditions are different, which neither had part in creating, that "Man is a form of life with a built-in urge and demand for change and progress" and that the Generation Gap is but a step in progress . . . and will so continue indefinitely as long as mankind is seeking the "Sunship of an Infinite God".

TO RESIDENTS OF TOFIELD AND DISTRICT

Tofield, June 2

The many organizations responsible for planning and conducting the 1973 annual Sports Day in Tofield would like to submit your help in making successful the parade which is the opening event of that day.

A good parade gives each business, institution, or organization a chance to demonstrate its contribution to the community of Tofield. Businessmen have an excellent chance to advertise before a large audience

Individual entries as well come and add much to the variety and interest of the parade.

Tofield is a community of which all its residents may be proud. The parade which demonstrates this pride and which sets the tone for the Canada Day celebration will be only as good as you and your group help make it. A list of the parade categories is enclosed. May we count on an entry from your group, organization, institution, or business in one of the categories?
